Roosevelt Sets War Budget at Half U.S. Income

CALL MIDWEST UNIVERSITIES TO BIG WAR TASKS

Will Train Officers and Specialists.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

The federal government yesterday began assigning major war rôles to leading colleges and universities of the nation. The first two assignments—to the University of Illinois and Notre Dame—made it clear that the country's colleges are to be important factors in the vast war training program.

In addition to course shortening, graduation speedups, and year round instruction which will begin with the new year in many schools in the east and central west, the war and navy departments are asking several of the larger colleges to train thousands of air pilots and naval and army officers.

Expansion Programs Necessary.

The colleges will be asked to house, feed, instruct, and be prepared, if necessary, to hospitalize large numbers of military students. For some of the schools it will mean substantial expansion programs, both physical and academic. At others it will affect drastically the scholastic program during the hostilities, educators said.

The University of Illinois has been asked by the navy department whether it can provide for the ground school training of naval aviation cadets in groups up to 2,500 for three months' periods each.

The instruction to be provided by the university would be chiefly engineering, according to Dr. Arthur C. Willard, president, who announced the navy's request in Chicago yesterday at the meeting of Illinois' board of trustees.

Want Year Round Training.

He said the government has requested that the university's engineering school be put on a year round basis. Because of the size and complexity of the curriculum this may entail putting the entire school on a year round basis, Dr. Willard said. In addition to the ground school cadets, the navy also hopes Illinois can accommodate several hundred enlisted reservists.

The plans for Notre Dame envision training of enlisted naval reservists in a series of year round short courses in engineering, mechanics, and kindred fields, according to announcement by the school at South Bend, Ind., and by the navy department in Washington. University authorities said the program would entail expansion and that scholastic speedup plans are being held in abeyance until all details of the naval program are known.

Will Provide Facilities.

The navy expects to have a number of similar training centers at leading universities, it was said in Washington. It was understood that where necessary, dormitories and other facilities would be provided.

Meanwhile, the government is preparing to tell American colleges and universities what will be required of them in speedups under the war program. Spokesmen will address the Association of American Colleges at its meeting, beginning Jan. 2, in Baltimore. Some of the university heads will go to Washington afterward for further discussion and instruction.

Courses bearing directly upon war needs will be added to curricula, others that assume new significance in wartime will be emphasized, and some that are essentially peacetime "luxuries" may be dropped, it was understood.

Summary of Steps Taken.

Gearing of courses to the war effort already has begun in several central western schools and others have plans drafted and ready to put into effect with the coming of the new semester. A few are awaiting the Baltimore meeting for specific instruction and advice. Following is a summary of steps taken and contemplated, based on a survey conducted yesterday;

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS—Junior and senior divisions of the medical school will go on a year round basis July 1. Schools of dentistry and pharmacy will follow Sept. 1. Medical degrees now are being awarded without the requirement of a year's

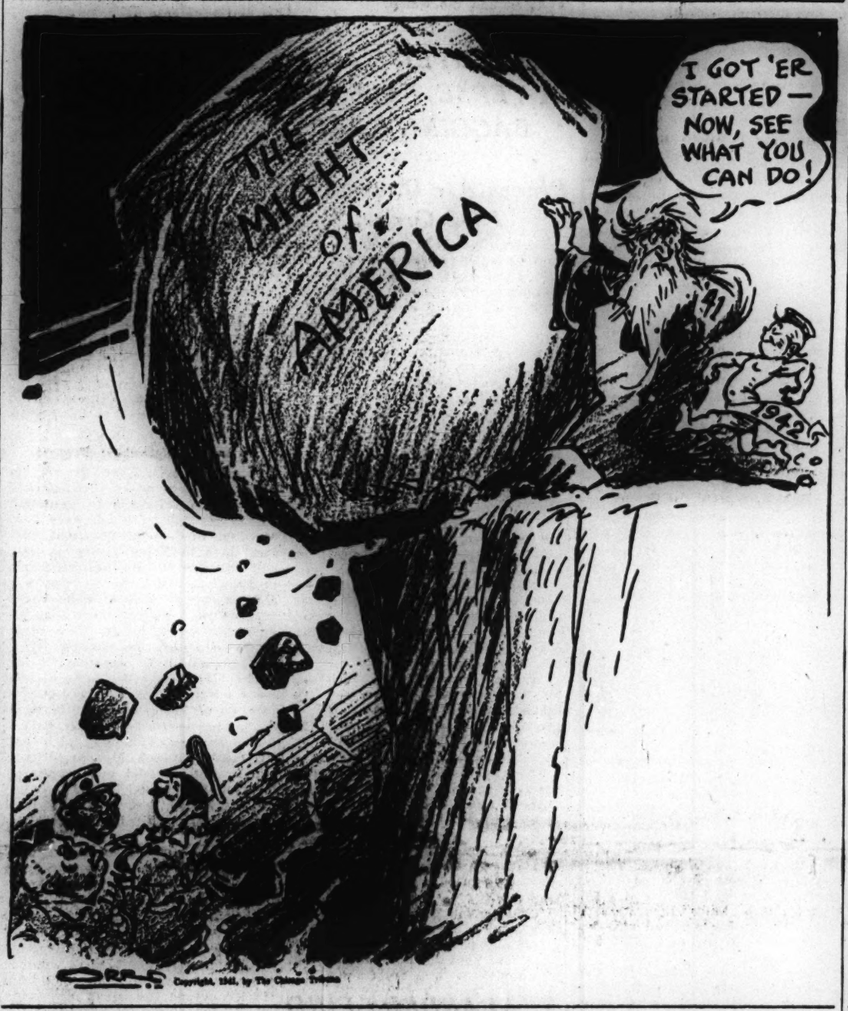
UNFINISHED BUSINESS



Traffic Speeds 8 Miles North —in An Hour

BY ORVILLE DWYER.

It took a Tribune survey car seven minutes last evening, from 5:30 to 5:37 p. m., to move from Randolph street to the Wrigley building—a matter of five short blocks—in the north bound, rush hour traffic of Michigan avenue.

It took the motorist another three minutes to drive the three blocks between the river and Ohio street—and it was not until 5:47 that he crawled across Chicago avenue—17 minutes to travel less than a mile.

At Chicago avenue the general traffic snarl really became binding. It took 11 minutes for the car to cover the four blocks between the big water tower and the Drake hotel at Walton street, thus completing a trip from Randolph street, a distance of about a mile and a half in 28 minutes.

Traffic Streams Cross.

At Oak street the Tribune auto ran into the bottleneck which appears to be the chief cause for the slow traffic from the loop to that point.

Here the southbound traffic proceeding toward the downtown district in two lanes, must pass directly across the path of the thousands of cars moving northward on Michigan avenue lanes for local travel. Here also the traffic from Michigan avenue and the stream from the outer drive, all northbound, meet and must be absorbed into the six northbound express lanes.

The result during the two busiest hours of the evening rush period is a jam of cars compared to which the well known Gordian knot is nothing.

Buses Lose 45 Minutes.

Some policemen on traffic duty noted that it was a wet and bad night for driving. Yet they only partly blamed the weather. They said buses lost 45 minutes in the stretch from Randolph street to Oak street in the last few nights. This, they said, had been shown by a survey during the rush hour period.

But to go on north:

Leaving Oak street at 5:58, the survey car crossed North avenue and entered Lincoln park at 6:03. Traffic on Lake Shore drive at first moved at 15 miles an hour.

The Tribune car reached Diversey —2800 north—at 6:10; it crossed Belmont avenue—3200 north—at 6:12; it made the next mile to Irving Park road by 6:14, reached Montrose at 6:16, and Wilson at 6:17. The time on an advertisment at Foster avenue and Sheridan road read 6:22 when that corner was approached.

Eight Miles in Hour.

All in all, it took just about one hour to drive from Randolph street to Granville avenue—6200 north, or eight miles. There the traffic became normal again. The ride back to the Tribune Tower, taken in leisurely fashion, required 24 minutes.

Otto Jelinek, traffic engineer for the Chicago park district, whose traffic rules and system control the situation, said the trouble lies with the motorists. He predicted the traffic trouble will right itself when drivers get away from the bad driving habits.

Horns and Conch Shells Aid in Puerto Rico's Air Alarm

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Dec. 30 (AP).—Bull horns and conch shells, normally used to warn of rising rivers, bleated Puerto Rico's first test air raid alarm to the remotest hills today. Radio, telephone, sirens, whistles, bells, and even horsemen, dashing like Paul Reveres from hamlet to hamlet, spread the alarm. Officials said it was successful.

U. S. DROPS INQUIRY INTO SLUR ON NAVY IN BRITISH PAPER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30.—The state department tonight expressed suspicion of the authenticity of a criticism of the American navy attributed by the London press to an official of the American embassy in London. In view of the suspicion, a spokesman said, no investigation will be made of the report.

The criticism appeared in the Sunday People, a London Sabbath newspaper. Hannen Swaffer, commentator for the journal, quoted an official of the American embassy, whom he did not name, as saying:

"We are thinking of dressing our blue jackets in kilts, so that the next time they cannot be caught with their trousers down."

The fact that the official was not named, and therefore could not be identified, would make it appear, the state department spokesman said, that the insult was voiced by a Britisher, possibly the commentator himself, and attributed to an American so as to preclude indignation here over British criticism of the American navy.

Army at Last Ready to Honor Gen. Mitchell

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 [Special].—After 15 years, the war department is ready to call off its feud with the late Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, former assistant chief of the army air corps, who was driven out of the army after a court martial in 1926 because he criticized the handling of military and naval aviation by his superiors.

The revelation that the war department is ready to call it quits in its long and bitter fight against the memory of the outspoken flying general came today from Sen. Alexander Wiley [R., Wis.], who informed the senate that Secretary Stimson has written that the department will not object to legislation restoring Mitchell's name and rank to official rolls.

Immediate Action Balked.

Sen. Wiley made this announcement in pressing for unanimous consent for immediate passage of a measure directing that Mitchell's name and rank as brigadier general be restored. Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley, [D., Ky.] insisted, however, that the legislation be handled in a routine manner by the senate military committee.

In the years since Gen. Mitchell resigned from the army, numerous congressional attempts have been made to clear his name and honor his memory, but the war department has resisted them all. Gen. Mitchell died in February, 1936.

Theories Called Proven.

Wiley said in support of the resolution that Mitchell was forced out of the army because he had "blasted the army and navy mossbacks with scorching broadsides for 'their criminal negligence and bungling incompetency.'"

The present World war has proved the truth of most of Mitchell's theories of the use of air power. Troop movements by airplane and parachute troops were advocated by Mitchell in 1918, and in 1920 the general demonstrated in a trial off the Virginia capes that air power could destroy a battleship.

ENVISIONS ARMS OUTLAY OF 50 BILLIONS A YEAR

Hints Aid to Allies Will Be a Gift.

BY WALTER TROHAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30.—A war program, which would devote 50 per cent of an estimated national income of 100 billion dollars to defense activities by July 1, 1943, was outlined today by President Roosevelt. He indicated that American war supplies may go to the nation's allies as a gift toward victory, rather than on a lend-lease basis.

Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference that he had discarded such terms as "all out program" and "victory program" in favor of the less dramatic but more comprehensive term "war program."

Under the war program the administration hopes to step up the nation's production capacity to such a vast peak that American plants will be able to reach the arms program goal set before Pearl Harbor, the arms program added after Pearl Harbor, and the arms program added in last week's conferences with Prime Minister Winston Churchill and his entourage of British experts.

Contribution to Common Cause.

Mr. Roosevelt unfolded his increased production plans in an algebraic XYZ formula at the same press conference which disclosed his plans to step up the present expenditure of 27 per cent of the national income on arms to 50 per cent, which is the proportion of income being spent on the war effort in Britain.

Mr. Roosevelt said he based his 50 per cent goal for war expenditures on a national income estimate of 100 billion dollars. Other income estimates have ranged as high as 110 billion dollars, which would bring the goal of arms expenditure to 55 billion dollars.

The President said that up to the day Japan launched its treacherous attack on Hawaii, the nation's arm program, which he described as program "X," looked awfully big to him and the people who brought it to the White House, fearful that he would knock it down.

Tells Growth of Plans.

However, when he examined it on the night of Dec. 7, it looked awfully small and he sent it back to production and fiscal experts for expansion. To plan "X" was added plan "Y." The conferences of the past week made the combined "XY" plans look small, so he called for the addition of plan "Z" to make an "XYZ" program.

The President refused to be drawn out on details of the program. He said it calls for increasing production of some items tenfold, and others by 50 per cent. Still others will remain at present production levels, he said.

He insisted that the "XYZ" plan could not be described roughly as a "3X" plan, or one calling for approximately three times the production goal set before Pearl Harbor.

Military Resources Pooled.

Asked about reports from Ontario, Canada, that Great Britain and the United States will pool their arms production and make lend-lease obsolete, Mr. Roosevelt said that question

A QUICK VIEW OF DAY'S WAR NEWS FROM ALL FRONTS

The Japanese today were reported driving in great force on Manila from the north and south with great quantities of tanks and armored units and with their dive bombers in almost complete command of the roads from the air.

Gen. MacArthur disclosed that the American lines were being pushed back. The lines to the southeast of Manila were only a half hour's automobile drive from the capital.

Unceasing Air Attacks.

There was no indication of how close the Japanese were north of Manila, where Gen. MacArthur had prepared a defense line 65 miles from the capital.

The Japanese reported unceasing aerial attacks on Philippine shipping and air bases, claiming nine American planes shot down and 27 destroyed on the ground, including eight flying boats.

Washington, D. C., announced the suspected presence of Japanese craft in Alaskan waters, close to Kodiak Island, where a naval air station is under construction.

Reds Take Crimean Ports.

Russia announced major gains yesterday on the Crimean and Moscow fronts. Red army troops of the Caucasus and men and warships of the Black sea fleet stormed and recaptured the Crimean ports of Kerch and Theodosia, the new successes imperiling the entire German army on the southern peninsula.

Kerch is on the eastern tip of the peninsula, about two miles across the strait from the Caucasus and its oil fields. Theodosia is 55 miles to the west.

On the central front the Reds were reported to have broken thru four strongly fortified German positions beyond the Oka river, in one sector pushing ahead 30 miles.

Martial Law in Singapore.

The British declared martial law thruout the Singapore settlement following Monday night's four Japanese air raids on that far eastern naval base. A spokesman said military courts would deal with any cases of fifth column activity.

Pressure of the Japanese Malayan drive still was chiefly directed at the front below Ipoh, tin mining center 290 miles north of Singapore. It was stated strong attacks cost the Japanese heavy casualties for gains which were minor.

Smash 42 Axis Tanks.

In Africa the axis army of Libya, making a last stand along the Gulf of Sirte south of Agedabia, was declared by the British to have lost 42 more of its surviving tanks in an unsuccessful effort to break out of a trap. The Germans and Italians, however, claimed 74 British tanks and armored vehicles had been smashed in two days.

Indications that the Germans and Italians were trying to bring up reserves were seen in heavy RAF raids on transport on the coastal road eastward from Tripoli.

What Wild (Air) Waves Say Around the World

New York, Dec. 30 (AP).—Around the world and back again, or how news and or propaganda dispatches fly the airwaves: Tokio radio tonight carried a Domei agency dispatch from Lisbon quoting a dispatch from New York based on a British broadcast heard by American short-wave listeners as saying: The Eiffel tower will [or may] be scrapped for its metal. P. S. —The Eiffel tower story first was heard on the Berlin radio—quoting a Vichy dispatch.

DIVE BOMBERS AND TANKS PUSH BACK U. S. LINES

Surrender Demand Made by Tokio.

BULLETIN.

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 30 (AP).—An English-speaking commentator on the Tokio radio was heard tonight recommending that Manila's defenders surrender to the Japanese. The Columbia Broadcasting system's short wave listening post, which recorded the broadcast, said the surrender proposal climaxed a propaganda commentary broadcast for the last two or three nights.

MANILA, Dec. 31 [Wednesday] (AP).—The Japanese invaders are driving in great force on Manila from both north and south, with their dive bombers in almost complete command of the roads from the air, and with great quantities of tanks and armored units.

This was announced in an ominously terse communique by Gen. Douglas MacArthur at 11 a. m. [8 p. m. Tuesday, Chicago time.] It said:

"The enemy is driving in great force from both north and south.

"His dive bombers practically control the roads from the air.

"The Japanese are using great quantities of tanks and armored units.

"Our lines are being pushed back."

[Japanese military spokesmen, who had stated their goal was to capture Manila by Jan. 1, only Tuesday had revised that prediction to Jan. 10.]

Half an Hour from Manila.

This ominous announcement followed disclosure that the southern defensive front was only a half hour's automobile drive from Manila.

An Associated Press war correspondent left here by automobile at 7:30 a. m., visited the front line vicinity and was back in Manila at 8:30 a. m.—only an hour for the round trip.

This marked a considerable advance for the Japanese invaders, who last night were reported to be within 45 miles of Manila and apparently bent on skirting both sides of the Great Laguna de Bay on the first class roads leading around that lake to the capital.

Advance in 2 Columns.

This thrust was in two columns, one reaching the town of Dolores, some 35 miles beyond the Atimonan beachhead, and the other driving to Luisiana, about 15 miles west from the original Mauban landing.

The immediate objective appeared to be a junction at San Pablo, just above Dolores and southwest of Luisiana, a point commanding highways running along both sides of the lake.

On the northern front, it was stated unofficially that Gen. MacArthur's new and shortened line defending the central Luzon plain running down to Manila extended east and west thru the town of Zaragoza, 65 miles above the capital.

Japs Bring In Veterans.

Gen. MacArthur's afternoon communique yesterday indicated that there was only local action on the two fronts.

The possibility that some of the veteran Japanese troops used in the siege of Hongkong were now joining the Philippine invading forces was seen in some quarters. Previous reports from all fronts had agreed that the invaders were young and ill-trained.

There had been no air attack yesterday and Manilans waited anxiously to find out whether the enemy had decided to recognize Manila as an open city or just were preoccupied with air assaults elsewhere.

There were rumors that Japanese warships had sought to slip upon the fortress of Corregidor at the entrance to Manila Bay, but United States headquarters had no confirmation and pointed out that such an attempt would give Corregidor's big guns some excellent targets.

27 Killed at Corregidor.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—The army announced today that 27 men were killed and 80 wounded in the Japanese bombing of the Philippine fortress Corregidor at the entrance to Manila Bay.

The war department's late day communique said:

"Philippine theater: Heavy enemy pressure is developing in the northeastern sector of the front.

"Combat operations on the southern front are continuing.

"Enemy air attacks are being conducted over a wide area.

"Casualties among our troops as a result of yesterday's bombing of Corregidor are approximately 27 killed and 80 wounded.

"There is nothing to report from other areas."

U. S. Submarines Active.

The navy said American submarines were pressing ahead with their operations in far eastern waters. Since Christmas day, communiques have indicated American activity in waters near the Japanese islands. In them the navy has announced the sinking of two Japanese transports, one mine sweeper and a supply vessel, and the probable sinking of another transport and a seaplane tender.

The navy labeled as "without foundation" reports that a United States destroyer and two American submarines were sunk over the weekend.

Midway Island was still in American hands and had suffered no further attacks, it added.

"Retaliate!" Cries MacArthur.

Washington received enthusiastically a suggestion from Gen. Douglas MacArthur today that when the proper time comes Japanese cities be devastated from the air in retaliation for the ruthlessly cruel bombing of Manila.

The commandant in the Philippines reported to the war department that the Japs struck at the island capital with 63 bombers despite the fact that it had been made an open city, and that churches, schools, hospitals, and convents were indiscriminately damaged.

Japan's "present actions can only be deemed completely violative of all the civilized processes of international law," he said, adding: "At the proper time I bespeak due retaliatory measures."

To MacArthur's report the department itself added that a survey indicated the churches "and other centers of Christian worship and culture were deliberately selected as special targets for enemy attacks."

May Be a Year Away.

But it seemed likely that the "proper time" mentioned by MacArthur for retaliation might be many months away. It probably could be undertaken only as the climactic blow of the general allied offensive which has been scheduled for 1943. The intervening period is to be one of mustering the allied resources.

The capital studied the possibilities of a naval attack on Manila as an aftermath of yesterday's three hour air raid on Corregidor, the strong island fortress.

The war department condemned the bombing of Manila as "senseless and savage," and, discussing the destruction of churches, schools, and other such establishments, asserted:

"These edifices were of a distinctive type of architecture and their character could not have been mistaken. Before the brutal assaults were begun, Japanese bombing planes flew low over the city, obviously selecting the buildings which were subsequently bombed.

"In many of the churches attacked devout residents of Manila had gathered for sanctuary and solace within the hallowed cloisters.

"Among the buildings destroyed were churches and shrines where many generations had worshiped for centuries. The beautiful old church of Santo Domingo, with its priceless art treasures and venerated relics, is now a heap of smoking ruins, before which relays of black robed priests are continually praying for their people.

Convents Repeatedly Attacked.

"The great cathedral of the Immaculate Conception was a special target for Japanese bombs. It was sought out and attacked on three successive days. The College of San Juan Lateran, with its irreplaceable library of original manuscripts was likewise attacked. Repeated assaults on successive days were made on Santa Rosa convent and Santa Catalina convent.

"The San Juan Dedios hospital was also the object of vicious attacks and three colleges supported by religious institutions were either destroyed or damaged in the air raids."

Advices from Manila and communiques made no mention of any attempt by American warplanes to challenge the enemy bombers—tacit evidence of Japanese aerial superiority. Similarly, there have been no reports of naval resistance to Japanese surface operations, except for the activities of United States submarines.

Japs Claim Bag of 36 Planes.

Tokio, Dec. 30 [Official broadcast recorded by the Associated Press].—The following official report was issued today by imperial headquarters:

"During the last few days the naval air force unceasingly attacked enemy air bases in the Philippines. The following details are given concerning these operations:

"Nine airplanes, including four flying boats were shot down and 27 airplanes, including four flying boats, were destroyed on the ground.

"Japanese naval airplanes attacked numerous air bases and destroyed hangars and other military establishments.

'One Destroyer Sunk.'

"In the course of the attacks on Luzon, Japanese planes daily bombed enemy ships in the Bay of Manila in order to prevent the enemy escaping by air or over the sea. The following results were achieved:

"1. On Dec. 25 and 26, one enemy destroyer and two submarines were sunk and 56 merchant vessels severely damaged.

"2. On Dec. 27, 14 merchant ships were severely damaged and the total loss of 7 of them must be reckoned with.

"3. On Dec. 28, six merchant ships were severely damaged.

"During the same period, namely between Dec. 22 and 28 the Japanese naval air force lost one single airplane, while another is missing."

Spain Has 'Japan's Word' No Churches Were Bombed

MADRID, Dec. 30 (AP).—The Spanish foreign ministry, in a communique which it said was issued "to calm Spaniards with relatives and interests in the Philippines," declared today it had the word of Japan that Japanese planes were bombing "exclusively and very rigorously military objectives." It said "only one chance person among the Spanish colony," a nun, was wounded by the bombings.

HELP FOR DUTCH ON WAY; LEADER DEMANDS PLANES

Japs Keep Up Raids on Indies.

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Dec. 30 (AP).—Allied reënforcements were reported by Dutch newspapers tonight to be en route to the Pacific war theater even as Lieut. Gen. Hein Ter Poorten, the Indies commander in chief, urgently called for more bombers, fighter planes and anti-aircraft guns to ward off expected Japanese invasion thrusts at Dutch soil.

[Press reports from Sydney, Australia, said Prime Minister Churchill had advised Australian Prime Minister John Curtin that Britain and her allies had decided upon a definite plan of action in the Pacific which would enormously improve allied striking power against Japan. As a result, an Australian spokesman said the Pacific position "has improved immeasurably."]

Prompt Support Needed.

The Indies newspapers asked the public to be patient. They said help was on the way, but stressed that "enormous difficulties" remained before a general allied offensive could be started.

The general told the official news agency, ANETA, that prompt material support was needed to hold these strategic colonies "which will be defended to the last man."

He said Japanese fleets roaming the South Pacific were "easy targets for bombers operating from the Netherlands Indies bases"—a fact already proved by the hard hitting Dutch airmen and submarine crews.

No Japs Have Landed.

"Such material support," the general said, "if given with the least possible delay, could even hold off a large scale Japanese landing attempt."

It was stated officially that no Japanese troops thus far have landed on Dutch territory.

The death toll in Medan from a Japanese raid there Sunday rose to 36, with 66 injured, and today's communique said one Dutch plane was destroyed by the Japanese the same day at Tarakan, an airdrome in Dutch East Borneo.

WORK STOPPAGE IN FORD PLANT ENDED BY ARMY

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 30 [Special].—Intervention by army officers today was credited with putting an end to a series of work stoppages by 1,000 Ford Motor company workmen engaged in producing templates and dies for the Willowrun bomber plant.

The army officers informed the workers that those employed directly or indirectly on defense production are subject to army rules and must not stop work that endangers national defense, it was said. The trouble arose over elimination of rest periods and tightening up on rules forbidding smoking, moves made by the company at army suggestion.

Maj. George E. Strong, in charge of plant protection at the Ford plant for the army, said the work stoppage was not serious and that the men had agreed to forego their former privileges after the situation was explained to them. A union spokesman said "matters at issue were settled agreeably." Time was lost both yesterday and today.

QUEZON SWORN; PLEDGES VICTORY FOR PHILIPPINES

BY VICENTE ALBANO PACIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MANILA, P. I., Dec. 30.—Pledging himself, the government, and the people of the Philippine Islands to stand by America until final, complete victory is won, Manuel L. Quezon was inaugurated for his second term as president of the Philippines in an underground shelter today, together with Sergio Osmena, vice president. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, commanding the United States and Filipino forces, and United States Commissioner Francis B. Sayre also spoke.

MacArthur concluded his brief speech with the plea: "Thru gasping agony, thru what Winston Churchill calls blood and sweat and tears, from the grim shadow of the valley of death, O, merciful God, preserve this noble race."

Sayre declared the American and Filipino peoples are being linked by the present struggle "in a comradeship which can never die."

U. S. NAVY BURIES HALF A SUB AT HONOLULU; JAP'S BODY STUCK IN IT

HONOLULU, Hawaii, Dec. 30 (AP).—The United States navy buried half of a submarine at Pearl Harbor at dusk yesterday to carry out final rites for an enemy whose body could not be removed.

The craft was one of the two man vessels used by the Japanese in their surprise attack of Dec. 7. The body had been wedged amid the battered engines when the conning tower was ripped by a shell and the craft cut almost in two by a destroyer. The wreckage was dropped into a 40 foot trench.

The submarine was one of three of this type sunk or beached in this area during the attack.

SMASHES AUTO INTO ANOTHER; IT'S POLICE CAR

For the last three months the food stores of Herman Wadler have been picketed by the Milk Wagon Drivers' union. The union has also picketed a building which his father-in-law is constructing at 9624 South Western avenue. The Chicago Building Trades council has ordered all union work on the building stopped.

Yesterday Wadler seized a shovel and smashed the windows and hood of one of the picket's cars in front of the building at the Western avenue address. As he drove away in his car another automobile began pursuit. He stepped on the gas; so did the driver of the other car.

Wadler said later he believed he was being pursued by goons. When the other car pulled up alongside of his he turned into the pursuing car, smashed a fender and drove it into the curb. He expressed surprise when Detectives John Collins and John Sheridan of the Gresham station stepped out of the machine. Wadler was charged with malicious mischief and will be arraigned in Felony court today.

LAY JAP ATTACK ON PHILIPPINES TO CHROMITE BEDS

Boston, Mass., Dec. 30 (AP).—Rich deposits of chromite in embattled Luzon and other sections of the Philippines may have been one of the factors that induced the Japanese to launch their desperate attack on the islands, several eminent American geologists indicated today.

W. D. Johnson of the United States geological survey and Dr. Kirtley F. Mather, Harvard geologist, said Japan apparently is in dire need of metallurgical chromite to alloy with iron in the manufacture of high grade steel to build battleships, bombers, tanks, and other materials of warfare.

Johnson said that altho large amounts of chromite had been imported from the Philippines, the principal reserves of the United States are in Montana. Some also is obtained from Cuba. The Philippine deposits, Frasche informed the Geological Society of America, vary greatly in size, ranging from a few hundred to 10,000,000 metric tons.

All New Zealand Military Forces Ordered Mobilized

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Dec. 30.—Complete mobilization of all New Zealand military forces by Jan. 10 has been announced by Premier Peter Fraser. Fraser said the order covered expeditionary as well as home defense units. There were indications that a decree soon may make service in civilian defense organizations compulsory.

329,927 Chinese Killed in Ten Months, Tokio Claims

TOKIO, Dec. 30 [Official Broadcast Recorded by Associated Press].—Chinese forces lost 329,927 killed and 94,826 men taken prisoner in fighting from January to October, inclusive, Col. Hideo Ohira, chief of the army press section of imperial headquarters, announced today.

BRITISH DECLARE MARTIAL LAW IN SINGAPORE AREA

Military Courts to Deal with Fifth Columnists.

SINGAPORE, Dec. 30 (AP).—Martial law was proclaimed thruout the Singapore settlement tonight after four heavy Japanese air assaults last night were beaten off with only 11 casualties and negligible damage to this big British base.

A spokesman said military courts would deal with any case of fifth column activity, looting, or movement in proscribed districts now that Japan has begun large scale raids. A curfew may be set by the army, the movement of all persons restricted, and highways closed.

Afield, the invader still was centering his pressure on the Perak state front below Ipoh, which is 200 miles north of Singapore, but his strong attacks cost him heavy casualties for gains which at best were minor.

Kuantan Positions Bombed.

The British positions at Kuantan, on the eastern side of the Malayan peninsula where the invader apparently had made no progress, were bombed. There was neither damage nor a single casualty.

In the whole of the remainder of the Malayan peninsula, the British communique reported, there had been "no change in the situation."

British aircraft were busy, but the details of action were not disclosed.

Singapore's defense against the aerial invader was such that from six flights of Japanese bombers which rooftop observers counted, only two sticks of bombs were let loose, one on Singapore Island and the other across the channel on the Johore mainland to the north.

Held in Searchlight Beams.

Japanese bombers sailed over in formations of four to nine craft each, were caught and held unfailingly in Singapore's searchlight beams, and then were prodded across the sky by hot, unbroken anti-aircraft fire.

The British command thus described the defense:

"Enemy aircraft made four raids on Singapore last night. Some damage was done to thatched buildings which set a small gasoline depot on fire."

An instance of high native morale was singled out by headquarters which reported that a large labor force present at a railway station put under attack by Japanese planes "behaved with great calmness."

Attack Railway Station.

BERLIN, Dec. 30 [Official broadcast recorded by Associated Press].—Dispatches from Tokio today reported that the Japanese air force had attacked the railway station at Kuala Lumpur, 225 miles northwest of Singapore, in Malaya and also had bombed 100 railroad cars filled with British troops.

These dispatches claimed the British air force in Malaya was so hard hit, both in loss of planes and bases, that provisional bases now are being established on the north coast of the Dutch island of Sumatra.

MANILANS READ NIGHT CLUB AND AIR SHELTER ADS

MANILA, Dec. 30 (AP).—This ad appeared today on page one of the Manila Bulletin:

"The Alcazar night club opens New Year's eve with Jan Ville's 12 beautiful girls, other surprises and numbers."

And this:

"We construct reënforced concrete air raid shelters for 500 pesos up; we also sell sandbags. I. A. Marquez & Co."

After viewing the ruins of venerated Santo Domingo church and dodging bombs in Saturday's raid Columnist R. R. Roses got home just in time to hear the Tokio radio say it wasn't so. In his column, "Thorns and Roses," he wrote a piece entitled "Pink Elephants," telling graphically what he saw and how he felt about Japanese in general.

Gibraltar Rites to Hail End of '41, Honor Forces' Unity

GIBRALTAR, Dec. 30.—Gibraltar's customary ceremony of keys, depicting the ancient formal closing of the frontier gates, will be performed tomorrow by navy, army, and air force personnel to mark the end of 1941 and symbolize the coöperation of the three fighting forces. This will be the first time in the history of the fortress that the ceremony will be carried out by the combined services.

DESTROYER'S LOG A TERSE TALE OF BAGGING 6 JAPS

Planes Are Downed in 1-2-3 Order.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—The navy reported today that a single United States destroyer shot down six Japanese warplanes in the surprise assault upon Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7.

An extract from the log of the unnamed destroyer, released by the navy, read:

"Observed torpedo plane come in from direction of Merry Point between navy yard and Kuahua island, 30 or 40 feet altitude, headed for a battleship. About 200 or 300 yards from battleship dropped its torpedo and hit the battleship amidships.

"Sounded general quarters and commenced firing.

Crashes in Channel.

"Hit fourth plane coming in, which was seen to crash in channel off officers' club landing.

"Machine gun fire on eighth plane made it swerve to left causing torpedo to drop and explode in bank about 30 feet ahead of this ship. No. 1 machine gun downed plane in navy yard channel.

"Third torpedo plane which was hit was observed headed for two cruisers astern. Plane went out of control, dropped its torpedo. This was about the 11th plane to come in.

Lumber Pile Torpedoed.

"Next plane hit came over dock but was downed with a short burst. Torpedo dropped in lumber pile and plane believed to have crashed on dock.

"Fifth brought down came down on starboard side, nosed directly into air and spun into crash, loosing its torpedo.

"Sixth plane brought down was a dive bomber during second phase of attack and after torpedo attack. This plane was shot down by anti-aircraft gun and those from other ships."

ZEALANDERS FIND WATER IS BEST TO FIGHT FIRE BOMBS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WELLINGTON, Dec. 30.—New Zealanders, convinced that the Russian practice of tossing incendiary bombs into buckets of water is an effective way of snuffing them out, have been testing other methods of combatting the fire explosives.

It has been learned that if persons are unwilling to handle a bomb it can be put out by throwing two to four buckets of water on the explosive. If that much water is turned on it in a jet the bomb is rendered useless in a few seconds.

New Zealanders have learned that water not only snuffs out the bomb blaze but extinguishes the spreading fire, which sand is powerless to do.

MALAYAN PAPER JOINS OUTCRY FOR A WAR COUNCIL

Calls for Better Defense and a Shakeup.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The visit of Prime Minister Winston Churchill to the United States and Canada has failed to weaken the demand raised by Australia for an imperial war cabinet, and for other changes in the government itself.

Following press agitation here in support of the demands of John Curtin, Australian prime minister, that more weight should be given the Pacific war problem by the British government, newspapers today gave prominence to the "Malaya outcry" for better defense.

The "Malaya outcry" was published by the Straits Times in Singapore.

Demands a Shakeup.

Its demand for a complete shakeup of the Malaya civil administration and its centralization under a supreme war council was regarded here as in line with the views of Curtin.

The London Daily Mail supported the Straits Times complaint that Singapore is suffering from divided civil and military control. It expressed the hope that the arrival there of Lieut. Gen. Sir Henry Pownall, recently placed in command of the imperial forces in the far east, "means improvement in military control." It also urged Albert Duff Cooper, British coördinator for the far east, to use his veto power over the Malayan governor to "clean up" the civil side.

"What is the truth about Malaya?" the Mail asked. "How deep does the muddle of confusion go there? What are the real 'straits' of the Straits Settlements?"

Refers to Optimistic Reports.

It also asked, "Have we another Cairo spokesman in Singapore?" This was a reference to optimistic official statements which have been featured in London headlines such as, "Japs Suffering Heavy Losses," and "British Withdrawal According to Plan." In addition, the query was a reference to reports that wherever British soldiers meet the Japanese on equal terms, they prove vastly superior, one Briton [it is said] equalling 40 Japanese.

The Mail also complained of confused statements about the Japanese capture of Ipoh, northern Malayan tin mining center. Altho the British forces were reported engaged in battle south of Ipoh Monday, it was stated that this did not necessarily mean that Ipoh had fallen.

Later, it was "indicated" that Ipoh was evacuated. Still later "authoritative quarters" in London said there was no confirmation of its capture. On the same day, a message from Singapore said that it was never intended to defend Ipoh.

"These bulletins," said the Daily Mail, "belong to the Penang school of official reporting—a reference to conflicting statements as to whether the scorched earth policy had been carried out on the island of Penang off Malaya before its evacuation by the British.

Allied Decision Hinted.

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 30 (AP).—Australian fears of an impending Japanese attack were tempered today by reports of an allied decision to sharpen enormously their striking power in the Pacific.

Sydney newspapers said this assurance had been made to the government directly by Prime Minister Churchill, bringing the declaration from an official spokesman that "insofar as its affects Australia, the Pacific situation has improved immeasurably."

My constant aim is to give the other fellow, either pedestrian or motorist ... a "break." It promotes SAFETY for everyone
Strict adherence to this common-sense viewpoint is demanded of every man who drives a

HINT AT SENDING WAR MATERIALS TO KAMCHATKA

Navy Says Japs May Be Off Alaska.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 [Special].—Hints of possible impending war developments in the North Pacific, with American war materials being sent to Kamchatka, Siberia, came from two sources here today.

Map locates Kodiak and Kamchatka.

First, President Roosevelt in his conference mentioned Kamchatka as a possible destination of American lend-lease goods. He referred to the Siberia peninsula, which is 800 miles west of the tip of the American owned Aleutian Islands and about 1,400 miles north of Tokio, as "the most practical and available piece of land west of the Aleutian Islands."

Report Japs Near Kodiak.

Second the navy announced that Japanese vessels, presumably submarines, are suspected of being in the vicinity of Kodiak, Alaska. Beyond stating that all merchant vessels have been warned, the navy did not amplify its announcement, which is the first official indication of the presence of enemy craft in the vicinity of Alaska.

These twin developments left wide open the question of whether the United States is planning to send material to Kamchatka for transshipment across Siberia to be used against Hitler or whether the government is planning to provide the sinews for an onslaught upon Japan by way of her back door.

President Doesn't Amplify.

The President did not explain to what use materials might be put if sent to Kamchatka, and did not amplify the words "practical" or "available" which he used to describe the peninsula.

The Kamchatka possibility was raised by the President during a discussion of production of war materials in this country when he remarked that no human being can tell where the finished products will be sent—whether to Russia, China, Britain, or the Kamchatka peninsula.

The fact that the President mentioned Russia and Kamchatka as separate entities was regarded as an indication he may have been hinting at the opening of a new war front rather than a new route for aid to Russian armies in Europe.

20 YOUTHS SWORN IN AS FIRST MEMBERS OF CAPT. KELLY AIR UNIT

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 30 (AP).—Twenty young men were sworn in today at Cass Technical High school as the first members of Capt. Colin P. Kelly Jr. aviation cadet unit No. 1.

They were inducted by Maj. Floyd M. Showlater, head of a traveling aviation cadet board. Most of the candidates are from the Detroit area and are former employés of industrial plants. Several said they had left college courses to train for the air service.

The aviation cadet unit was the first named in honor of Capt. Kelly, hero of the war in the Pacific, who died in a bomber crash after sinking a Japanese warship.

CHINA PROPOSES ALLIED GROUP TO RUN BURMA ROAD

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 [Special].—The Chinese government has requested creation of an inter-allied commission, headed by a member of the American military mission, to take over control and operation of the Burma road, it was disclosed tonight by the Chinese embassy.

Announcing the request has been made twice, the embassy said the proposed commission was now a "matter for interallied reconsideration." Traffic over the highway has been increased by more than 400 per cent, it added.

"Great efforts have been made and are being made," the embassy said, "to improve the efficiency and quality of the road's operations."

U. S. AND BRITAIN PLEDGE DOOM OF AXIS: CHURCHILL

Enemy's Power Immense, Premier Warns.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 30.—Winston Churchill's matchless oratory reached climactic heights today as he told the Canadian parliament that the United States and the United Kingdom are pledged to "the total and final extirpation of the Hitler tyranny, the Japanese frenzy and the Mussolini flop."

Britain's wartime prime minister addressed a wildly enthusiastic crowd inside and outside the stone casements of Parliament hill. Thousands who were unable to gain entrance to the building where he spoke heard his talk thru a loud speaker system.

"Hitler and his Nazi gang have sown the wind," he barked. "We will see to it that they reap the whirlwind. Neither the length of the struggle, nor any form of severity which it may assume, will make us weary or will make us quit."

A Warning to the Enemy.

And again, presumably in reference to the German bombings of London and the Japanese assaults upon undefended Manila, he said gruffly:

"If anybody likes to play rough, we can play rough, too."

Churchill's voice was sharp as he declared in clipped phrases:

"We did not seek this war. We did all we could to avoid it. We did too much to avoid it. We went so far in trying to avoid it as to be almost destroyed by it when it broke upon us."

His tones were ominous as he added:

"But that dangerous corner has been turned and with every month and every year that passes we shall confront the evildoers with weapons as plentiful, as sharp and destructive as those with which they sought to establish their hateful domination."

Foe's Power Enormous.

The power of the enemy is enormous, Churchill warned.

"If we were in any way to underrate the strength, the resources, or the ruthlessness, the savagery of that enemy," he said, "we should jeopardize not only our lives, for they will be offered freely, but the cause of human freedom and progress to which we have vowed ourselves and all we have. . . . The enemies ranged against us, massed and combined against us, have asked for a total war. Let us make sure they get it."

The whole of the North American continent is becoming one gigantic arsenal and armed camp, Churchill said. It is only, he added, when the ship building program of the United States comes into full flood that the allies will be able to bring their entire force to bear upon the enemy.

Brings Audience to Feet.

In a rousing conclusion which brought the audience to its feet, he said:

"The invaders, be they Germans or Japanese, must everywhere be regarded as infected persons, to be shunned and isolated as far as possible. They must be made to feel that their fleeting triumphs will have a terrible end, that they are hunted and their cause is doomed. . . ."

Churchill began his speech by calling Canada's contribution to the war effort "magnificent." He predicted that in a few months, "when the invasion season returns, the Canadian army may be engaged in one of the most fateful battles the world has ever seen."

"On the other hand," he added, "their presence may help to deter the enemy from attempting to fight such a battle on British soil."

Hints Battle at Close Quarters.

"And I think it extremely unlikely," he said, "that this war will end without the Canadian army coming to close quarters with the Germans, as their brothers did at Ypres, on the Somme, or on the Vimy ridge."

The prime minister reviewed the progress of the European conflict from the "phoney war" period until what he termed "the explosion of pent-up German strength and preparation burst upon Norway, Denmark, Holland, and Belgium."

"On top of all this came the great French catastrophe," Churchill said. "The French army collapsed, and the French nation was dashed into what events hence have proved so far irretrievable confusion.

Assails French Leaders.

"The French government had at their own suggestion solemnly bound themselves with us not to make a separate peace. It was their duty and it was also their interest to go to North Africa, where they would have been at the head of the French empire. In Africa, with our aid, they would have had overwhelming sea power; they would have had the recognition of the United States and the use of all the gold they have lodged beyond the seas.

"If they had done this, Italy might have been driven out of the war before the end of 1940, and France would have held her place as a nation in the councils of the allies and at the conference table of the victors.

"But their generals misled them. When I warned them that Britain would fight on alone—whatever they did—their generals told their prime minister and his divided cabinet, 'In three weeks England will have her neck wrung like a chicken.'

"Some chicken!

"Some neck!

Applauds Dutch Courage.

"What a contrast has been the behavior of the valiant, stout-hearted Dutch who still stand forth as a strong, living partner in the struggle.

"But the Dutch nation is defending its empire with dogged courage and tenacity by land and sea and in the air. Its submarines are inflicting a heavy daily toll upon the Japanese robbers who have come across the seas to steal the wealth of the East Indies and ravage and exploit its fertility and its civilization.

"The British empire and the United States are going to the aid of the Dutch. We are going to fight out this new war against Japan together; we have suffered together and we shall conquer together.

"But the men of Bordeaux, the men of Vichy, they would do nothing like this. They lay prostrate at the foot of the conqueror. They fawned upon him. What have they got out of it? The fragment of France which was left to them is just as powerless, just as hungry as, and even more miserable, because more divided, than the occupied regions themselves.

"Hitler plays from day to day a cat and mouse game with these tormented men. One day he will charge them a little less for holding their countrymen down. Another day he will let out a few thousand broken prisoners of war from the million and a half, or million and three quarters, he has collected. Or again, he will shoot a hundred French hostages to give them a taste of the lash.

"And on these blows and favors, the Vichy government has been content to live from day to day, but even this will not go on indefinitely. At any moment, it may suit Hitler's plans to brush them away. Their only guarantee is Hitler's good faith which, as every one knows, biteth like the adder and stingeth like the asp."

Says Tide Has Turned.

After declaring that "the tide has turned against the Hun," and citing the "increasing Russian success" and the mopping up by the British of German and Italian forces in Libya, Churchill said:

"We may observe three main periods or phases in the struggle that lies before us. First, there is the period of consolidation, of combination, and of final preparation. In this period, which will certainly be marked by much heavy fighting, we shall still be gathering our strength, resisting the assaults of the enemy, and acquiring the necessary overwhelming air superiority, and shipping tonnage to give our armies the power to traverse, in whatever numbers may be necessary, the seas and oceans which, except in the case of Russia, separate us all from our foes. . . .

"How long this period will take depends upon the vehemence of the effort put into production in all our war industries and shipyards.

Phase of Liberation.

"The second phase, which will then open, may be called the phase of liberation. During this phase we must look to the recovery of the territories which have been lost or which may yet be lost, and also we must look to the revolt of the conquered peoples from the moment that the rescuing and liberating armies and air forces appear in strength within their bounds.

"For this purpose, it is imperative that no nation or region overrun, that no government or state which has been conquered, should relax its moral and physical efforts and preparation for the day of deliverance.

"Where active resistance is impossible, passive resistance must be maintained. Particular punishment will be reserved for the Quislings and traitors who make themselves the tools of the enemy. They will be handed over to the judgment of their fellow countrymen.

Plans Assault on Foe.

"There is a third phase which must also be contemplated, namely, the assault upon the citadels and homelands of the guilty powers, both in Europe and in Asia.

"Thus I endeavor in a few words to cast some forward light upon the dark, inscrutable mysteries of the future. But in thus forecasting the course along which we should seek to advance, we must never forget that the power of the enemy and the action of the enemy may at every stage affect our fortunes.

"Moreover, you will notice that I have not attempted to assign any time limit to the various stages; these time limits depend upon our exertions, and upon our achievements, and on the hazardous and uncertain course of the war. Nevertheless, I feel it is right at this moment to make it clear that while an ever increasing bombing offensive against Germany will remain one of the principal methods by which we hope to bring the war to an end, it is by no means the only method which our growing strength now enables us to take into account.

"Evidently the most strenuous exertions must be made by all. As to the form which these exertions take, that is for each partner in the grand alliance to judge for himself, in consultation with others and in harmony with the general scheme.

BRITISH RAIDERS HIT BREST, NAZI WARSHIP HAVEN

LONDON, Dec. 30 (AP).—The nest of German warships at Brest was blasted in daylight today by Britain's biggest bombers, protected by a Polish fighter squadron which was credited with destroying seven German planes. The Nazi battle cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau and the cruiser Prinz Eugen have been reported berthed at Brest. Two bombers and three fighters were lost by the British.

The assault led to the suggestion in informed quarters that at least one of the three Nazi warships might be getting ready to leave for the Atlantic hunting grounds after completion of repairs to damage previously inflicted by the royal air force.

It was the 11th raid this month and the second by daylight in the past fortnight upon Brest.

100 NAZI SOLDIERS SLAIN FOR PARIS MUTINY: BRITISH

New York, Dec. 30 (AP).—The British radio today said 100 German soldiers have been executed for mutiny in Paris since Dec. 1 and 50 have committed suicide. The broadcast said two German colonels, a major, and a junior officer of the Paris garrison were shot a week ago.

Gen. Dill to Get New Post; May Be in Washington

LONDON, Dec. 30 (AP).—An announcement in the London Gazette tonight that Field Marshal Gen. Sir John Greer Dill is to be specially employed led to predictions that he will be given a special liaison post, perhaps in Washington, D. C., or will become a member of the staff of the eventual supreme allied command. Gen. Dill, who went to Washington with Prime Minister Churchill, relinquished his post as chief of the imperial general staff on Christmas day. His appointment as governor-designate of Bombay was announced in November.

NEW YEAR'S EVE IN EUROPE MEANS TIGHTENED BELTS

Less Food and Clothing for Five Nations.

BERLIN, Dec. 30 [Official broadcast recorded by Associated Press.]—Beginning Jan. 1, German restaurants on two days a week will serve one "field kitchen" dish—a pot or a plate of the simplest fare.

Apart from this restaurants may serve on these days only the usual "basic dish" for which no ration coupons are required.

The institute of cooking science at Frankfort-on-Main will issue recipes for the field kitchen dish, for which coupons for not more than 50 grams [1.765 ounces] of meat and not more than 10 grams [.353 of an ounce] of general food or bread will be required.

Two meatless days a week—Tuesday and Friday—will continue in effect.

Italy's Butter Ration Cut.

Reduction of Italy's butter ration from 100 to 70 grams [from 3½ to 2½ ounces] per month to go into effect Jan. 1 was announced today in a dispatch from Rome. Toilet soap, completely lacking for six months, is to be reintroduced, but it will be of uniform manufacture and sales will be limited to single cakes.

Other rations—one pound of sugar, two pounds of macaroni, 150 grams [a shade over 4 ounces] of ordinary soap per month, and 200 grams [seven ounces] of bread per day—have not been changed, according to the dispatch.

Bread rationing will commence in Rumania Jan. 8 and on Jan. 15 it will be extended thruout Hungary.

The Rumanian rations will be 300 grams [about 10½ ounces] daily per person, with manual laborers receiving double that amount.

Budapest and its environs have been on rations for some time. These have allowed each person 250 grams [less than 9 ounces] of bread daily, and workers about 14 ounces plus about 2 ounces of wheat flour. Similar amounts are expected to be allotted the rest of the country.

Sweden Rations Clothing.

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 30 (AP).—Neutral Sweden today ordered the rationing of clothes beginning Jan. 6. To prevent a last minute buying spree, the government banned the sale of any kind of wearing apparel before that date.

Ration cards will be issued, carrying 120 points for men and 110 for women to be used over an 18 month period. A woolen dress will require six to 15 points. Silk garments and stockings are excluded.

A man's suit will take 45 points, a shirt four to seven points. A man can replenish his wardrobe during the 18 month period with one suit, a pair of summer trousers, two shirts, one pair of pajamas, one undershirt and two pairs of shorts, two collars, one pair of mittens, three pairs of heavy stockings, one pair of socks, a bathing suit and five handkerchiefs.

France Warned of Famine.

VICHY, France, Dec. 30 (AP).—Pierre Caziot, minister of agriculture, today told cattle raisers that if law breaking and lack of discipline in regard to food supplies continued, France would be led to "irresistible catastrophe."

He blamed the "faults and crimes of a small minority," and by contrast pointed to the magnificent effort of the majority of the farmers.

"Famine is reaching animals as well as humans," he said, and the need for food is "pressing."

Adm. King Is Installed as Fleet Commander in Chief

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—Adm. Ernest J. King formally took office as commander in chief of the United States fleet at noon today at the Washington navy yard—but the admiral was not present. The navy explained that "due to the pressure of wartime work Adm. King will be in conference while his flag is being hoisted." The four star admiral's flag was raised aboard the U. S. S. Vixen, a former yacht converted into a navy gunboat. The ceremony, the navy said, was "marked by utmost simplicity."

Actress Marries

MARJORIE LORD.

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 30 [Special].—A romance of the footlights culminated today in the marriage of Marjorie Lord, 23 years old, and John Archer, 26, both stage players, at the Chapman Park Pueblo oratorio by Superior Judge Frank C. Collier. Honeymoon plans were postponed because both are appearing with Edward Everett Horton at a local theater. They met at a rehearsal six months ago.

BRITAIN TO RULE WAR JOBS PAYING OVER $32 A WEEK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 30.—No one in the future may apply for or obtain a war job paying $32 weekly and over except thru the ministry of labor, it was announced today. A special department of labor ministry will deal with the professional, technical, and managerial classes of workers who would fall into this category. The object of the scheme is to see that the "right people are placed in key war jobs." The system of block transfers of girl shop clerks from stores to factories is being widely developed. One hundred forty girls were shifted yesterday from chain store branches in south England to an ordnance factory in the north. Forty girls from Midlands branches of the same stores will be transferred this week and next week 80 will be sent to factories.

LONDON PAPERS SAY LITTLE ABOUT CHURCHILL TALK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 31 [Wednesday].—Today's London newspapers, altho giving great prominence to Prime Minister Winston Churchill's speech in Canada, commented guardedly.

The Daily Mirror suggested that when Churchill returns, the house of commons will expect to hear "if only in a secret session" something of the "very elaborate plans" he made with President Roosevelt toward winning the war.

The Daily Sketch compared the speech in Canada unfavorably with the one Churchill made before the United States congress. It said: "It was, perhaps, a little too much to expect . . . a similar rich flow of oratory."

While conceding that Churchill had "moments of fire and intense feeling," the Sketch said some listeners must have found it a "little difficult" to comprehend his remarks about Hongkong remaining in the possession of the Japanese until "we reach the peace table."

BRITISH HALT 46 VESSELS TRYING TO REACH FRANCE

LONDON, Dec. 30 (AP).—The British navy has intercepted 46 vessels attempting to run the blockade of unoccupied France, an official of the ministry of economic warfare declared today.

Shipments which reached France thru the Mediterranean port of Marseilles were "responsible for almost the only leak in our blockade," he said.

"France is a great sausage machine grinding out Nazi war essentials," he said. "Four planes out of every five, and 85 trucks out of every 100 went to Germany, for which the French aluminum and chemical industries are working almost exclusively. Those were the reasons for which both occupied and unoccupied France had to be treated as enemy territory."

LUXURY HOTELS FOR AXIS ENVOYS UPHELD BY U. S.

Ours Get Equal Treatment, Official Says.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30.—The state department was quick to reply today to charges in congress that America is not being "tough" enough in its treatment of diplomats representing enemy nations, who are enjoying vacations at exclusive southern resorts while awaiting exchange for United States diplomats and return to their native lands.

The German representatives have been lodged by the Federal Bureau of Investigation at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., along with their axis colleagues from Rumania and Hungary. And this week the Japanese embassy and counselor officials with their staffs were removed by the FBI to Hot Springs, Va., after having been detained since the outbreak of the war in the Japanese embassy.

Question of Reciprocity.

This procedure is in strict accordance with international law, it was explained, and has been carefully observed for hundreds of years by warring nations.

"It's all a question of reciprocity," a state department spokesman said. "The representatives of countries with which the United States is at war receive the same kind of treatment, while awaiting exchange, as we want our representatives in the enemy countries to receive. Anything less would be to jeopardize the safety and comfort of United States citizens who are helpless in the hands of the foe."

Rep. Stephen M. Young [D., O.] told the house earlier that he objected to having American taxpayers pay to maintain Nazi and Japanese representatives at resorts which he describes as among "the finest in this land."

"Time to Get Tough."

"I protest against this and denounce the striped pants state department boys in spats with sweet smelling flowers in their button holes, who arranged this fine, gentlemanly hospitality," he declared. "Surely our officials should not cater to double dealing Japs, and to Nazi officials, by lodging them as guests in the most luxurious resort hotels on this continent. It is time for Americans to get tough.

"A little common sense instead of this Emily Post sort of business would be more in line. You may say that the Japanese empire and not the American taxpayer will, in the end, have to pay for the luxuries of Hot Springs. When we get thru with Japan, I don't want enough left of the Japanese empire to pay for a cot in a flophouse."

The removal of German nationals to White Sulphur came after the American diplomats were taken by the Nazis to Bad Nahelm, a famous German spa, the state department explained.

Americans at Embassy.

During their stay in the embassy here, the Japs were allowed to receive food and other comforts, including wines and liquors and a Christmas tree. As far as was known here today, the American representatives in Japan are still staying at the United States embassy in Tokio, which, according to the state department, has commodious living quarters and ample space for all.

The remarks of Rep. Young brought forth expressions of native pride from Rep. Jennings Randolph [D., W. Va.] in respect to the White Sulphur Springs resort which he termed "lovely" and "outstanding," adding, however, that he fears one of his constituents may go afeuding against the enemy diplomats who are guests there.

Mexico Reveals It Paid All Its Bills in 1941 with Cash

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, Dec. 30 (AP).—Mexico was able to live within its income in 1941 and pay cash for its expenditures of $110,000,000, the treasury said today. Taxes paid for all government expenses.

NORWAY RAIDS NOT WORTH WHILE, PRESS EXPERTS TELL BRITAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The British raid on Vaagso, Norway, has given rise to a conflict of opinion here as to whether such sorties are worth while.

Most of the newspapers derive considerable encouragement from this demonstration of coöperation between the three fighting services, and, as the News Chronicle puts it, a "foretaste to the enemy of the wrath to come," but Capt. Bernard Ackworth, naval expert, writing in the Daily Mail, suggests that the results were not worth while and the ships "would be better employed in Malaya." The dangers facing the British empire at the present time, he says, "are far too grave to justify tip-and-run raids on the continent by powerful British forces."

"We cannot afford the misdirection of our efforts any longer, and in my view these raids are an example of serious misdirection," he says.

Free Postage for Armed Forces Asked in Senate

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—A bill to give free postage to members of the military and naval forces was introduced today by Sen. Edwin C. Johnson [D., Colo.]. He said his measure had "the blessing" of the postmaster general.

BRITONS SUGGEST U. S. HURL FLEET AGAINST JAPAN

"Where Are Ships?" Asks Expert.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 31 [Wednesday].—A suggestion for winning the war against Japan was made in two London newspapers this morning.

Only the timely arrival of the American Pacific fleet "could be expected to change the scales of fortune in that zone," Capt. B. H. Liddell Hart, noted military expert, said in the Daily Mail.

"Where is America's Pacific fleet?" he asked.

Liddell Hart, stressing that time is working against the allies, said:

"The key to the situation lies in the hidden answer to the question of whether the American Pacific fleet is on the way to Singapore, or whether it has been held back—either by losses at Pearl Harbor, or by concern for security of the California coast."

"The fate of every state in the Pacific is in the keeping of the American fleet," said the Daily Express. "The Japanese can invade and conquer with an army, but one big sea battle will lose them everything.

Altho the Express expressed the conviction that "if Roosevelt still waits, it is not because he is deaf nor undecided," it assured its readers that the American fleet will be used to "smash Japan utterly."

Speedup Plan for N. U.

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY—Plans are being drafted to go on a year round basis next June, shortening from four years to three the time required for a bachelor of arts degree. Courses in medicine, engineering, chemistry, and law will be shortened and new courses in civilian defense added to the curriculum. All vacations and holidays between now and June have been canceled and examination and registration periods reduced.

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO — Speedups in almost all courses are being put into effect. Subjects offered in freshmen and sophomore years are being doubled and students will be able to work thru the summer. February high school graduates may complete freshmen work by June and begin sophomore studies in the early summer. Vacations and holidays are being eliminated from chemistry and physics courses and extra instructors will be imported. The meteorology course will finish six weeks ahead of schedule.

WHEATON COLLEGE—Full utilization of the summer school, enabling a student to complete the four year course in three years, has been ordered. Beginning with the February semester, short preparatory courses will be offered to those expecting to be called to the colors. Pre-engineering work also is planned.

Purdue Cancels Holidays.

PURDUE UNIVERSITY—The first semester, which was to have closed Jan. 24, will end Jan. 10 instead. All vacations and holidays of the second semester have been canceled. Spring commencement will be held May 3—five weeks ahead of schedule. A committee is drafting plans for year round instruction to begin in May.

DePAUW UNIVERSITY — Streamlining of principal courses will begin with the Feb. 2 semester after the return from Baltimore of Dr. Clyde E. Wildman, president. A committee has been appointed to remold the curriculum to wartime needs.

KNOX COLLEGE—Dr. Carter Davidson, president, and his board of regents plan a meeting immediately after the Baltimore conference to discuss a speedup in instruction.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE — Instruction schedules already have been stepped up and more drastic changes to meet wartime needs are contemplated. A six day study week, enabling students to complete six weeks' work in five, is expected.

Grinnell Ready to Help.

GRINNELL COLLEGE — Preparations for a marked speedup are under way. Dr. Samuel N. Stevens, president, will attend the Baltimore meeting to learn what the government expects.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN—The year's second semester has been shortened three weeks and will end June 1. Vacations and holidays have been called off. The medical school will go on a year round schedule as soon as possible enabling students to complete the four year course in three years. The summer semester will offer 12 weeks' study in engineering, chemistry, physics, and other fields in which there are shortages of trained men.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN—Authorities expect the board of regents to meet after the Christmas vacation to study needs and government requirements.

A number of central western universities have outstanding units of the Reserve Officers Training corps and already have made large contributions to the nation's trained forces. More than 4,000 are in training at the University of Illinois. Several hundred of these will receive commissions in the army reserves in the spring.

N. U. Trains Midshipmen.

Eight hundred young men are being trained as midshipmen on McKinlock campus of Northwestern university and 300 others are enrolled in the naval ROTC units on the Evanston campus. The University of Chicago offers the basic ROTC course, but has augmented it with practical military studies and activities for students near draft age. Civilian defense courses also are offered.

Purdue's ROTC is the only completely motorized field artillery unit at an American college. ROTC is required the first two years and is elective the latter two, entitling four year graduates to commissions in the reserve. Purdue has graduated more field artillery officers than West Point, said Dr. Edward C. Elliott, president.

ROTC training at Knox college is optional, but it is augmented by a secondary course in civilian aviation. At Wisconsin this year the ROTC is preparing 1,881 young men for commissions in the infantry and signal and engineers corps. Night classes have been instituted to prepare those who expect reserve commissions and active duty at the end of this term's second semester.

Expect Enrollment Drop.

No serious enrollment decreases were reported by central western schools. Almost all expect them in the 1942-'43 school year and some colleges have had intimations that the decline will begin with the second semester this year. Enrollment declines will reduce operating revenue and tentative plans are being drawn to retrench in courses not vital to the national defense.

STATE ST. MEN ORDER $650,000 BONDS IN A DAY

Merchants Expect to Hit a Million.

State street merchants yesterday subscribed for $650,000 worth of defense bonds and told Norman B. Collins, state administrator of the defense savings staff, that the total will soon be boosted to $1,000,000.

Purchasing their legal limit of $50,000 each for 1941, some of the merchants said they will buy their 1942 maximum quotas within a few weeks.

Collins accepted applications for $50,000 each from the following: Marshall Field and Company, Carson, Pirie, Scott and Company, Mandel Brothers, The Hub, Henry C. Lytton and Sons, Goldblatt Brothers, Inc., O'Connor and Goldberg, Boston store, Maurice L. Rothschild, C. D. Peacock, Inc., The Fair, Inc., Sears Roebuck and Company, Charles A. Stevens and Company, and Benson and Rixon company.

Other $50,000 buyers included the Bismarck Hotel company, the Metropolitan Office building, the Palace theater, and the Stewart-Warner corporation.

Still Not Enough Certificates.

"We haven't been able to get enough bond certificates from Washington to fill all our orders," Collins said. "Daily we get insufficient quantities from the bureau of engraving, which is working day and night. But I am sure that purchasers will be patient."

The federal reserve bank of Chicago has 1,500 orders in the 7th reserve bank district which it has been unable to fill.

The bank announced that its sales in the five states comprising the district were $2,667,000 for Monday, bringing the total since the Japanese attack up to 41 million dollars.

Postoffice sales in Chicago held up well also, its total for the same period rising to $5,234,029 for both bonds and defense stamps. Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen announced that more than 90 per cent of the 15,000 postoffice employés have pledged themselves to buy stamps and bonds periodically.

New Records at Tribune Offices.

Sales in the Tribune Public Service offices in Tribune Tower and at 1 South Dearborn street set a new record yesterday. The total was $4,979.70, compared with the previous high of $4,521.15 for Monday, and brought sales since they started Christmas eve up to $15,000.85 at the two offices.

The Tower office sold $1,650 worth of bonds and $85.95 worth of defense stamps.

County Treasurer John Toman yesterday set aside a section of his office in Room 212 of the county building for the sale of defense securities. He will send letters to all county employés urging them to buy stamps and bonds when they are paid.

The Bakery and Confectionery Workers' International union, local No. 2 [AFL], voted to buy $4,000 worth of defense bonds. Each of two branches also will buy an additional $750 worth of bonds, according to Steve Glut, corresponding secretary.

SEES COMEBACK FOR THE HORSE IN TIRE SHORTAGE

The horse and buggy may make a comeback in Chicago in 1942, City Clerk Ludwig D. Schreiber predicted yesterday. The reason—tire rationing.

For 20 years the use of horse drawn vehicles has been in a steady decline in the city. In 1941 only 1,097 one-horse vehicles were in operation, compared with 1,347 in 1940. Two horse vehicles almost went into a total eclipse, the number in use dropping from 56 to 17.

While the horse was being thus neglected, Schreiber's office issued a record 585,213 automobile tags in 1941, an increase of 35,676 over the previous year. Receipts for vehicle tags totaled $5,791,544, or $338,727 more than in 1940.

Receipts from tavern licenses totaled $6,872,800, against $7,078,000 in 1940. Dog licenses jumped from 9,385 in 1940 to 62,375 in 1941.

TIRE RATIONING BOARDS WILL BE SELECTED SOON

County Administrators Will Not Be Paid.

BY THOMAS MORROW.

Henry Pope Jr., newly appointed state administrator for the tire rationing plans, announced yesterday that boards for each county will be selected next week. Board members will be sworn in as federal employés without pay, he said, and an allocator or supervisor also will be named for each county.

Henry Pope Jr.

At the same time Michael F. Mulcahy, tire administrator for the Chicago area, announced that 10,000 inventory blanks are being rushed to Chicago from Washington, D. C. He said tire and tube dealers may obtain them in his office at the city hall.

Schedules Three Meetings.

Pope scheduled three state regional meetings with state defense councils, workers, mayors, and prospective rationing board members. They are: Saturday, for northern third of the state, La Salle hotel, Chicago; Sunday, for central portion, Abraham Lincoln hotel, Springfield; Monday, for southern third, Mount Vernon.

It was announced from Washington that the government had frozen retail prices of new tires and tubes at levels of the standard list price issued by manufacturers Nov. 25. At present there is no provision for price restrictions on used tires, Pope said, but added that he expected the government would fix schedules later. Tires used less than 1,000 miles are considered new.

Under tentative plans tires are to be sold to eligible car or truck owners who are furnished with affidavits as to their need. These affidavits are to be furnished by designated tire dealers who have been named inspectors.

Ambulances to Get Tires.

Under government regulations certificates will be issued for tires to be used on:

1. Ambulances.
2. On vehicles operated for professional services by a physician, surgeon, visiting nurse, or veterinary.
3. On vehicles used exclusively for fire fighting; police service; to enforce laws of safety and public health; to maintain garbage disposal and other sanitation services.
4. On vehicles with capacity of 10 or more persons each, operated exclusively to carry passengers by a regular transportation system; transportation of students and teachers to and from school; to maintain mail services.

For Transport of Ice.

5. On a truck operated exclusively to transport ice or fuel; material and equipment for maintenance of public roads; material and equipment for construction and maintenance of public utilities, production facilities, defense housing, military and naval establishments; to render roofing, plumbing, heating, and electrical repair services.
6. On farm tractors or other farm implements, on industrial, mining, and construction equipment.

The jurisdictional setup was explained yesterday. Eight midwest states of Illinois, South and North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Indiana, Iowa, and Missouri make up the region directed by John C. Weigel.

Pope will administer the downstate area, and Mulcahy the Metropolitan Chicago area. Pope and Mulcahy are of equal jurisdiction in their separate territories and both are responsible to Weigel.

LINDBERGH ASKS CHANCE TO SERVE IN U. S. AIR CORPS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—The army air corps said today Charles A. Lindbergh had volunteered his services.

Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the air forces and deputy chief of staff of the army, said "Lindbergh's act indicates a definite change from his isolationist stand and expresses a deep desire to help the country along the lines he trained himself for many years."

Last summer Lindbergh, at that time engaged in making many speeches in opposition to President Roosevelt's foreign policies, submitted his resignation as a colonel in the reserves to President Roosevelt by letter. The resignation was accepted.

The air corps said nothing further would be made public on Lindbergh's letter and that his application would be considered in the same category with numerous others seeking to return to active duty.

Lindbergh is 39, and would have to pass the air corps' rigorous physical examination for flying service.

Investigate Idaho Site for New Army Hospital

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—An army commission will be sent to Lava Hot Springs, Idaho, early in January to investigate desirability of locating a 1,000 bed hospital there, Sen. John Thomas [R., Idaho] said he was informed today by the war department. Thomas, Sen. D. Worth Clark [D., Idaho], and Rep. Henry C. Dworshak [R., Idaho] yesterday recommended to Maj. Gen. James C. McGee, surgeon general, establishment of the hospital there.

6,000 French Colonial War Prisoners Released

VICHY, Unoccupied France, Dec. 30 (AP).—Six thousand of France's African colonial soldiers who had been held as prisoners of war in German camps have been freed, the French information office announced today.

Hired by Marines

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Marcella Crowley and Sergt. Ben Liberacki of the marine corps.

Marine corps recruiting officials revealed yesterday that they now have a feminine volunteer at work in their Chicago headquarters. She is Miss Marcella Crowley, 29 years old, of 411 Fullerton parkway, by day a secretary in the Federal Housing administration offices here, and by night a nonpaid clerical worker in the marine office.

"I come from a fighting family," Miss Crowley declared. "I have three cousins in the armed forces, and I felt that I ought to be doing something, too. So I came to the marine office, offered my services free, and was put to work.

"If the government really organizes a women's corps, as is now suggested, you can bet I'll be among the first to enlist."

CHICAGO DEPENDS MORE ON TIRES THAN NEW YORK

Needs Told as Ration Plans Progress.

Chicago's need of the automobile and tires to operate it is far greater than the need of New York and other cities, because of the lack of a subway and other transportation features, it was pointed out yesterday.

"Since Chicago and vicinity are more dependent upon the passenger automobile for transport than New York City, due to less extensive public transportation facilities, our need for tires is far greater," Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, said. "It seems logical, therefore, that if rubber is rationed for retreading purposes, our city should be allotted more in proportion to private vehicles than New York.

Chicago Is Spread Out.

"Another reason why our need for continued automobile travel is more imperative is that Chicago is spread over a greater area than most other cities, and the only means of reaching many sections is by automobile."

Figures showed that New York transportation companies carried 3,145,067,905 passengers from June 30, 1939, to June 30, 1940 while serving a population of 7,380,259. Of this number subways and the elevated handled 1,922,160,479. Street cars and buses carried the balance.

In comparison Chicago companies, serving a population of 3,384,556, handled 898,655,661 passengers in 1940. Of these, the Surface Lines carried 689,321,687, the elevated lines 149,205,137, and the motor coach company the rest.

In other words, it was pointed out that New York, with only two and one-fifth times the population, accommodated three and one-half times as many passengers on its transportation systems. The picture was borne out in passenger cars registration which showed Chicago had 588,266 in 1940, while New York, with its much greater population, had only 210,079 more, or 798,345.

Tire Quotas to Be Announced.

Meanwhile John C. Weigel, regional director of the Office of Price Administration, said that tire quotas for Illinois and other states probably will be announced within the next few days. He said that it had been estimated that tires for civilian use would be cut approximately 80 per cent.

"I do not know whether the quota will be based on population, commercial vehicles, or total vehicles," he said. "But I know that it will be based on some equitable basis. After it has been in force for a little while regional officers will give Washington reactions to the program, and necessary adjustments will be made."

JAPS 'KILL' HIM, PAL 'BURIES' HIM, HE DISPUTES IT

San Diego, Cal., Dec. 30 (AP).—A sailor who saw a grave marked as his own and talked to a friend who thought he had helped bury him in the Hawaiian Islands informed his parents today he was alive.

"I'm still healthy," wrote Clifford G. Kickbush Jr., 19 years old, whose death in the Pearl Harbor attack had been reported to his parents by the navy. Kickbush wrote of meeting the friend several days after the attack.

"What the devil!" exclaimed the shipmate. "I helped bury you yesterday."

Kickbush visited the grave and saw his name on the marker.

"Now they don't know who they buried," he wrote.

4 Killed, 4 Slightly Hurt as Canadian Plane Crashes

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—Four crewmen died in the flaming wreckage of a big royal Canadian air force flying boat and four others escaped with slight injuries today when the craft crashed a moment after taking off from its Vancouver island base.

ECUADOR OUSTS A NAZI.

QUITO, Ecuador, Dec. 30 [AP].—Government authorities today ordered Walter Guisse, German citizen and accused Nazi propaganda agent, to leave the country within 48 hours.

THOUSAND IDEAS IN TIRE CRISIS—AND NONE WORKS!

Patent Office Full of Weird Plans for Substitutes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30.—The United States patent office here offers thousands of ideas for substitutes for pneumatic rubber automobile tires. Probably less than 1 per cent have been adjudged practical by the motor car industry in the past. But America never before had 28,875,000 registered passenger cars with their source of crude rubber severed by war.

A one day search by this reporter didn't touch all of the pertinent patents. A catalog listed 431 classifications under this subject and a clerk said there were from a dozen to a thousand patents under each of these classifications. We picked a couple of hundred to thumb thru.

For "hard time" car operation, patent No. 1,232,306, issued to W. H. Heron of Washington, D. C., is an idea sad to contemplate. He obtained his patent in 1917, three months after the beginning of the World war. It provides for a steel cable to secure a flat tire on the wheel for driving the worn out rubber after it will not longer hold air.

Springs Are Favored.

Most of the patents called for employment of rubber in one way or another, but these were discarded as far as this report is concerned.

There were a variety of wheels with a steel tread and with a double rim and with springs of different types between the two rims. In 1913 Benjamin Turgeon of South Dakota patented a design using a series of spiral springs. In 1905 an Italian used leaf springs between the rims. In 1918 G. W. Watts of Hot Springs, Ark., obtained patent No. 1,256,403, employing steel springs shaped like the letter Z.

In 1920 one A. Collier got patent 1,329,111 on a wheel in which each spoke is a spring, a steel leaf in bent tension between the hub and the rim. J. W. Gillian in 1911 patented idea No. 994,309 for an iron tire. The sidewalls are curved like a cross section of a bell. At the mouth of this bell is the tread, held in places by coil springs in tension attached to the rim.

Cornelius Had an Idea!

If you think that description is difficult to understand, listen to some of the others; for example, patent No. 1,304,801, issued to Cornelius P. O'Brien of Omaha, Neb.:

"In a resilient wheel tire, an apertured rim having a peripheral groove, an annular cylindrical casing outward of said rim, said casing consisting of curved metallic plates disposed in line, the end portion of one plate engaging the inner portion of an adjacent plate, said plates having flanges provided with slots and secured to said flanges, a spacing ring provided with apertures and having recesses opening on one side and disposed in the groove of said annular rim, etc., etc."

It was a layman's guess that this might call for something like patent No. 1,009,966 issued in 1911 to John W. and Ernest H. Haase, a casing of flexible steel plates with a corrugated tread held together with leather.

Rope Instead of Tire.

H. C. Tripp of New York, in patent No. 1,055,573 issued in 1913, offered an easily comprehended suggestion for an emergency tire. It won't be many months before there will be few passenger automobiles with a spare tire. Mr. Tripp's idea was for a coiled manila rope, about the size of a tire, to be clamped on the vacated rim. His patent covered a hand lever for tightening his emergency tire.

There are probably better ideas for meeting the rubber shortage in this store house of schemes, but it would take a crew of competent engineers several weeks to sift thru the chaff to get the grain.

U. S. OF EUROPE, BILL OF RIGHTS URGED BY FORD

Detroit, Dec. 30.—Henry Ford said in an interview today that the future well-being of the world lay in the establishment of a "United States of Europe" patterned along the lines of the American system in which each country would have the same freedoms and the same opportunities of our 48 states.

"I believe," said Ford, "that if all the parliaments of Europe—from Russia to France, from Norway to Greece—would meet in joint session to establish the United States of Europe and adopt a bill of rights, there would be a speedy return to common prosperity and an end to this periodic slaughter of Europe's inhabitants which has lasted for 2,000 years. Such a bill of rights should guarantee among other things freedom of speech and freedom of worship."

Honor Prof. Henry Crew of Northwestern Faculty

Princeton, N. J., Dec. 30 (AP).—The Oersted medal of the American Association of Physics Teachers, awarded periodically for "a notable contribution for the teaching of physics," was presented today to Prof. Henry Crew of Northwestern university. Honored during a joint meeting of the association with the American Physical society at Princeton university, Prof. Crew was cited as one "who thru his translation into English of Galileo's dialogs concerning two new sciences has done much to bring the works of that doughty pioneer of physics within the reach of us all."

BILL PROPOSES DAYLIGHT SAVING UP TO TWO HOURS

Roosevelt Would Fix Time by Zones.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30. A bill which would empower President Roosevelt to place the nation on wartime daylight saving and advance the clocks as much as two hours in any zone was introduced in the senate today by Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.].

Provisions of Bill.

The measure provides for the reenactment of the daylight saving law in existence during the last World war. It states:

"During continuance of the present war and for a period not to exceed six months thereafter, the President is authorized from time to time by proclamation to advance or to retard the standard time of each zone or any part thereof, provided that in no period shall the time of any zone be advanced more than two hours."

Roosevelt Considers It.

Mr. Roosevelt said today the question of placing the entire nation on daylight saving time is under consideration. He estimated that 500,000 kilowatt hours of power would be saved every day by using daylight saving time, which is being discussed by Attorney General Francis Biddle and congressional leaders.

Enactment of a daylight saving legislation to reduce industrial accidents, save fuel and speed arms production has been urged for several months. Sen. Sheridan Downey [D., Cal.] recently told the senate that he believes Mr. Roosevelt already has the authority to put daylight time into effect by virtue of the war powers voted by congress.

Speedy action was expected on Sen. Wheeler's bill which was referred to the senate interstate commerce committee.

ARMY CORRECTS MESSAGE SENT ON DEATH OF SON

A telegram received on Dec. 9 by Mrs. Maude Fairchild of 1364 East 62d street, informed her that her son, Private Malcolm Wayne Fairchild, 24 years old, a student pilot at Hickam field, Honolulu, had been killed in action in the first Japanese attacks on the Hawaiian Islands. The telegram went on to state, however, that her other son, Willard, also stationed at Hickam field, was safe.

Yesterday Mrs. Fairchild received a message from army officials in Washington stating that they had made a mistake. Malcolm was safe, but Willard had died of wounds.

Good news came to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee Gordon of Moline, Ill., in the form of a "thank you" letter for Christmas presents received Dec. 24 by their son, Allen Lee Gordon, 21, whom the navy department had reported killed in the Pacific area Dec. 16. A memorial service for Gordon was held Dec. 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Eltie Clymer of East Moline also received a belated Christmas present. It was a letter and a postcard dated Dec. 8 and 11, respectively, from their son, Everett Vernon Clymer, a sailor with the Pacific fleet who was reported killed in action Dec. 7.

U. S. Army Plane Burns on Mexican Island, Report

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 30 (AP).—The defense ministry reported tonight a two motored United States army plane had crashed and burned on Tiburon Island in the Gulf of California. The military commandant of the zone, who received reports of the crash from five or six persons, sent out a search and rescue party.

Britain Moves to Reduce 'Alarming' Toll of Traffic

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The ministry of war transport is planning a new campaign, utilizing movies, broadcasts, and advertising, to reduce the number of road accidents during 1942. Traffic experts are reported alarmed over the large increase in accidents, particularly during blackouts.

U. S. SPEED LAW STUDIED TO SAVE TIRES AND FUEL

Question of Clash with States' Powers Arises.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30.—Half a dozen agencies, official and semi-official, are considering a federal speed law as a means of conserving rubber and petroleum.

Thomas P. Henry.

Whether congress has the constitutional power to enact intrastate highway regulations has been challenged, but Charles C. Collins, attorney for the American Automobile association, said today that a federal speed law might be adopted under the President's powers to repel an invasion.

At the same time Thomas P. Henry, president of the automobile association, issued a statement which he said was intended "to end the tire panic sweeping the country."

Casts Doubt on Shortage.

The statement said half the 28,875,000 passenger cars registered in America have tires good for one to two years of driving and that plans for retreading and for producing "war tires" of reduced rubber content precluded any danger that millions of cars would be laid up because of the shortage.

Collins said a federal speed law might encounter enforcement problems because state and city police, unless deputized as federal officers, do not make arrests under federal statutes. He added that federal courts might not be adequate to serve as speed courts. It was said congress might memorialize state legislatures to reduce their speed limits to eliminate these problems.

High Speed Wears Tires.

Iowa State college has conducted research on the relation of speed to operation costs. It was found that a speed of 52 miles an hour wears tires 2.7 times as fast as a speed of 33 miles an hour.

There are other driving habits and owner practices which are considered to be as important as speed in the longevity of a tire. The life of the rubber is shortened by improper inflation and by excessively rapid acceleration, braking and turning.

Henry of the A. A. A. urged federal agencies, in making public details of the tire rationing plan, to give consideration to two points, which he cited as follows:

1. Cars produced in 1940 and 1941, about 7½ million of them, can be driven another year or two with care without new tires. Approximately 80 million tires sold for replacement in these two years have the same expected life.

2. In 1941 there were 7 million tires retreaded, and existing retread shops can expand their work to 10 million tires a year. Thirty-three million tires could be retreaded each year in tire factories.

Henry said a fairly good "war tire" of popular size can be produced with 5½ pounds of rubber, compared with the 12 pounds used in a standard tire.

NAZI PRISONER IN THE LAUNDRY BAG IS ALL WASHED UP

BOWMANVILLE, Ont., Dec. 30 (AP).—Walter Manhardt, 24 year old German aviator, escaped from the prison camp near here tonight in an undetermined manner, authorities announced. It was the second escape of the night, but the first, also a German flyer, was apprehended less than an hour after he concealed himself in a bundle of laundry.

Driver William Ranstead noticed on his return from a routine trip to the camp that the back doors of his truck were open and that a man was walking off, remarking, "Your back doors are open—Happy New Year."

The heavy accent was the tip-off. Ranstead grabbed his man, Friederich Oeser, and grappled off his civilian overcoat to disclose a prison uniform.

ELECT DEMOCRAT TO HOUSE FROM MASSACHUSETTS

Lynn, Mass., Dec. 30 (AP).—In the nation's first wartime congressional election, which was more of a popularity contest than a political campaign, State Sen. Thomas J. Lane [D.] was elected tonight in Massachusetts' 7th district.

Far back in the three-man race was Communist John Green of Boston, which is outside the district. Green received 272 votes. The election, ordered to fill the seat of the late United States Rep. Lawrence J. Connery [D.] of Lynn, brought out less than 40 per cent of the vote.

FORMER NAZI MAJOR, 6 OTHERS INDICTED IN N. Y. ESPIONAGE

New York, Dec. 30 (AP).—Six men and a woman, including a former German army major now interned at Ellis Island, were named today in an indictment charging conspiracy to violate the federal espionage law.

Five others, including one woman, were named as co-conspirators.

Those named were Kurt Frederick Ludwig; Rene C. Froehlich, former private in the United States army medical corps stationed at Governor's Island, N. Y.; Hans Helmut Pagel and Frederick Edward Schlosser, both of Brooklyn; Mrs. Helen Pauline Mayer; Karl Victor Mueller, a naturalized citizen and a machinist, and Paul T. Borchardt, former German army major, a director of the German Institute of Egyptology and an instructor at the Geographic Military seminary at Munich.

All except Mueller and Borchardt had been indicted previously as members of a spy ring of which Ludwig allegedly was the master mind. They were awaiting trial set for Jan. 14.

The indictment also named as co-conspirators unidentified persons in Spain, Portugal, Shanghai, and Argentina, as well as unnamed officers and agents of the German reich.

OPM CUTS WOOL DELIVERIES FOR CLOTH BY HALF

Seeks to Save Supply for Military Use.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—The Office of Production Management told woolen manufacturers today that their supply of new wool for non-military production—including suits, dresses, other clothing, and rugs—would be restricted during the next three months to half or less of the amount they used during the same period in 1941.

Robert R. Guthrie, chief of the OPM textile branch, informed an industry advisory committee meeting that an allocation order would be issued soon embodying these restrictions:

1. Manufacturers of worsteds and of floor coverings will be cut to 50 per cent of their 1941 use of wool for a similar period.

2. Manufacturers of woolens and all other users of new wool will be cut to 40 per cent.

Cut at 200 Million Pound Rate.

Guthrie said the over-all program to conserve available wool supplies projected a rate of new wool consumption which would, if continued thru the entire year, cut supplies to the industry by about 200 million pounds. The rate of consumption allowed during the next three months will be restricted to 80 per cent of the rate prevailing during the first six months of 1941.

This 80 per cent production, officials said, would include both military and nonmilitary uses. Military requirements, however, will be met in full.

Forecasts Greater Slash.

Commenting that the program was more liberal than experts originally had thought possible, Guthrie added that "there are so many uncertainties regarding wool deliveries that it would be unfair to lead any of you to believe that this liberal allocation can continue thruout the year. In fact, there is a very strong possibility that it won't continue."

ARMED FORCES' BOOK CAMPAIGN OPENS JAN. 12

Final plans for the Victory book campaign to collect 10 million books for men in the armed forces were made yesterday at the midwinter conference of the American Library association in the Drake hotel. The drive is sponsored by the American Red Cross, the Library association, and the United Service Organizations.

Starting Jan. 12 libraries and other collection centers thruout the nation will begin receiving, sorting, and repairing the books for speedy shipment to various places. Carl B. Roden, head of the Chicago Public library, will name a director for the Chicago area. Ralph McCoy of the Illinois State library is director for the rest of the state.

The drive is intended to collect volumes of all sorts, including textbooks. No unbound magazines or newspapers will be accepted. Capt. Ray Trautman, director of army library service, told the conference that there are 600 book collections in camps and stations ranging in size from 25 books to 30,000 volumes.

AXIS ARMY LOSES 42 TANKS IN DASH TO ESCAPE TRAP

British Pound Foe's Supply Lines in Libya.

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 30 (AP). — The cornered axis army in Libya has lost 42 of its remaining tanks in a rash and costly effort to lash out at the growing British pressure in the western sands of Cirenaica, British middle eastern headquarters announced today.

Attempting a last stand south of Agedabia, on the eastern shore of the Gulf of Sirte, an axis column spearheaded with tanks "made still another attack to interfere with our operations"—operations bent on complete destruction of Nazi Gen. Erwin Rommel's fighting strength, the British said.

"In the ensuing engagement," a communique added, "22 enemy tanks were destroyed and 20 others received serious damage."

With the axis column scattered and retreating, a regiment of British hussars swept in and rounded up five truck loads of German infantry.

Bomb Gasoline Transport.

About 80 miles beyond Agedabia on the coastal highway skirting the Gulf of Sirte is El Agheila, the high water mark of the first British Libyan campaign.

Whether Rommel's stand and counter attack means that he is hoping for reinforcement from the west or is trying to fight a rearguard action to facilitate further flight toward Tripoli in far western Libya remained in doubt.

Belief that the axis is trying to bring up men and supplies was strengthened by RAF reports of heavy raids on oil transport and troop truck on the Tripolitanian coastal road east of Homs, some 60 miles east of Tripoli.

Far behind the lines the British were systematically mopping up the isolated outposts which the axis left near the Egyptian frontier. One outpost and an ammunition dump were destroyed yesterday by artillery fire.

British bombers raided the main quay at Tripoli, airdromes on the axis held island of Crete, a munitions factory at Salamis, Greece. Targets in Crete were at Candia and Suda bay. Piraeus, the port of Athens, also was visited.

Take British Prisoners

BERLIN, Dec. 30 [Official broadcast recorded by Associated Press].—Several hundred British soldiers were declared by the high command today to have been taken prisoner in fighting around Agedabia and "further local successes" were officially claimed.

"The number of British tanks and armored cars wrecked in [two days of] counterattacks has increased to 74," the communique said.

German bombers sank a large sailing ship off Valletta, Malta, a British Mediterranean base, and attacked airdromes on the island day and night, the communique reported.

Claim Hits on Destroyer.

ROME, Dec. 30 [Official broadcast recorded by Associated Press].—The high command today said German and Italian planes attacked a British naval convoy off northern Cyrenaica and scored several hits on a destroyer and another ship.

WINANT CONFERS WITH EDEN ON MOSCOW PARLEY

LONDON, Dec. 30 (AP).—United States Ambassador John G. Winant tonight called on Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden to hear about his trip to Moscow, the results of which some sources regarded as so important that a secret session of parliament might be called to hear them.

Some hinted that Eden's observations had led him to the conviction that the German war machine is in acute difficulties while still facing the three most severe months of the Russian winter. Eden is expected to disclose some of his conclusions in a broadcast Sunday [at 2:15 p. m., Chicago time].

Informed sources were convinced that Eden had brought home good news from his conferences with Premier Josef Stalin and observations behind Russia's lines on the eastern front. They said the leaders discussed the production of munitions and equipping of Russia's reserve manpower from a potential big allied pool.

ULSTER COMMONS PLEDGES 'UTMOST' SUPPORT TO U. S.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Dec. 30 (AP).—The house of commons today adopted a resolution of sympathy with the United States for the Japanese attack and pledged "utmost support" in the war effort of Britain and the United States.

The resolution thanked the United States for assistance in the past and voiced pride that American citizenry includes a million Ulster kinsmen.

The resolution was moved by W. J Nixon, Independent, who said, "I am surprised to hear Mr. De Valera [Prime Minister Eamon de Valera of Ireland] say that if Ireland went into this war it would cause disunity. I do not think any Irishman worthy of the name would take exception to Ireland joining with America in defense of liberty and justice."

Failure to Bomb Egypt Costly to Italy—Gayda

ROME, Dec. 30 [ANDI Agency to Associated Press]. — Virginio Gayda, Fascist editorial spokesman, today blamed what he called Italy's respect for the Egyptian population and failure to bomb Egyptian territory for her reverses in Libya. "It is certain that if Italy had had from the first day of the war full liberty of action against Egyptian territory she could more easily have struck at the centers vital to the British offensive, and have stifled at their birth the various moves attempted against Libya," he wrote.

A Semple Weds

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Harry Salter and his bride, the former Roberta Semple.

Nyack, N. Y., Dec. 30 (AP).—Harry Salter, widely known radio orchestra leader, and Roberta Semple, daughter of Aimee Semple McPherson, west coast evangelist, were married here today by Justice of the Peace Joseph K. Wright in his real estate office.

Mrs. Ruth Lawrence, Wright's secretary, and Miss Elizabeth Baretta, secretary to Mrs. Natalie Couch Williams, journal clerk of the New York state assembly, were the witnesses.

It was the bride's second marriage. A previous marriage ended in divorce some years ago in California and she was given the right to resume her maiden name. It was the first marriage for Salter. They left immediately after the ceremony for New York City.

GAY, NOISY! THEN A HEADACHE; IT'S NEW YEAR'S EVE

City Will Celebrate Despite War.

Despite the war, Chicagoans will welcome the new year with traditional gayety and reverence. There will be the usual New Year's eve parties in homes, hotels, and night clubs. Celebraters will disport themselves with horns, hats, and hilarity. For many there will be the inevitable New Year's day headache.

While thousands will greet 1942 in revelry, many others will gather in churches and temples to pray that the new year bring swift victory and a just peace in the war.

Prices Slightly Higher.

Hotels and night clubs reported an unusually heavy demand for reservations for New Year's eve parties at prices slightly higher than last year in most cases. One hotel manager said the war had increased the call for reservations.

"Most people want to let loose and forget about the war for one night," he said.

Capt. David Flynn, chief of the traffic police, predicted even greater crowds than last year will congregate in State and other loop streets to help welcome the new year. To protect the revelers and to watch that no damage is done, Capt. Flynn will concentrate 156 policemen in the loop. An additional 60 men will be assigned to outlying sections where crowds are expected to gather.

Many Soldiers Home on Leave.

"We are planning on larger crowds this year than last," Capt. Flynn said. "For many men it will be their last celebration before joining or being called into armed service. In addition there are many soldiers home on leave to join in the festivities."

As for rules of behavior, Capt. Flynn asks that celebraters behave themselves. Police will be tolerant, he said, and added that his men will be on duty at least until 4 a. m. when most revelers will have gone home.

For the motorist who finds he has imbibed too much of the holiday spirit, the captain asks that he leave his car parked on the street. There will be no tickets for the tipsy motorist who wisely decides not to drive his car, he said.

Transportation companies have made special plans to handle the crowds. The bus and street car companies will add to their schedules, the Elevated Lines will run special trains all night long, and for most suburbanites there will be extra train service.

NEW YEAR'S EVE DRINKING PERIL TOLD BY W. C. T. U.

The Women's Christian Temperance union, thru its national headquarters in Evanston, issued a warning yesterday against the annual New Year's eve "human blackout."

Alcohol, the communication stated, anesthetizes the nerves, "exactly as chloroform would do" and the narcotic is found in beer and wine as well as in whisky. The theory that all the merry end of the year feeling is in the same proportion as the alcohol that courses thru the drinker's blood was advanced and the six stages of intoxication were outlined, thus:

1. The still decent stage, one drop of alcohol to 1,000 of blood. 2. The delighted, devilish stage, one or two to the 1,000. 3. The dizzy, delirious, two to three to the 1,000. 4. The dazed, dejected, three to four to the 1,000. 5. The dead drunk stage, four to five drops to the 1,000. 6. The dead stage, which means the drinker is in danger of death, over five drops.

British Cut Gravity of Beer Another 5 Per Cent

CHURCHES PRAY: GIVE US VICTORY WITHOUT MALICE

Many Watch Services to Be Held Tonight.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Chicago will pray for victory as 1942 is rung in tonight at midnight, but it will be "with malice toward none." At least this spirit, which also bespeaks sorrow for our own sins, "love your enemies," but hatred for their sins and ours, was foremost in devotions prepared or suggested by various leaders for tomorrow's day of prayer called for by President Roosevelt.

In Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch's call for day of prayer devotions in the 420 Catholic churches of the archdiocese, this spirit was made clear:

"Fervently we shall pray that God will make us calm in triumph . . . without hatred and greed in our hearts."

Asks Prayer in English.

In a letter to the clergy yesterday, the archbishop asked that the following prayer be offered in English at the close of each low mass in every church until the war ends. It is a translation of the prayer, Tempore belli, from the Votive mass of the Roman missal:

O God, whose might outweighs all force of arms, and whose protection strengthens unto victory the defense of those who trust in Thee, stretch forth Thy hand in mercy to Thy servants, give us Thy strong help to repel the assaults of our enemies, and we shall ever thank Thee and praise Thy Holy Name. Thru Jesus Christ Our Lord. Amen.

Archbishop Stritch will lead the prayers of the archdiocese at Holy Name cathedral tomorrow night. Similar services will be held tomorrow thruout the archdiocese. At the convent of the Cenacle, 513 Fullerton parkway, tomorrow night, the Rev. Edward J. Mullaly, C. S. P., will conduct the holy hour.

Following the custom established in Welsh mining areas in the time of John Wesley, all Methodists will pray as midnight ushers in 1942. The traditional watchnight service will be held in 1,400 Methodist churches of the Chicago area, Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf, head of the area, announced yesterday. Dr. Iver M. Johnson, minister of Chicago temple, 77 West Washington street, announced that the associate minister, the Rev. Clark J. Wood, will conduct the midnight devotions.

Suggests Midnight Watch Prayer.

Bishop Waldorf suggested the following prayer for use at midnight watch services:

O God, our help of ages past, Thou art the hope of all the ends of the earth. Give us Thy grace, that we may always approve ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor, and glad to do Thy will. Defend our liberty and preserve our unity as a nation. Endue with the spirit of wisdom those whom we entrust in Try name with the authority of government. We pray for victory over self and every evil thing as we reconsecrate ourselves to the carrying out of plans for each of us as individuals, churchmen, and citizens. We commit ourselves and all that we have and are and hope to be to Thee for carrying out Thy gracious plans and purposes as Thou shalt reveal them to us, depending upon Thee to strengthen our hearts and minds, and spirits sufficient for the tasks that await us. Forgive what we have done amiss. Help us to amend what we are; and in Thy spirit direct what we shall be and do. Thruout all the year may we experience Thy joy and have within us that peace which passeth all human understanding. Amen.

Special Lutheran Services.

Lutheran churches thruout the city have announced special services, either at midnight or during the day tomorrow in response to the President's request. The Rev. Dr. J. W. Behnken, president of the Evangelical Lutheran Missouri synod, composed a suggested prayer for use in the special services tonight and tomorrow. It follows in part:

Dear Heavenly Father, we enter upon the New Year with heavy hearts. Thy hand of chastening rests so heavy upon all the nations of the earth. The awful scourge of war is now striking our beloved country. We approach Thee today with keen realization that by our many sins and transgressions we have merited Thy sore displeasure and righteous wrath. We are heartily sorry . . . and plead that . . . Thou mightest forgive. We implore Thee in this hour of our country's need to guide the President and congress. . . . Graciously protect the men who have gone forward in the defense of our country. . . . Comfort all homes saddened by messages of casualties. . . . In Thy good pleasure restore a just and honorable peace. . . . Spread the mighty wings of Thy protection over Thy church thruout the world. Guard and shield the missionaries and their congregations in the war-torn countries. Let not Thy Kingdom suffer, but grant that Thy precious Gospel may be proclaimed unhindered and blood-bought souls may be brought to Christ for the salvation of their souls. In Thy mercy remember us and hear our prayers for Jesus sake. Amen.

The following prayer from the Common Worship book of the United Lutheran church was recommended for special New Year services by the office of the Illinois conference, 860 North Wabash avenue:

Look mercifully, O Lord, we beseech Thee, on the affliction of Thy people; and let not our sins destroy us, but let Thine almighty mercy save us; thru Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Bishop Conkling Authorizes Prayers.

In the Episcopal church New Year's day coincides each year with a special feast of the Christmas octave. Services as called for in the New Year day of prayer will have special prayers authorized for use in the diocese of Chicago by Bishop Wallace E. Conkling. Among the special prayers is the following:

O God, who hast made of one blood all nations of men, mercifully receive the prayers we offer for our anxious and troubled world. Send Thy light into our darkness and guide the nations as one family into the ways of peace. Bless those who serve in the armed forces of our country. Strengthen our leaders by Thy mighty counsel. Take away all hatred and fear. Grant us thru an abiding sense of Thy good providence, faith, courage, and serenity and hasten the establishment of Thy kingdom in righteousness and peace thru Jesus Christ Thy Son our Lord. Amen.

In a special message to the 300 Congregational churches of the Congregational-Christian conference of Illinois from a special committee headed by Dr. Ernest Graham Guthrie, director of the Chicago Congregational union, the world wide character of the church was stressed. It urged patriotism but warned against the use of the church as "merely an instrument of the state."

"We should remember with deep thankfulness," said the statement, "that in the tragic struggle of our own Civil war, Abraham Lincoln gave us a supreme example of how a war can be successfully prosecuted without trace of hatred or desire for vengeance, 'with malice toward none.' The church should within itself exemplify the same high spirit, and be the eternal resource for the manifestation of the spirit and character in the heart of the total action of the nation."

Jewish Temples Call Devou.

The synagogue of Chicago will respond to the New Year day of prayer appeal, according to Rabbi Morris Teller, president of the Chicago Rabbinical association. Temples thruout the city will call the devout for special prayers. Rabbi Teller prepared the following prayer:

Father of all mankind, we invoke thy holy name and beseech Thy blessing at the beginning of the year 1942. In these critical times when sinister forces are threatening our safety and endangering the religious and moral values and political principles which we cherish, we need Thy guidance and Thy help. Bless the President of the United States of America and his counselors and members of congress and all who are now in the service of our country, those in the armed forces, and those who are preparing themselves for civilian defense. May we all be endowed with the vision, high purpose, courage, and faith that we need in these trying times. We implore Thee to help us in our efforts to win the victory which must be ours so that freedom's holy light shall not be extinguished and that liberty and justice shall not perish from the earth. Amen.

The Salvation Army will inaugurate an intensive evangelistic campaign with tonight's watch night service. Commissioner Ernest Pugmire, central territorial commander, said the campaign will continue thruout the central west for two months.

KNOX ASKS LAW TO ENLIST 6,000 VETS AS GUARDS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 [Special].—To relieve younger men who can be used elsewhere, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox today requested congress for authorization to enlist 6,000 World war veterans and men over 30 years of age to serve as guards at naval shore establishments.

Knox said there is "urgent need" for relieving these younger men for other service.

Under Knox's recommendations veterans would not be subject to the pay limitation of $21 for the first four months of service, as provided in the selective service act. They would be entitled to allowance for quarters, subsistence, and transportation expenses equivalent to that allowed enlisted men of the first three pay grades of the regular marine corps. The men enlisted under the recommendation would go into a projected "limited service marine corps reserve." Presumably, they would be used only as guards.

REDS RECAPTURE 2 CRIMEAN PORTS; PERIL NAZI ARMY

Kerch and Theodosia Fall to Storm Troops.

MOSCOW, Dec. 31 [Wednesday] (AP).—Red army troops of the Caucasus and men of the Black sea fleet have stormed and recaptured the Crimean ports of Kerch and Theodosia [Feodosiya] in smashing new successes which imperil the entire Nazi army on that peninsula, it was announced today.

Premier Josef Stalin immediately sent a message of congratulation to Gen. Kozlov, commander in chief on the Caucasian front, and to Rear Adm. Oktyabrsky, commander of the Black sea fleet which participated in the reoccupation of those strongholds which the Russians were forced to abandon in mid-November.

Stalin's message said "the Crimea must be freed from the German invaders and their Rumanian and Italian lackeys."

Report Nazis Retreating.

Kerch is on the eastern tip of the Crimean peninsula about two miles across the straits from the Caucasus and its oil wealth. Theodosia is 55 miles to the west on the coast.

"Retreating in both these sectors, the enemy is being pursued by our units," the communique said.

German armies besieging the big Crimean naval base of Sevastopol on the southwestern tip of the peninsula now are menaced from the rear by the advancing soviet eastern armies.

The Reds seized Kerch and Theodosia after a stubborn two day fight which began on Monday. Russian troops aided by the Red fleet stormed across the Kerch strait from the east and fell on Theodosia from the south.

The Germans announced their capture of Kerch by Nazi and Rumanian troops on Nov. 16 after a two week race across the flat hinterland of the peninsula from the Perekop isthmus on the north of the Crimea.

Successes on Other Sectors.

By the Crimean drive and another along the southern Russian mainland toward Rostov the Germans had hoped to crack the gateway to Russian oil in the Caucasus.

Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's mainland troops threw the Germans out of Rostov as far back as Taganrog, which now is believed to be surrounded. Now the Russians have retaken the eastern Crimean strongholds in the huge winter drive to oust the Germans from Russia.

The Russians also reported successes on other sectors of the long front, especially a 30 mile drive across the Oka river north of Orel. Kozelsk, 150 miles southwest of Mosco won the Bryansk road, was recaptured in the drive. Ten other localities were retaken after the Germans suffered heavy losses.

The Russians broke thru four strongly fortified areas beyond the Oka River in the central sector drive.

This offensive is being pressed forward in the area of the breakthru, official dispatches said, increasing the threat to the German rear between Kaluga and Orel, southwest and south of Moscow.

Attack in Snowstorms.

BERLIN, Dec. 30 [Official Broadcast Recorded by Associated Press]. —Russians attacked in horse drawn sleds thru blinding snowstorms which raged over vast sections of the eastern front yesterday, but their disconnected offensives collapsed under the weight of German fire, German military sources reported today.

The German high command announced that Nazi bombers had sunk a Russian destroyer and damaged a cruiser in the Black sea and said that strong soviet land attacks had been smashed at various sectors of the eastern front.

German troops smashed stubborn soviet attacks in bitter cold and snowstorms on the arctic Murmansk front in the week from Dec. 21 to 28, the high command said. [The Finns said that on the Murmansk front "a battle is under way to beat back attacking Russian forces."]

The blizzards and severe cold which are hampering the armies on the Russian front also are being felt in the Balkans and in Turkey, according to dispatches received here.

Reports from Sofia, Bulgaria, said the temperature there had dropped to 4 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, while 22 below was recorded in eastern Bulgaria and western Macedonia. Snowstorms swept thru this area.

From Ankara, Turkey, came news of blizzards in eastern and central Anatolia which left 6 foot snowbanks, disrupted communications and cut off many towns and villages from the outside world.

Jouhaux, Ex-Labor Chief in France, Reported Seized

VICHY, France, Dec. 29 [Delayed] (AP).—It was reported today that Leon Jouhaux, veteran president of the French General Confederation of Labor in the days of the French republic, had been arrested at a chateau, in Dordogne department.

FEAR OF TYPHUS BELIEVED BAR TO NAZIS IN SPAIN

Germans Hang Back, Sensing Spread.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30.—Spotted typhus, the dreaded pestilence of war, is believed to be balking a contemplated Nazi invasion of Spain and Portugal.

Spain has a serious typhus outbreak, which followed in the wake of that country's civil war and has lingered on during the weary months of malnutrition.

The outbreak is not of such proportions as to deserve the term epidemic, but with the crowding in of thousands of German soldiers might well assume such proportions.

Easy Prey to Disease.

Germans consider spotted typhus with the gravest attention. They have met it already on the eastern front in Russia, Lithuania, and Poland.

Altho the disease has been confined to the occupied area, the danger of propagation behind the lines exists. The absence of proper winter quarters and the resultant drop in elemental hygiene have made the German fighting men easy prey to this grim destroyer.

A considerable portion of the responsibility for the German retreat in Russia has been laid by military experts here to spotted typhus. The same scourge of armies, they say, has the German high command hesitant about invasion of Spain.

Propagated by Lice.

With dreaded typhus on two fronts, the Germans could hardly keep the disease confined and it would sweep over Germany, possibly as it swept over Russia between 1918 and 1921 when 25,000,000 persons were afflicted.

Spotted typhus is carried by lice, which are an accompaniment of war. Reports have come out of Germany that medical examination of various units on the eastern front has found 100 per cent of the soldiers of some divisions afflicted with the vermin.

The lowly louse is the carrier of an organism, known as rickettsia, discovered by an American, Dr. Howard Taylor Ricketts. The disease the organism transmits is highly contagious.

3 Stages to Disease.

Typhus has an incubation period of a week to 10 days, during which the only noticeable symptom is a heavy languor. The second stage brings headache, and sleeplessness with high fever. The third stage brings the characteristic spotted rash and the stupor, which is accompanied by delirium. After the crisis the stuporends and the fever drops.

Poor food, starvation and crowding are the chief factors in making people susceptible. Because war makes for these conditions, spotted typhus follows in the wake of armies and frequently catches up with them.

The chief preventative of the disease is delousing, a most difficult matter for armies in the field.

Estimated 18% Mortality.

The disease has an estimated mortality of 18 per cent, but this varies with the age and physical condition of the persons struck. Old people have a far higher degree of mortality as do those weakened by prolonged starvation.

Typhus has been known as long as war. It is most frequent in cold and temperate climates, because during chill seasons lice like the warmth of winter clothes.

CAMPAIGNS UP TO RUSSIA WERE PLAY, SAYS NAZI

BERNE, Switzerland, Dec. 30 (AP).—The war up to June 22, when Germany invaded Russia, was just a "strength thru joy excursion" compared to what has happened since, a soldier wrote in Heinrich Himmler's organ, Das Schwarze Korps.

"We do not wish to underestimate the hardships of the previous campaigns in France and the Balkans, but compared with what we endure in Russia they were child's play," he wrote.

A collection of letters of soldiers was published to show that even tho the people are asked to surrender their clothing for the front they are suffering no hardships compared with the men on the battle lines.

British Planes Drop Bombs Near Athens, Italy Reports

ROME, Dec. 30 [Official broadcast recorded by Associated Press].—The Italian high command today reported a British air raid on Greece in which high explosive bombs were dropped near Athens. It was claimed the raid was "without success."

Goebbels to Air Hitler's New Year Message Today

LONDON, Dec. 30 (AP).—The German radio announced tonight that Propaganda Minister Goebbels will broadcast Adolf Hitler's New Year message to the German nation tomorrow at 7 p. m. London time [noon Chicago time].

BE VIGILANT! DEFENSE PLANT GUARDS WARNED

New Year's eve may be a night of celebration for most Americans, but for the men guarding the nation's defense plants it should be a period of extra vigilance. This warning was issued yesterday by Rear Adm. John Downes, commandant of the 9th naval district.

"Manufacturing plants and utilities might be expected to be operating with skeleton crews—a situation ideal for saboteurs," Adm. Downes said.

"Attempts might be made to halt production by interrupting power lines or crippling dams. This can best be prevented by an alertness that ignores holidays."

HOLD INFANT'S DEATH ACCIDENTAL.

A coroner's jury held yesterday that the death Monday of Maurice Wurst, 21 months old, shortly after he left the operating table in a Chicago hospital, was caused by the anesthetic and was accidental. The infant was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman F. Wurst, 2153 Seminary avenue.

GANDHI GIVES UP HELM OF INDIA'S FREEDOM PARTY

Balks at Move to Help the British War Effort.

BARDOLI, India, Dec. 30 (AP).—Mohandas K. Gandhi, uncompromising proponent of civil disobedience to British rule, stepped down as leader of the All-India Congress party today because of differences over a party shift toward war coöperation with Britain.

Mohandas K. Gandhi.

The resignation of the little leader of India's independence movement was presented and accepted at a session of the party's executive committee, which adopted a resolution throwing its sympathies to "peoples who are subjects of aggression and who are fighting for their freedom."

The All-India Congress party long has been the medium thru which Gandhi has carried on his campaign for freedom for India. There were indications that now it might offer to form a coalition national government for the duration, probably after seeking a new London declaration on India's postwar status.

Moved by War, Not Devotion.

The war at India's very borders, the committee emphasized, was its sole motive, and not devotion to Britain. Its resolution said:

". . . Only a free and independent India can be in a position to undertake the defense of the country on a national basis and be of help in furtherance of the larger causes that are emerging from the storm of war.

"The whole background in India is one of hostility and distrust of the British government and not even the most far-reaching promises can alter this background; nor can a subject India offer voluntary or willing help to arrogant imperialism, which is indistinguishable from Fascist authoritarianism."

Continuing Civil Disobedience.

Hewing unswervingly to his principles, Gandhi said in his letter of resignation:

"I must continue the civil disobedience movement for freedom of speech against all wars with such Congressmen and others whom I select."

It was the second time that Gandhi had disagreed over wartime policies. He dissented when the executive committee voted at Bombay last year to withdraw a previous conditional offer to coöperate with Britain in the war effort, but accepted an offer to resume his party leadership with power "to guide it in any action that should be taken."

TEACHERS PLEAD AGAINST CUTS IN EDUCATION FUNDS

Illinois teachers, altho recognizing the need for additional expenditure of billions of dollars to pursue the war effort, appealed to state and local governments yesterday to refrain from slashing school budgets during the emergency.

V. L. Nickell.

"We pledge our complete support to the federal government in the prosecution of the war against the axis powers," a resolution approved by the Illinois Education association declared, but "we believe that the goals of the national defense program as well as those of adequate preparation for postwar adjustment will best be attained by extending educational opportunities.

"We favor the greatest possible efficiency in government to the end that educational opportunity may be preserved."

Five hundred delegates, representing the state's 47,000 teachers, are attending the association's 88th annual meeting in the Morrison hotel. The convention closes at noon today.

Before balloting on the resolutions began, V. L. Nickell, superintendent of schools in Champaign, Ill., was elected president of the association. He succeeds Orville T. Bright, superintendent of Flossmoor schools.

QUALIFIED O. K. GIVEN TO U. S. SPENDING CUT

The Byrd senatorial committee's recommendations for reducing government expenditures not directly concerned with the war were given a qualified approval yesterday in Chicago by Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation.

O'Neal said his organization did not advocate abolition of the farm security administration, the farm tenant program, the CCC and the National Youth administration, as urged by the committee, but that the Farm bureau believed the activities of such agencies—in view of the fact that farm prices are at parity—could be curtailed severely.

"Since we are approaching full employment rapidly," he added, "it seems axiomatic that much of the need for WPA projects will gradually disappear."

Decatur Accountant Dies as Car Skids Off Road

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 30 (AP).—Willis A. Nash, 44 years old, a member of the Decatur accounting concern of Murphey, Nash and Jones, was killed today when his automobile skidded off the pavement five miles west of here. Robert G. Rockwell, an accountant, suffered a broken back.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

THE QUESTION.

Do you remember having your feelings hurt in childhood that affected some certain thing in your life?

WHERE ASKED.

Oak street, between Michigan avenue and Rush street.

THE ANSWERS.

Miss Winifred Nienhouse, 66 East Division street, stenographer—I was terribly sensitive as a child about being thin. My name, Winnie, rhymed with Skinny and other children taunted me. I vowed no one would be able to call me that when I grew up. I eat everything I can and no one can call me thin.

Richard Stanton France, 6757 South Ada street, theater usher—I was large for my age as a youngster and because of that the gang around the corner used to beat me up every now and then. After a few beatings I got my brother-in-law, who was an amateur boxer, to teach me how to defend myself. I haven't had any trouble since.

Miss Helen Steger, 1504 Orleans street, high school student—As a child, my teeth were in a very bad condition. One day a classmate happened to ask me why I didn't get them fixed. The remark hurt me so badly that I have not neglected my teeth since. I go to a dentist once a month. I want to have the smile that satisfies.

Herbert Lohrman, 1730 North Shore avenue, grocery clerk—In my early days I had a terrific temper and always flew at anybody who made me mad. One day my sister told me that I might kill somebody if I didn't control myself. She scared me so badly that I never had to be reminded again.

Mrs. J. H. Moore, 244 East Pearson street, retired school teacher—I presume that I had my feelings hurt often when I was a child, because I was very sensitive, but I was never conscious of it later in life. I think psychologists make too much of the theory that much of your future life depends upon things that happened in your childhood.

Russell Burke, 1251 North Dearborn street, hotel doorman—When I was a boy I was afraid of getting hit. The kids in my class learned this and picked on me. One day a big boy in a lower class tried the same thing. I was so embarrased I pounded the daylights out of him. I've never been afraid since.

MEXICO'S FIFTH COLUMN ANGERS ITS LEGISLATORS

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 30 (AP).—Five members of the chamber of deputies offered today to "settle accounts" personally with fifth columnists in Mexico and charged that axis undercover operatives here are headed by Rudt von Collenberg, former German minister to Mexico.

Without saying how they would settle accounts, they charged that an assault Sunday night on the Chilean consul general was conducted by fifth columnists. The Chilean was beaten in a restaurant by a dozen men who interrupted his party's utterance of vivas for Presidents Avila Camacho and Roosevelt.

The deputies declared the attack initiated the axis fifth column activities planned for Mexico. The senate meanwhile resolved to investigate alarmists, saboteurs, international spies and fifth columnists.

A GOOD REASON FOR EATING BIG HOLIDAY DINNER!

The 15 guests Mrs. Sarah George entertained at Christmas dinner were surprised when she asked them to weigh themselves before they ate in her home at 870 North Oakwood avenue, Lake Forest. They were even more surprised when she asked them to step on the scales again after dinner.

But they were delighted when she told them the reason. She invited them all to contribute 5 cents to the Red Cross for each pound they had gained. In the Christmas party that followed, each guest contributed 5 cents more for every Christmas present over the number of five that he or she received. Result: THE TRIBUNE received $3 from Mrs. George yesterday to be turned over to the Red Cross. And Mrs. George suggested that other hostesses try the same plan.

THANKS TO ALL CHICAGO FROM THE NAVY PIER

Capt. W. W. Elder of the naval training school at Navy pier yesterday thanked the residents of Chicago for the hospitality shown to sailors and marines stationed at the pier during the holiday season.

"You opened your hearts and your homes to give us a grand and glorious Christmas," he said, in an open letter to all Chicagoans. "Your generosity exceeded our needs, as we regretfully had to turn down many invitations. We sincerely hope that we may serve you in this great crisis as you have been willing to serve us."

BRAZILIAN POLICE FIGHT NAZIS; NAB STORM TROOPERS

Seize Many 5th Columnists in Widespread Raids.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Dec. 30 (AP).—Brazilian state police and organized Nazis have clashed in the state of Rio Grande do Sul, where more than half a million Germans live, dispatches from Porto Alegre said today. "Some" persons were killed and many fifth columnists arrested, it was said.

Sixteen Storm Troopers were among those rounded up in widespread raids. They are members of German societies which have gone underground since Brazil banned political parties in 1937.

Raids in Many Towns.

The raids, which resulted in the discovery of armed Nazi elements, were made in numerous towns under the direction of Dr. Plinio Brasil Milano, subchief of police. They were carried out at Nova Hamburgo, Sao Leopoldo, Santa Cruz, Estrella, La Geado, Santa Rosa, Angelo, and elsewhere. Where the deaths occurred was not stated.

Proof of Nazi activity in Rio Grande do Sul has been uncovered since Brazil declared her solidarity with the United States following America's entry into the war, Dr. Coelho de Souza, secretary of education in the state, declared.

Seize 100,000 Nazi Tomes.

Three days ago, 100,000 volumes of Nazi propaganda, intended for Brazilian schools, were intercepted, he said. A month ago Dr. Dé Souza told high Brazilian officials that part of the state's German colony was thoroly Nazi.

A dispatch from Montevideo, meanwhile, said a Uruguayan congressional committee probing anti-Uruguayan activities had reported the discovery of documents, seized in a raid on headquarters of a Fascist organization yesterday, which showed evidence of a Fascist group along military lines in Uruguay. This group, it was reported, took its orders from Rome.

Agenda of Rio Conference.

Mauricio Nabuco, Brazilian foreign office spokesman, said that American foreign ministers, who will meet Jan. 15, will consider first how to preserve the sovereignty and territorial integrity of the American republics.

The agenda, he said, will include:

Examination of measures against activities of foreigners which endanger peace and security; exchange of information on undesirable foreigners; study of measures which can be taken now by the American republics and which envisage attainment of common objectives in reconstructing the world order.

The second part of the agenda, which concerns measures to strengthen the economic solidarity of the American republics, includes:

Control of exports of basic and strategic materials; agreements to increase the production of strategic materials; agreements to supply each country with the imports essential to the maintenance of its domestic economy; maintenance of adequate maritime transportation; control of the commercial activities of foreigners.

GERMANY CALLS HOME ITS ENVOY TO ARGENTINA

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Dec. 30 (AP).—Baron Edmund von Thermann, German ambassador to Argentina, is being called home for consultation, the Berlin radio announced today, and informed persons expressed belief that Argentina and Germany had agreed to get the oft-criticized envoy out of the country prior to the pan-American conference in Rio de Janeiro which opens on Jan. 15. The Argentine ambassador to Germany, Ricardo Olivera, already has been recalled to Buenos Aires to report.

Von Thermann, who has been in Buenos Aires five years, has been under repeated attack by the congressional committee investigating anti-Argentine activities. The lower house has upheld its accusation that he abused diplomatic privileges.

Von Thermann refused to reply to a dual challenge by the committee chairman, Raul Damonte Taborda. His residence has been defaced by tar bombs and he has been threatened with prosecution on charges of insulting congress, but at the height of his difficulties last September he declared he never would leave Argentina of his own accord.

CUSTOMER NOT ALWAYS RIGHT, PAPPAS PROVES

It cost George Wieland $25 yesterday because there was no chicken in the chicken soup he ordered Dec. 14 in Thomas Pappas' restaurant at 1601 West North avenue.

Pappas, 59 years old, and Wieland, 37, of 555 Barry avenue, a machinist, told Judge Michael Tremko all about it in the Racine avenue court. Wieland, testified Pappas, attacked him with a knife because the chicken soup was chickenless. The chicken soup had no chicken in it, added Pappas, because it was really chicken noodle soup.

Wieland's version differed. He wouldn't eat the chicken soup he said, because there was no chicken in it; so Pappas became angry and attacked him. Judge Tremko sniffed and said he'd take Pappas' word. Unable to pay the fine, Wieland was ordered to work it out in the Bridewell.

276 VOLUNTEER FOR SERVICE IN FOUR BRANCHES

Two hundred seventy-six men took the oath of service in the nation's fighting forces in Chicago recruiting offices yesterday. Army, navy, marine, and coast guard officials reported that almost 500 other applicants had to be told to come back later this week.

Lieut. David Goldenson of the navy recruiting depot in the United States courthouse reported that his men enlisted 100 recruits, and told 75 others to report again today.

At the army recruiting office, 460 South State street, 100 men were accepted and sworn in, and 250 others were told to report today and tomorrow. Among the men accepted yesterday was Robert Emmett Stritch Jr., 21 years old, of 7821 Chappel avenue, a nephew of Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch of Chicago.

Marine corps recruiting officials reported that they signed up 36 men yesterday, and accepted 100 others who will be sworn in and sent to training schools later in the week.

The coast guard recruiting office announced that 40 men had been sworn in.

50 Reported Killed, Many Hurt in French Train Crash

LILLE, France, Dec. 30 (AP).—Fifty persons were reported killed and many injured today in a train crash near Hazebrouck in the prohibited frontier zone. Details were lacking, but the accident was believed to have been a collision.

CO-ORDINATE WAR POLICY NEEDED, SAYS PROFESSOR

The old segregation of land, sea and air warfare is breaking down and a coördinated military policy is needed, Allan Westcott, professor at the United States Naval academy, said yesterday. He spoke at a joint session of the American Historical association and the American Military Institute in the Stevens hotel.

In forming military or naval policy, he added, what is needed is not separate land, sea and air policies, each tugging at the nation's energies and purse strings, but a sound comprehensive policy, which will provide the best weapons for the nation's needs.

Prof. Arthur M. Schlesinger of Harvard university was elected president of the association for the coming year. Prof. Nellie Nielson of Mount Holyoke college and Prof. William L. Westermann of Columbia university were named vice presidents and Solon J. Buck, director of the national archives at Washington, D. C., was named treasurer.

*Increases to apply on T., P. & W. until Dec. 31, 1942

Rules and Working Conditions:

The essential basis is a fair day's work for a fair day's pay, without penalty payments. The above rates of pay are intended to cover expenses away from home terminals, vacation allowances, and all other factors entering into the work to be performed.

Compensation, including overtime, is calculated on the old basis of 12½ miles per hour for the first 100 miles, and 25 miles per hour for mileage in excess of 100 miles, with the above rates as minimums, all as set forth in the Schedule of Rates of Pay, Rules and Working Conditions. No distinction is made as between through, local or yard work.

The seniority rule as applied to assignment of men is substantially as follows:

"The management may from time to time designate the employe who is to fill each position or place where such employe is to be used. When the management deems that a permanent vacancy exists on a regularly scheduled run the vacancy shall be advertised on the bulletin board for a period of five (5) days to determine the man longest in service desiring to fill the vacancy. In selecting the employe who is to fill any position or place the management will give consideration to ability, seniority, loyalty, personal habits and attentiveness to the best interests of the Railroad, and shall not be limited to the men who bid therefor. If, in the judgment of the management, the said considerations other than seniority are substantially equal, the man longest in service shall have preference; however, the decision of the highest operating officer of the Railroad shall be final."

The following is included in the Schedule under the heading of "Retention of Legal Rights":

"Nothing in this schedule shall be construed as depriving the Railroad, or any employe of the Railroad subject to this schedule, of the right to take any steps which may be provided by law for the protection of their respective interests."

Notes:

The above rates of pay, representing an average increase of about 26.7% over existing rates, also the rules and working conditions as above indicated, were offered to the brotherhoods representing the above classes of employes and were refused by said brotherhoods.

The Railroad is now handling, and will continue to handle, traffic in connection with the war activities of the United States and associate nations. The attention of those who contemplate seeking employment with the Railroad is called to Sections 101, 102, 103, 104 and 105 of Title 50 of the United States Code, as amended, which provides severe penalties for any act of injuring or destroying war material, war premises or war utilities (which include railroads and railroad facilities) with the intent to, or with reason to believe that the act may, injure, interfere with or obstruct the carrying on of the war.

For complete information see Schedule of Rates of Pay, Rules and Working Conditions which will be mailed upon application.

SEEK TO REACH COMPROMISE ON DEFENSE BILLS

Has No Demands to Make, Says Mayor Kelly.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 30.—Compromises were in prospect today on three of the five "must" bills in Gov. Dwight Green's defense special session program as Mayor Kelly of Chicago, here for a law enforcement conference, told Democratic legislators that Chicago has no deals or trades to make on pending measures.

By next Tuesday, when the session reconvenes, it is possible that amendments may be worked out drastically revising the trio of important bills awaiting action. As now written they would grant wide powers to the health department, triple the state police force, and give the governor a $3,000,000 emergency contingent fund. Already approved are bills doubling the Illinois reserve militia and appropriating $750,000 for the state council of defense.

Kelly Indicates Stand.

Mayor Kelly, addressing his Democratic colleagues at a luncheon they arranged for him, seemed to use the word "we" in a partisan sense as he described his attitude toward the special session.

"We believe in every bill to keep the state safe, except those which would take away home rule," he said. "Chicago is for Gov. Green; we want him to be for us."

Then the mayor turned to the request the Chicago city council made upon the governor to call a second special session to meet municipal defense needs and said that the city only wanted what was due it, and wouldn't engage in any political manipulations to attain that end.

"There has been talk around—undercurrent bunk—that Chicago is selfish," Kelly said. "We can do without anything we have to deal for. We want our just rights, but we can get along if we don't get them. We don't need money for defense; our people are donating their services. There is no pay roll for the Chicago civilian defense organization; all the work is being done by patriotic citizens.

No Deals, He Says.

"We may need money later on for camouflage purposes, but we are not making any deals and we do not intend to gum up, disarrange any action you [the Democratic legislators] have taken here."

This statement brought cheers from the listening senators and representatives, who were joined, for the occasion, by a group of other ranking Democrats. The luncheon developed into a party love feast, with United States Sen. Scott W. Lucas, former Gov. Stelle, and Harry B. Hershey, gubernatorial nominee in 1940, among those present.

While the mayor did not specify which of the pending bills he felt were dangerous to home rule, the Democratic house members have repeatedly made that charge against the health department legislation, which would authorize wide control over handlers of germ cultures, and permit establishment of health departments in areas designated as defense zones.

Republican Strategy Changes.

Republican strategy toward the deadlock caused by ironclad Democratic opposition to the health, police and contingent fund bills, changed overnight.

Speaker Schnackenberg announced late yesterday he would call the roll on the health measures this morning in a final effort to obtain a two-thirds majority. If he failed, he said he would strike the emergency clauses and attempt to obtain 77 votes, a simple majority, so that the bills would become effective next July 1.

Changing his plans, the speaker summoned four of his Republican associates and five Democrats and tried for a compromise which would preserve some form of the bills as presently drawn, yet meet Democratic objections to them.

Hints at Early Agreement.

Today, when the house convened, the speaker pleasantly announced that the situation looked hopeful for peace. Then he recognized Majority Leader Frederick W. Rennick [R., Buda], who said he had conferred with Minority Leader William Vicars [D., Pontiac], and announced that as a result, "it looks as if by Tuesday we might be able to speed up the work of the session."

Hoover Backs Police Increase.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, notified the governor today that he favored increasing the personnel of the state police force, while talk went on in the legislative halls of the compromise. Hoover and Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, expressed their views in separate communications.

In the senate, an attempt was made to remove some of the Democratic opposition to the $3,000,000 governor's contingent fund bill. Majority Leader Arnold P. Benson [R., Batavia] sponsored an amendment which would limit expenditure of the money to epidemics, disasters, and catastrophes, removing from the original wording the phrase "and any other contingency."

Barnet Hodes Is Winner of Lawyers' Civic Award

Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes has been announced as the winner of the 1941 award of merit of the Decalogue Society of Lawyers of Chicago. The announcement, by Maxwell N. Andalman, president, states that Hodes was chosen for his civic work in bringing to fruition the George Washington-Robert Morris-Haym Salomon monument. The award will be presented at the society's Patriotic day celebration on Washington's birthday. Solomon Jesmer is chairman of the award committee.

LAW ENFORCING OFFICIALS HEAR DEFENSE PLANS

State Program Told at Conference.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 30 [Special].—Nearly two thousand representatives of law enforcement agencies thruout the state today heard outlined Gov. Dwight Green's plan for defense coordination, and exchanged ideas on the ways and means of providing internal security for Illinois.

In a turnout which ran approximately four times the number expected, sheriff's forces, mayors, chiefs of police, state's and district attorneys, coroners, policemen, members of the FBI and army and navy intelligence officers listened to potential problems and methods of solving them.

Local Agencies Not Displaced.

Col. Thomas R. Gowenlock, coordinator of law enforcement agencies in Illinois, in an exposition of the functions of his office stressed that his duties will at no time "interfere with the authority of rights of any law enforcing agency or agent."

"Local law enforcement should never be superseded—in authority or in influence—as long as that local law enforcement continues by the will of the community which selects it," said Gov. Green. "Never, in peace or war, should a state attempt centralized government, nor should there ever be encroachment upon local authority or prerogatives."

Mayor Kelly lauded the purposes of the governor and his associates in calling the meeting and told the gathering:

"Things get stale in the public mind. Unless the bombs are right over their heads most people believe it will not come to us. So it is necessary to call you together. Remember they came 4,000 miles to Honolulu. Remember they can come here."

Describes Possible Cases.

Gowenlock listed cases in which the militia could be called into use and described a hypothetical case in which he stressed the importance of notifying the federal bureau of investigation in situations which might have a bearing on national security.

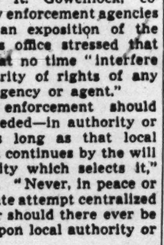
He broadened his remarks to include a list of agencies which might be used in such a case, and the order in which their use would become effective.

He asked the local agencies, particularly those outside of Cook county, to furnish his office with data on manpower and equipment which can be used outside some territories without damaging local protection, a list of vulnerable points in all districts, and condition of reception of state police radio calls.

Other state officials, including Lieut. Gov. Hugh Cross and Attorney General George Barrett spoke, as did army, navy, and marine officers.

LLOYD LAFLIN AGREES TO PAY $550 TO WIFE

Lloyd Alan Laflin, 38 years old, a director of the Elgin Watch company, agreed yesterday to pay his estranged third wife, Mrs. Mary Lillian Laflin, 27, $550 pending hearing Feb. 11 of her suit for separate maintenance. He also agreed to pay any dental or medical bills she may incur.



Mrs. Mary Laflin.

Mrs. Laflin, who is living with friends at 434 North Washington road, Lake Forest, had asked Judge Ralph J. Dady of Lake county Circuit court to award her $475 in cash, reimbursement for attorneys' fees and other costs, and $350 a month temporary support. Laflin's attorney, Albert L. Hail, objected to the $350 as unreasonable. Mrs. Laflin's attorneys, Sidney H. Block and Harold M. Keele, said Laflin paid his second wife, now Mrs. Beatrice Clow Hagenbuckle, $50,000 after their divorce in 1938, and also is paying her $100 a month support for their two children, Mary, 8, and Lynn, 11.

The attorneys finally agreed on the $550 payment without a court order.

Confirm $500 Judgment in Sewer Job Damages

The Appellate court affirmed yesterday a $500 Municipal court judgment obtained by Frank Kosicki and his wife, Julia, of 3339 South Racine avenue, against the contracting firm of S. A. Healy company. The award was for damage done to their home during construction of the southwest side intercepting sewer in 1937. The company contended the Sanitary district was liable under statute law, but the Appellate court ruled the contractor was responsible under common law.

ROOSEVELT SETS WAR BUDGET AT HALF U.S. INCOME

Envisions 50 Billions a Year Spent for Arms.

was old since Dec. 7. Military resources have been pooled since that date, he said.

Pressed for a definite answer on the fate of lend-lease, he said that of course accounts will be kept during production at factories, but no one can tell what will be done with a finished weapon. The weapon, he said, might go to Britain, to Russia, or even to Kamchatka, which is a cape lying north of Japan.

He said the nation can't go ahead with lend-lease as it was doing before Dec. 7. Lend-lease will have to be adjusted, he said, in the light of the ultimate use of articles produced.

Tax Plan Kept Secret.

Asked what taxes were planned along with his 50 per cent war program, Mr. Roosevelt said with a laugh that the reporters soon will find out.

Mr. Roosevelt said he is deep in preparation of a multibillion dollar budget, which will be presented to congress the day after he delivers, in person, his annual message on the state of the nation on Jan. 6 or Jan. 7.

He said a long list of nondefense expenditures have been prepared for reduction. He would give no hint as to the size of the contemplated cuts, or of the total budget.

He said the current budget drafting contained more than the ordinary number of headaches because of the problem of costs—whether budget figures should be put on the basis of whole costs resulting from the superimposition of program on program, or whether the budget should be put on a flat expenditure basis, governed by estimates of actual treasury disbursements within the fiscal year.

SEEKS $150,000 FROM CAFE OWNER AND POLICEMAN

Suit for $150,000 damages under the dram shop act was filed in Superior court yesterday on behalf of Mrs. Jessie Roy of 5468 Dorchester avenue, and her four children, Grady Jr., Philip, Raymond, and Dale.

Defendants are Policeman Clifford Allman, the Lorfan Building corporation at 819 East 47th street, and Rose B. Fuller, operator of the Rosebud café at that address.

The suit, filed by Attorney Samuel A. Rinella, charges that Mrs. Roy's husband, Grady Sr., 38, was struck by Allman in the café, which is also a tavern, on Oct. 3, 1941.

As a result of the blow, the suit charges, Roy's jaw was broken and a bone disease developed which prevents him from working. Allman was off duty at the time, the bill states.

Companion of Slain Youth Sentenced as Car Tamperer

Stanley Romanowski, 19 years old, arrested last Wednesday when his companion, George Klein, 22, was shot and killed by police while he and Klein were trying to loot an automobile, was sentenced to 90 days in the Bridewell yesterday on a charge of tampering with a car. He pleaded guilty before Judge Leon Edelman. Romanowski, who lives at 6112 Eastwood avenue, and Klein, who lived at 4083 Sheridan road, were surprised in front of 845 Ainslie street.

6 Colored Children Saved When Trapped by Blaze

Six colored children, trapped by fire in the flat building at 471 East 41st street, were rescued by firemen of the 16th battalion early yesterday. More than 60 other colored residents were driven out. The fire did $500 damage.

WASHINGTON HAS TEST BLACKOUT; CALLED SUCCESS

Plan Dims Only Part of City's Lights.

Washington, Dec. 30 (AP).—Washington practiced at blacking itself out tonight, with results that officials in charge, including Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York, the national director of civilian defense, considered "excellent."

By intent it was only a partial blackout. Street lights were extinguished only in the down town section, and even there, lights continued to glow from windows behind which work was being done, for the orders in such cases were simply to use as little light as possible.

Air Wardens on Job.

Outside the business area, although the street lights continued to beam, householders were under instructions to extinguish all illumination, and some 12,000 air raid wardens were on the job to see that the orders were complied with. At the White House the blackout was quick and complete.

Downtown, the response was equally prompt. Hardly had the sirens sounded, than the street lamps went out. Stores, restaurants and other business establishments followed.

Motorists Seek Shelter.

A bus came to a standstill while halfway around the corner at Eleventh and Pennsylvania avenue, and doused its lights. Automobiles quickly swung to the curbs or parked double, while the occupants turned off the switches and in accordance with instructions sought the nearest indoor shelter.

At street corners, however, the red and green traffic lights continued to blink. Overhead searchlights from various spotting posts continued to play their beams upon passing airplanes. The capitol dome could be seen vaguely against a hazy moonlit sky.

BOND OF $30,000 FOR 'BUYER' ON 3 CHECK CHARGES

Joe Levy, alias Stein, alias Lehman, an ex-convict, was held to the grand jury in bonds of $30,000 yesterday by Judge John V. McCormick in the Felony court on three charges of passing bogus checks. The action was taken under the name David Lehman. Levy, 44 years old, has spent nearly 28 years in prisons or jails.

The charges against him were made by Carson Pirie Scott & Co., the Maurice L. Rothschild store, and Mandel Brothers store. Levy allegedly obtained $100 from Carson's, $21 from Rothschild's, and $38 from Mandel's.

His arrest resulted from the bad check case at Carson's. Posing as David Lehman, a buyer from the state of Washington, he called last October on Col. A. A. Sprague, who then was buying for Chicago's own Christmas benefit. Sprague sent him to Carson's wholesale house, telephoning in advance. Levy quickly put over the check, later telling police it was simple because of the "buildup Col. Sprague must have given me."

FINGERPRINTING OF FLYERS TO START TODAY

Fingerprinting and reëndorsement of all private flyers in the Chicago area in preparation for application of new air regulations scheduled to go into effect on Jan. 8, will be started this morning, it was announced yesterday by Civil Aeronautics Authority inspectors.

The new regulations demand that all nonmilitary or nonairline pilots carry identification cards with their fingerprints, photographs, and the signature of a CAA official after Jan. 8.

The cards wil be issued at the CAA general inspection offices at Chicago airport. All pilots must appear in person with their flying licenses, with two full face photographs of their heads and shoulders—approximately passport size—and with documentary proof of their birth or American citizenship.

ILLINOIS FLYERS VOLUNTEER FOR CIVIL AIR WORK

Nearly 2,000 Illinois flyers have filed applications for the Civil Air Patrol, Jack Vilas, Illinois wing commander of the government controled private flying organization, announced yesterday at a meeting at Sky Harbor airport, Northbrook. On this basis 100 flights can be organized immediately, Vilas said, and within the next fortnight virtually every airman in the state may be enrolled.

Next step in the organization plans will be taken Friday when wing commanders from six states and numerous group commanders from this area will meet with Vilas at the offices of Lieut. Col. Floyd Evans, regional commander for the 6th corps area. This meeting at 20 North Wacker drive will be attended by Reed Landis, assistant to Maj. Gen. John F. Curry, national patrol head.

Part of yesterday's meeting was taken up by discussions of apparent confusion on the part of the state's pilots over the Civil Air Patrol and the Illinois air militia. The Civil Air Patrol is national in scope and is tied closely to the army air corps. In the future pilots from the CAP may be drawn for air corps duties which probably will not include combat.

Paroled Thief Is Held on New Larceny Charge

Edward Jadynak, 19 years old, recently paroled after serving part of a sentence for larceny, was held to the grand jury yesterday by Judge Victor A. Kula in Boys' court on a larceny charge. Jadynak was captured Saturday after a police chase. Two stolen electric toasters were in the car.

CONGRESS WINDS UP '41 BUSINESS; REOPENS MONDAY

61 Billion Dollar Session Ends Formally on Friday.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30.—The 61½ billion dollar first session of the 77th congress will adjourn sine die on Friday and the second session of the same congress will convene on Monday. Until Friday, congress will mark time under a gentleman's recess agreement.

The senate and the house today passed and sent to the White House a joint resolution providing that congress shall convene on Jan. 5 in 1942 and on Jan. 4 in 1943.

The 20th amendment to the constitution provides that congress shall meet each year on Jan. 3, unless a different day is appointed by law. Since Jan. 4 falls on Saturday in 1942 and on Sunday in 1943, the joint resolution was adopted to begin the sessions on Monday in each of those years.

The present session, which convened on Jan. 3, will close on the 365th day—one day short of the 1940 session of the 76th congress.

War Is Main Topic.

The closing days of this session of congress were preoccupied almost exclusively with issues growing out of the present war. The momentous question of American participation in the war was the subject of a controversy that may be described by future historians as the great debate. That debate was ended abruptly and congress was united to a degree unprecedented in American history when Japan attacked the United States on Dec. 7.

With only one disrenting voice congress voted on Dec. 8 to declare war on Japan. Germany and Italy declared war against the United States on Dec. 11 and congress responded in kind, unanimously, on the same day.

Future historians may date this country's actual if undeclared participation in the war from March 11, 1941, when President Roosevelt signed the lend-lease act giving him dictatorial control of the nation's material resources for the aid of nations fighting the axis powers.

Approved by Congress.

Congress approved the legislation after prolonged and turbulent debate.

Equally controversial were the act approved on Aug. 18 extending indefinitely the service of conscripts, National Guardsmen, and all other army personnel, and the act of Nov. 17 virtually repealing the neutrality law of 1939.

The neutrality repealer authorized the convoying of armed American merchant ships directly into the war zones and approved, in effect, President Roosevelt's announcement of Sept. 11 that American naval forces would shoot axis war craft on sight.

Congress followed its declarations of war against Japan, Germany, and Italy by authorizing the President to send citizen soldiers, as well as regular army personnel, anywhere in the world, and by extending the draft to where the nation eventually may have an army of 10 million men.

BROWNE, BIOFF SUED TO REGAIN EXTORT MONEY

$100,000 Fund Sought by Paramount.

New York, Dec. 30 (AP).—Paramount Pictures, Inc., today filed suit for $100,000 against William Bioff and George E. Browne, former union officials serving prison sentences for extorting $550,000 from four motion picture concerns, including Paramount.

The complaint, filed in federal court, said "the plaintiff, pursuant to demands of the defendants and under duress, paid to the defendants sums of money aggregating $100,000, which the defendants received and retained for their own use and benefit."

Sentenced After Convictions.

Browne, former president of the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employés, was sentenced to eight years in prison, and Bioff, Browne's personal representative, was sentenced to 10 years following their recent conviction here.

Paramount said the defendants' alleged demands were illegal and extortionate and were met by Paramount unwillingly as a result of "statements and threats that the defendants would cause a strike, or strikes, by plaintiff's employés."

Potential Loss Described.

The complaint said such strike action would have caused irreparable damage and loss.

At the time the alleged threats were made, the complaint continued, there were no labor disputes pending between Paramount and any of its employés, and "no claim was made by the defendants that there were grounds for a strike."

Bioff and Browne are in prison in New York pending their transfer to a federal penitentiary.

SOUTH HALSTED MERCHANTS LOSE CONTEMPT CASE

The Appellate court yesterday ended the five year fight of two South Halsted street merchants seeking to escape contempt of court sentences for violating an injunction which restrained them from soliciting customers on the street.

The court upheld sentences imposed Oct. 16, 1936, by Judge Harry M. Fisher in Circuit court against Charles Balkhoff, owner of a man's clothing store at 1218 South Halsted street, and his brother and business associate, Paul. Charles Balkoff was fined $250 and sentenced to 20 days in jail and Paul was ordered to pay a $250 fine.

The brothers had contended that the competition of other establishments forced them to violate the injunction, which was obtained by Edelmen Brothers, Inc., a woman's apparel shop at 1247 South Halsted street.

5 DESPERADOES SLUG ROCKFORD JAILER AND FLEE

Suspects in Holdup Use Smuggled Guns.

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 30 [Special].—Five desperadoes, using two smuggled revolvers, made a daring escape from the Winnebago county jail today after slugging the chief jailer and locking him, a jail matron and seven trusties in a cell corridor. The jail is on the fourth floor of the courthouse.

Tonight they were being sought thruout snow covered northern Illinois, and in Chicago. Because of the ruthless manner of their escape, and because two of them carried guns, they were described as unusually dangerous.

Two Are Ohio Fugitives.

The ringleaders were Robert Nicholson, 27 years old, and Edward Poppe, 24, both formerly of Cincinnati. Nicholson is said to be a fugitive from the Ohio state honor farm, and Poppe is a parolee from the Ohio state prison.

They were arrested in Chicago two months ago and turned over to Rockford authorities for the robbery of Muller's dairy. At the time of the arrest Chicago police described Nicholson and Poppe as "junior Dillingers."

Those who escaped with Nicholson and Poppe were Wayne Palmer, 17, Harry E. Smith, 18, and Richard Coates, also 18, all of Rockford. Smith was being held on robbery charges, Coates on burglary charges, and Palmer for commitment to prison as a probation violator. He is under a sentence of 1 to 20 years for robbery.

Escape Well Planned.

The escape of the five was well planned. Shortly after breakfast Nicholson, who was in the corridor, called to Chief Jailer Roy Higginbottom, 58. Also in the corridor were Palmer, Smith, and Coates. Poppe was locked in a cell.

As Jailer Higginbottom stepped up, Nicholson prodded him with a gun. The jailer, in spite of his astonishment, refused to back up. He struck Nicholson, then ran down the corridor toward the jail office to call for help.

Nicholson followed, joined by Smith, Palmer, and Coates. They cornered the jailer, gagged him with their hands and then knocked him unconscious.

Menace Matron with Guns.

Using Higginbottom's keys, Nicholson freed his pal, Poppe. Then the two, with the three Rockford youths, ran quietly to the nearby jail office. There they intercepted Mrs. Leila Piper, the matron, who had heard the commotion, and was about to telephone the sheriff's office on the first floor.

The desperadoes menaced her with their guns, then rounded up seven trusties. They locked these prisoners in the jail corridor with the unconscious jailer. The rest was easy. They rode down the small jail elevator to the second floor, then walked quietly down a little used rear stairway to the first floor and a side door.

AL CAPONE'S SON AND HIGH SCHOOL CLASSMATE WED

Miami Beach, Fla., Dec. 30 (AP).—The high school romance of Albert [Sonny] Capone and Diana Ruth Casey of Chattanooga and Miami Beach was climaxed today in their marriage before 300 guests in St. Patrick's Catholic church today.

The bridegroom's father, Al Capone, the former Chicago gang chieftain, and Mrs. Capone arrived just before the midmorning ceremony in separate cars. Mrs. Capone came with the bridal party and Capone followed in a few minutes with three men companions and a driver.

Miss Casey, 21 year old daughter of Mrs. Ruth M. Casey of Miami Beach and James F. Casey of Chattanooga, was given in marriage by an uncle. Young Capone and his bride were classmates at Miami High school.

Mrs. Manville No. 5 Breaks Leg While Skiing Near Reno

Reno, Nev., Dec. 30 [Special].—Bonita Edwards, who is Mrs. Tommy Manville, No. 5, suffered a broken leg late today while skiing on Mount Rose, 10 miles south of Reno. She has 20 days to go before filing for divorce and may spend most of that time in a hospital, according to her doctor, Dr. H. E. Lohlein.

INDICT MANGANO AND 7 OTHERS IN GAMBLING PROBE

Jurors Name Guzik Pal as Wire Tapper.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

The December grand jury, which has been investigating the syndicate gambling industry conducted in Cook county by old Capone gangsters, was reported yesterday to have voted indictments against eight men charging them with conspiracy to use tapped telephone wires in their horse race betting business.

Lawrence [Dago] Mangano.

Lawrence [Dago] Mangano, long known as a close associate of Jack Guzik and the other big bosses of the gambling rackets, was among those reported indicted. Much of the evidence against him was obtained in raids made on suites of offices at 624 South Michigan avenue. Syndicate records found there indicated that the Mangano division alone was earning profits of $100,000 a year.

Employed in "Nerve Center."

Named with Mangano, it was reported, were Thomas Stapleton and Henry Phillips, who were employed in his "nerve center" office at 59 East Chicago avenue; Charles and Julius Jacobs, brothers, and Al Gould, Leo Cooper, and Leo H. Brett, all of whom had suites at 624 South Michigan avenue.

The wire tapping indictments are expected to be returned in court Friday, after which the grand jury will be dismissed. In its investigation the body has examined hundreds of persons. It is possible that its members will make a detailed report of gambling and recommend that the January grand jury follow up the work.

Records Printed in Tribune.

In October authentic records of the syndicate's slot machine and gambling house receipts for July, covering suburban operations, were printed in THE TRIBUNE. They showed profits of more than $220,000 a month.

With this as a basis the November grand jury started an inquiry that has since prevented the operation of any open gambling in the county.

ASSESSMENT UP SLIGHTLY IN TWO CITY TOWNSHIPS

The 1941 real estate assessment for the first two townships completed in the city of Chicago is $223,834,385, an increase of 9/10 of 1 per cent over the 1940 assessment of $221,968,189, Assessor John S. Clark announced yesterday. The townships are Jefferson, with a 1941 valuation of $182,816,188, up $1,982,752, and Rogers Park, with an assessment of $41,018,197, a drop of $136,656.

This year's assessment for the 30 townships outside the city, as previously announced, is $357,663,722, up 1.8 per cent. The total increase for the 32 townships announced so far is $3,171,503. Clark estimated the realty assessment for the entire county, when completed, will show a gain of $17,500,000, or 1 per cent, because of new building.

The 1941 personal property valuation, however, was decreased by 77 million dollars, or 12 per cent as a result of recent state Supreme court decisions exempting properties which previously had been assessed.

Patriot Gets Probation for Remark About F.D.R.

Howard M. Jolly, 67 years old, 617 Madison street, was fined $200 and costs yesterday by Judge Lambert K. Hayes in the Desplaines street court for disorderly conduct. The fine was suspended and Jolly, a Spanish-American war veteran, was placed on probation. The prosecuting witnesses were two drinking companions who said Jolly had spoken harshly of President Roosevelt. Judge Hayes said all three were good patriots.

"Our Country! In her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be in the right; but our country, right or wrong."
—Stephen Decatur.

THE ECONOMY REPORT.

The country has a right to feel apprehensive over the 1943 budget that congress will receive soon, presumably next week. Apprehensions have been raised by the note that Harold D. Smith, director of the budget, attached to the report of Sen. Byrd's joint committee on nonessential expenditures. Mr. Smith, who had helped draft the report, explained that he did not sign it because he was also drafting the budget and could not sign a report that "may contain recommendations in variation therewith."

This could be a mere formality but it appears otherwise. Mr. Smith is the representative of the executive branch of the government. The executive departments have from the beginning been hostile to suggestions that many of their activities were nonessential to rearmament and are still less essential to the prosecution of the war. Mr. Smith's letter seems to say that they are still unwilling to relieve taxpayers, heavily burdened by necessary war expenditures, of the unnecessary load of their peacetime boondoggling.

The committee's present report is a preliminary one. This implies that further economies can be enforced in the ordinary expenditures of the government beyond the $1,131,075,000 in reductions already recommended. This is undoubtedly true and the committee will render further public service by continuing its investigations.

More than a third of a billion dollars will be saved if the CCC and NYA are abolished, as recommended. The usefulness of the CCC, which was not inconsiderable, is ended. Its members belong in the army or in defense plants. The NYA never gave value for the millions poured into it and recently was exposed as actually sabotaging the national defense in order to protect the jobs of the burocrats who run it. The quicker it is terminated the better off the nation will be.

The most controversial section of the report is that dealing with economies in the field of agriculture. Some of the committee members made reservations as to this section in signing the report. The economies recommended total more than $400,000,000. Another dissenter to this section was Secretary Morgenthau, who thinks the reduction should be at least $500,000,000.

Mr. Morgenthau makes the point that the farm share of the national income is 20 per cent greater this year than it was in 1932, altho the ratio of farm population to total population of the country is 10 per cent less than it was a decade ago. Others can make the point that while it may have been necessary to bribe the farmers to vote the Democratic ticket it is not necessary to bribe them to support the war.

Mr. Morgenthau's estimate of possible economies in the field of agriculture seems low to the staff of the Brookings institution, who recommended that agricultural appropriations be reduced by 625 millions. The Brookings report also points out the possibility, which must not be neglected, of salvaging perhaps a billion dollars from nonessential appropriations for the present fiscal year, which is at its halfway mark now.

It might be thought that deferment of many nonessential construction projects would be achieved automatically by the application of priorities on materials required. However, if appropriations are continued for these purposes it can be depended upon that the burocrats in charge of them will attempt to grab the priorities to the damage of the war effort. The safe method is to do as the Byrd committee recommends and cut out the appropriations.

Many things remain to be done. There is the subject of government press agents, a seemingly minor matter, yet they are wasting $30,000,000 a year. Adequate control over the government owned corporations that the administration has established is most important if democratic government is to survive. Once established, they are virtually free of congressional supervision. This should be remedied, as the committee recommends, and without delay.

Sen. Byrd and his fellow members have already done a most useful job. Our war necessities demand that congress adopt their recommendations in full. Opposition by the burocrats should be considered in its proper light—as an attempt to sabotage national defense in order to save special privileges.

THE PURPOSE OF JAP AIR RAIDS.

Submarines have sunk ships off our Pacific coast and their presence is suspected in the neighborhood of Atlantic ports. The Pacific coast has had a succession of air raid alarms and practice blackouts. It seems to be established that on at least one occasion there were Japanese planes over California.

Unless the purpose of these raids is recognized they will be successful in hampering our war effort to a serious degree. Their purpose is distraction. The navy can be expected to protect shipping in coastal waters as elsewhere, but unless the submarine warfare off our coast becomes more serious than seems likely from the naval resources of our enemies it will be a mistake to let public outcry divert too much naval strength from urgent tasks farther from our shores. Of the two diversions by the enemy the threat of air raids is the more dangerous, not because it threatens the greater damage, but because it may cause, as it is intended to cause, greater public outcry with consequent interruption of the real business of warfare.

The Pacific coast is highly excited over the danger of air raids. The results of this excitement have been so unfortunate that Rep. Carl Hinshaw, elected from Los Angeles county, found it necessary to arise in congress the other day to suggest that the mayor of New York return to his home city and practice his blackouts there. The practice blackouts in southern California, Congressman Hinshaw said, have already resulted in the loss of between a million and a million and a half man hours of labor, a large part of it on defense production. Mr. Hinshaw's objection was well taken. It is not that the Pacific coast is free of danger from air raids. It is in danger of such raids, at least on a sporadic basis, but that danger must be weighed against the interruption of our military production.

It is no novelty by now that the civilian population must in modern war accept many of the risks which formerly were confined to the armed forces. Every sensible precaution which will lessen casualties in the event of air raids must be taken, but some risks must also be taken. The purpose of the raids, if they come, will not be primarily to kill civilians but to inspire terror and interrupt production. It will be playing the enemy's game to divert hundreds of thousands of tons of steel, for instance, to air raid shelters when that steel should be used for weapons to strike the enemy and make it impossible for him to raid California.

The plane factories and other centers of essential munitions manufacture should, of course, be moved as quickly as possible to those parts of the country which are secure against raids.

AUSTRALIA'S PLIGHT.

Australia is outspoken in her demand for protection against the Japanese. Premier Curtin of Australia is profoundly disturbed. Australian troops have been sent by tens of thousands to fight in the Mediterranean area; their own country is now imperiled and lacks the means of self-defense. Sir Keith A. Murdoch, the head of Australian propaganda in London, has been writing letters to the Times which are critical of Mr. Churchill's disposition of the imperial forces and of his alleged unwillingness to admit the dominions to full participation in the making of war plans.

Any one who looks at the map of the southwestern Pacific can see for himself that there is nothing artificial in the anxiety of the Australians. The Japanese are making progress down the Malay peninsula toward Singapore. Our small and inadequately supplied army in the Philippines is on the defensive and has been obliged to yield ground. The Japanese have made some progress in Borneo and have attacked the Dutch island possessions. In a matter of weeks or months one or another of these operations is likely to prove successful and then the Japanese will be enabled to concentrate greater forces against the remaining defenders. If eventually the Dutch islands fall Australia will be next on the list. For the present, at least, the Japanese have control of the sea and air in the threatened areas and can move their ships and men from front to front almost at will.

The Australians feel that the direction of the war from London has underestimated their difficulties and needs. Lacking enough planes, tanks, and guns to arm the whole empire, the high command has concentrated its strength in North Africa and left Australia relatively unprotected. Mr. Churchill himself admitted that something like that had happened.

It is scarcely conceivable that the Australians are sufficiently alarmed to consider making a separate peace with the Japanese or would do so in any circumstances except utter defeat, but there is no doubt that Australia is looking today to America rather than to Britain for salvation. Australia is a long way from San Francisco, but it is even farther from London around the Cape of Good Hope. If it is true that the British government regards the axis powers of Europe as the prime enemy it is also true that the Americans share the Australian opinion that Japan is the principal foe.

America might find in Australia an advanced base for operations against the Japanese. If the Philippines, Singapore, and the Dutch Islands are lost, as may happen, Australia may be the only available territory from which to launch our counterattack. There is in that fact a solid basis for coöperation between our two countries.

THE CONDUCT OF THE WAR.

British censorship is tight but it recognizes certain limitations upon itself as necessary, and certain privileges and rights as essential. The government knows it is responsible to the country for the conduct of the war and the ministers expect to be asked in parliament for explanations, to answer questions, and to give information.

Sometimes Mr. Churchill will ask that a question be deferred or that a statement from him be postponed. The questioners, for the most part, are disposed to yield to the prime minister's discretion, but he is not allowed to feel that any phase of the war can be obscured or that any responsibilities can be avoided. This procedure is sound and it promotes national unity.

The assumption is not that a demand made upon the government or even a challenge to it is unpatriotic. It is understood that high sense of patriotism inspires the members, even when they take a critical attitude. Mr. Churchill was immediately questioned regarding the loss of the Prince of Wales and the Repulse and the demand was that he explain why greater protection had not been given the two ships. Some of the parliamentarians are not satisfied with the prime minister's statements and will press him further to account for naval losses in the Pacific.

Outside of parliament criticism has a wide range and is supposed to be beneficial to the national effort. It cannot give an enemy any satisfaction to know that its opponent is not trying to hide mistakes beneath official silence but is willing to learn in the school of error and to avoid costly repetitions.

The loyal citizens of a country at war all know that their first consideration should be for their armed forces. They will do nothing and say nothing which would increase the hazards of the armed forces or contribute to the success of the enemy. Such loyalty will impose its own discipline. To do otherwise would be contrary to the spirit and determination of the people themselves.

America knows it must win this war and the American government knows that a united people is behind it. The people do not ask for information which would be useful to the enemy.

Congressional inquiries into the war will take their proper form and will be conducted with a view to tightening the national defense, correcting any errors that are made, and bringing the whole strength of the nation into play.

LOYAL OPPOSITION.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Senators Brooks of Illinois, Taft of Ohio, and Bridges of New Hampshire have issued statements defining the need for a loyal opposition from the Republican side in congress. They say in effect that they have no thought that the minority should "attempt to run the war," but that its members should be on guard against inefficient methods and costly delays.

These three Republican senators take a stand which is altogether sound. Vigilance is always a need in congress, and it is a greater need now than ever before. Minority members can perform a distinct patriotic service—one which is less easy for senators and representatives of the majority party—thru criticism which is constructive and calculated always to improve the war effort.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

"RING OUT, WILD BELLS."

The title of today's column is, as every one ought to know, a phrase from New Year's eve's most famous poem—a passage in Tennyson's "In Memoriam." It refers to an English custom which has not been followed to any extent in the United States—prolonged "change-ringing" of church bells to salute the passing and welcome the newborn year. You will find this custom described, with complete technical details, in Dorothy Sayers' mystery novel, "The Nine Tailors." The "change-ringing" on New Year's eve in that story lasted for nine hours. The vibration of the bells killed a man who had been tied up and left in the belfry.

* * *

It is our impression that noise-making at midnight on this occasion has dimmed down during the last decade. The sounding of factory and locomotive whistles does not fill the vault of night with an awesome mystery of tone, as it did when this was a younger and livelier nation. The depression, you say? We think that the change is due to labor unionism and fewer night shifts of janitors, engineers and other fellows capable of blowing off large amounts of steam.

* * *

We have always regarded New Year's ceremonies in this country as inadequate. Certainly the Big Binge of the café celebrators is not a fitting expression of historical change. The old-fashioned custom of a series of social calls on New Year's day, with the gradual approach of alcoholic saturation, had its graceful and courteous aspects, until the visitors began to stagger; but it was empty of meaning. Eve or day, it is our opinion that New Year's is weak in symbolic recognition of its importance.

* * *

The reason, perhaps, is that it's a relatively new holiday. Its background of folklore is short. It inherits nothing from classic culture, and nothing from early Christianity. The Roman New Year was in March. In England until 1752 the civil and legal year began on March 25.

ODE TO A CHAMPION.

All hail to the name with a sock in each fist,
The name that makes Togo, von Bock, and von List,

Our champion's monicker echoes terrific . . .

Must quail as he hears of this doughty Dutch chap.

A Problem in Christmas Tree Disposal.

There is one hobby peculiar to this season that has received little mention: the collecting of discarded Christmas trees by boys. What primitive instinct prompts them I do not know, but the morning after New Year's finds them, singly or in gangs, roaming the back yards and alleys of any suburb. Gone is all thought of peace on earth, goodwill toward men. The hunt is on. Tally ho, the fir! Any fir that is not firmly anchored by its roots is pounced upon with glee and dragged home. When two gangs chance to meet and covet the same object well, might always was right.

Last year my two had a very successful season: an early foray netted them five lovely evergreens. I was called out to admire the spoils. "And now that you've got them, what are you going to do with them?" I asked. So we went into a huddle and emerged with the only logical solution: bird feeding stations. Unfortunately I was away from home for the next few hours. "We fixed 'em," Rich greeted me on my return. "That Parker gang can't snitch 'em from us."

Alas! Too true. One tree had been anchored to the roof of the screened porch, necessitating daily trips thru a bedroom window to tie on bread and suet. The second was lashed in the topmost branches of a tree of heaven so that some one had to shinny up the trunk with provisions. The third was chained to a porch pillar. How unfortunate that the key to the lock was lost. Numbers four and five were bound to the clothes pole with all the odds and ends of rope hoarded during the past year. Not even a sailor could untie that accumulation of knots. O, well, boys will be boys. But supposing that some day they should decide to collect reindeer instead?

PRAYER FOR WATCH NIGHT.

The new year opens now: a stainless page,
Unwritten yet. O, may its heritage,
When all its legends shall be there enscrolled,
Be fairer than the tale that now is told!
May lonely outposts searching in the skies
Find written there a happier surmise;
An end to doubt that tears at heart and mind;
A world kind . . . as the firmament is kind!
In every heart where faith, undaunted, yearns
Above its dreams, a Watch Night candle burns,
And by faith's quiet, quenchless light we dare
To pray, and know there's One Who heeds our prayer.
We take account of blessings, and confess
How little we have earned His will to bless,
When we consider the abyss between
The small good that we do, the much we mean.
And yet, within the hollow of His hand
He holds His children; He will understand.
And so we make our prayer as the first dawn
Proclaims a new year born—the old year gone:
O, bring back all the world to ways of peace . . .
There will be some year when all war must cease;
And for ourselves, now, as the New Year starts,
We pray fulfilment for our waiting hearts!

PHYSICAL PERFECTION FOR OUR YOUTH.

IT IS scarcely a matter of pride that the rate of rejection of drafted recruits has varied between 40 and 50 per cent. The reason is that the physical defects uncovered were incompatible with military service.

We may admit at the outset that the standards have been high and that critical checks have been made. It means, however, that the young man who passes has ample reason to congratulate himself on excellent health. Furthermore, the risk from the standpoint of Uncle Sam is greatly minimized. There will be fewer breakdowns.

Teeth appear to be the weak spot of American youth—with 20.9 per cent possessing unsatisfactory "ivories." A survey of the entire field discloses that most of those actually inducted need some type of dental care. Pyorrhea and inflammation of the gums contributed heavily to non-acceptance.

Defects of vision caused the refusal of 13.7 per cent. With this group the adjustment of properly fitting spectacles will save the majority for some useful work. Apparently the development of strain, using the eyes without glasses, inadequate nutrition, and poor light while reading have all played an important rôle.

Muscle or bone defects disqualified 6.8 per cent, ears 4.6, mental and nervous diseases 6.3, hernia 6.2, and venereal infections 6.3. The rise in syphilis and gonorrhea may be accounted for in part by more detailed tests. On the other hand, it is clear that the campaign of education must be maintained persistently if we are to rid the youth of the land of these loathsome ailments.

What can be done about those with anatomical defects, such as hernias? Complete rehabilitation, which can be accomplished with skilled surgery, is the answer. If the procedure cannot or will not be provided by the selectee himself, it may become a function of his community with government aid.

Venereal maladies are curable if taken in time. When we realize that 33 per cent of the Negroes in some of our southern states are afflicted the solution seems clear—namely, quarantine and scientific treatment. In the case of nervous and mental disturbances, however, a real problem exists. In some cases expert management will be restorative promptly. With others prolonged hospitalization may be required.

Quite apart from the health statistics disclosed by the emergency, the situation has allowed us to take an inventory of our young men who supposedly are in the prime of life. Eight hundred thousand deserve help. The doctor and dentist, working together, can do much. In fact, had good dental hygiene been practiced from childhood, approximately 200,000 would have avoided rejection.

The old adage that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure has never been more clearly demonstrated. While we are freer from infectious diseases than any other nation, perhaps we have paid little attention to physical perfection; to the criteria set for the fighting corps. The salvage of from one-half to two-thirds of those who were turned down must now become a national objective.

UNCERTAIN STEPS.

G. S. writes: I am 86 years old and, when out walking or climbing stairs, I have a feeling that I will fall on my face. What can I do?

REPLY.

"Wear" a cane. The act of walking is a succession of falls. We do not tumble actually because we advance the feet and legs. Your trouble may be circulatory, with too little blood to the balancing machinery.

MANY POSSIBILITIES.

W. R. writes: What causes feeblemindedness?

REPLY.

The exact cause is unknown. There are many theories and possible factors, such as the health of the parents, too many babies too rapidly, etc.

CORRECTING KING JAMES' SCHOLARS.

Chicago, Dec. 26.—I note on the first page of the Christmas issue of The Chicago Tribune the incorrect translation from the second chapter of St. Luke, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men." This is the translation as given in the King James version.

I have before me, as I write, a copy of St. Luke's testament printed in Venice in 1488, in which this verse is correctly printed, "Gloria in altissimis Deo et in terra pax hominibus bonae voluntatis."

The obvious translation of this is "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace to men of good will," which is something quite different from the translation as given in the King James version. In other words, unless all men give glory to God—and unless men are filled with good will toward their fellow men, there can be no peace on earth. "Peace and good will toward men" are not simply given to us—we have to earn them by our actions. This is a rather important distinction in these days of blind national animosities, and above all, it must be borne in mind if and when the terms of a peace treaty are drawn up—otherwise 1919 will simply be repeated.

JOHN J. FINLAY.

KEEP THE GUNS AT HOME.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 25.—I've said it before and I'll say it again, this good neighbor policy is fine, but when our soldiers, fighting for our country, must use obsolete materials or anything they can get to defend us, that's going too far. I know of an actual case where a soldier was given a piece of paper with the word "pistol" written on it. It must be very funny to the enemy, but not to those who are giving their lives so that we can keep the country we love.

Instead of sending all of our arms and equipment to our allies, for the love of every mother's son, let's keep at least one-third of it so that we may be victorious by next Christmas.

Draftee's Sweetheart.

AN IDEA FOR OTHERS.

Chicago, Dec. 24.—This week is our third anniversary and also Christmas, so the employés and employers of our firm decided to have a banquet, just as we have had every other year. However, when war was declared, we decided to give the money to the American Red Cross war fund drive. The employés gave at least 35 cents each and gifts of the employer made a total of $200. We are sure that it will do the Red Cross more good than a party would do us.

THE MASTHEAD SLOGAN.

Great Falls, Mont., Dec. 23.—Answering Marjorie Buetow's letter of Dec. 17 protesting against The Tribune's use of the slogan, "My country, right or wrong," and asking whether the teachings of Christ can be reconciled with that phrase, the answer is, yes, we can reconcile them. He said, "Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's."

TIRE THIEVERY.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—Now that tire restrictions are in order, let's enact a federal law making the stealing, handling, and selling of stolen tires a federal offense punishable by heavy fines and imprisonment. Offenders should be dealt with swiftly and severely.

Frank Forster.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—Widespread stealing of auto tires has begun as might be expected. In the days of the old west, horse stealing was punished by execution, not because of the enormity of the crime per se, but because such theft deprived the owner of transportation facilities upon which his life might well depend. With sudden and widespread destruction being wreaked upon populated areas, mobility of the family may well be vital. The theft of tires from cars, coupled with the impossibility of replacement, robs the owners of mobility and amounts actually to potential murder. The punishment of a tire thief or fence should be so swift as effectually to deter any one from taking advantage of the situation to make a little dirty money by stealing and bootlegging auto tires. Wayne Collins.

FROM A TIRE DEALER.

Chicago, Dec. 24.—Tires! That's my business. It has been for 16 years. Since December 11th we have not sold a new tire, as our government requested and we do not intend to sell any until Uncle Sam says we can. This is a hardship on us in the industry, but I want to put myself on record in saying that I think our government acted wisely in stopping the sale of new tires when it did. With rubber coming from the East Indies and being so vital to our defense and total victory, I believe our government had plenty of foresight in getting control of our rubber supply and controling the sale of tires. We can't help but win this war if all vital materials are as intelligently controled as rubber. As far as the sacrifice on my part in the program is concerned, it is small compared with the sacrifice our boys are making for their country. All I ask for is the chance to start again, when this war is over, in a world that will know no hate and where all men everywhere can live their lives in peace and worship God in their own way.

Every day I read of the Japanese coming into the territories on surprise attacks. What is the United States army doing? Why don't they turn around and face the heathen, instead of always turning their backs so they can be stabbed?

Carl Bralky.

FROM A FILIPINO.

Chicago, Dec. 26.—What Col. Muhlenberg said that brought about his arrest is what a good many of us say in private over the failure of this great country to provide ourselves before any other country with the best equipment. Common foresight would have indicated that, in a war with Japan, the Philippines would be the land battlefield and the Philippine army would receive the brunt of the attack. Every late report from the front brings to us the tragic result of failure to arm in advance.

The Filipinos can fight. There's no doubt about that. But, apparently, unless a military miracle happens, the Philippines will fall.

If we let the enemy win all the battles and reserve the last one for ourselves, we are giving him too much leeway toward winning the last battle, too.

RIDES FOR SERVICE MEN.

Tinley Park, Ill., Dec. 27.—I drive an oil truck on the outskirts of Chicago and can't help but see the way the people driving cars pass up our soldier and sailor boys who are trying to get to their homes. DIVISION OF ESTATE.

Ottawa, Ill., Dec. 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. My father died Oct. 12, 1941, leaving a will equally dividing the estate between my stepmother and I after all expenses and debts are paid. Should this will be probated?

2. Can she appoint herself administrator with it the will being probated?

3. How long after his death can this estate be settled?

4. Can she use what cash money there is on hand for her own personal use or after his death?

5. Did that close the estate, as she has means of her own? M. B.

1. Depends on the nature of the assets and on whether you can reduce them to possession without probate.

2. An administrator is appointed by the court. An executor is named in a will, but would need court confirmation in order to act officially. It is sometimes possible to dispense with probate if that is what you mean to ask.

THE TRIBUNE TRAVELERS' GUIDE

TRAVEL OUTLOOK FOR 1942 LEAVES EXPERTS IN DARK

Tourist Industry Active in Year Now Closing.

BY FREDERIC BABCOCK.

War scares and threats of gasoline rationing failed to put a quietus on the American travel industry in the year now closing. What the new year will bring—now that the war scares have given way to actual conflict, and rationing of such things as automobile tires is about to go into effect—is a matter that has all the experts guessing.

In the short time that has elapsed since this country entered the war, the tendency has been to proclaim that the national morale must be maintained and that the best way to do this is to keep the people happy by giving them frequent holidays, trips, and vacations. If this idea is made to stick, 1942 will see little or no curtailment in travel on this continent.

Other Side of Picture.

If, on the other hand, the government decrees that pleasure and recreational tours must be done away with in the interests of national economy, the tourist business will, of course, go into eclipse until the emergency is over.

Somebody in Miami Beach has thought up the slogan: "V stands for Vacation as well as for Victory." Most of the Florida hotel and resort owners profess to believe that business will continue to be good until at least the end of the present season. California is recovering from the initial shock and is reorganizing its campaign to go after the tourist dollars. Inland states, such as Arizona and New Mexico, are doing better than are the coastal states, where the fear of invasion or aerial attack is more pronounced. New Orleans has canceled its Mardi Gras, but this week it is jammed with visitors attracted by the Midwinter Sports carnival.

Facts and Forecasts.

Here are a few dispatches, combining facts and forecasts—and perhaps some wishful thinking—received by The Tribune travel department yesterday:

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 30 [Special].—"There is an old saying that all signs fail during a drouth, and that certainly would be true about making any long range forecast of what the tourist and resort business will be in 1942," Hugh J. Gray said today. "We have the usual hurdles of weather conditions and travel trends to consider, plus the factor of trying to determine what a wartime economy is going to do to our habits of life."

Mr. Gray, dean of the travel industry, has been in it ever since 1917, when, with America entering the World war, he organized the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association. Besides serving as secretary and manager of that body, he is now vice president of the National Association of Tourist Officials.

Recall First World War.

"Resort operators who have been at it for 25 years or more recall that business was good thruout the first World war," he said. "Many of them had their best seasons at that time.

"In 1941 the defense program began shifting us from a peacetime to a wartime economy. Early in the season some of the resort owners were afraid vacations would be curtailed or done away with, but we found this was not the case. Vacation schedules were changed, and the tendency seemed to be toward shorter vacations, more of them, and a lot of week-end travel, but there was no general letup.

"President Roosevelt, Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt, and others have emphasized the necessity of providing relaxation for those who must bear the brunt of the production burden. The President has told us to carry on in the usual way. To keep production and morale at the highest levels, the nation must maintain travel and vacation facilities. Otherwise, the human machines upon whom democracy depends will not be kept at their most efficient pitch."

Miami Crowds Large.

Miami, Fla., Dec. 30 [Special].—This resort is entertaining more guests than it had toward the end of 1940, and it plans to keep things moving for the first three months of 1942.

How the city officials view the situation was indicated in this statement, given out today:

"Miami's greatest asset to the nation in time of war lies in her ability to provide healthful entertainment, recreation, warmth, and winter sunshine to hundreds of thousands of visitors.

"We are adopting the lesson learned by London. Altho that city has received a terrific drubbing and experienced many blackouts, and does not know when attacks may again set in, her picture shows, night clubs, and legitimate theaters are drawing the greatest crowds in their history. London believes her people must have, in entertainment and recreation, a respite from their burdens."

St. Petersburg Active.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 30 [Special].—Acting on the theory that play periods and convalescent facilities in protected areas are vital to the health and morale of any soldiery, this resort in proceeding full steam ahead with its winter program of sports tournaments, social events, festivals, and outdoor entertainment.

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 30 [Special].—"Our first and most important job is to win the war, and, while the tourist business is an outstanding factor in Florida's economy, we don't want any person engaged in vital defense work to neglect it in order to enjoy our winter climate and recreational facilities," Harold Colee, executive vice president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, said today.

"We must, however, keep in mind that recreation is invaluable in counteracting the strain that war places on our nervous systems. Florida volunteers all its facilities for that purpose. We hope to help make America fit to fight. In the national defense program that is one phase in which we probably can excel all other states."

Sun Festival to Be Held.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 30 [Special].—Nearly all the events of southern California's All-Winter Sun festival will be held as originally scheduled. This was announced today by Don Thomas, managing director of the All-Year Club of Southern California and president of the National Association of Tourist Officials.

Of the 170 fiestas, civic parties, and sports events remaining on the 1941-'42 calendar only 11 have been canceled.

"In canceling such affairs as the Tournament of Roses," Mr. Thomas said, "southern California gave evidence of its wholehearted wish to cooperate with officials in avoiding abnormally large crowds.

"Relaxation and entertainment build the civilian morale that is essential in times of national emergency. Visitors to this part of the country will get both on our seashore and in our deserts, mountains, and valleys while attending our festival. They will see that Californians, as far from a major war zone as Chicago is from Moscow, are still going about their business as usual.

"Many of the festival's most interesting events will be held in the coming three months."

Arizona Resorts Busy.

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 30 [Special].—Southern Arizona, far removed from most of the scenes of wartime activity, is having a bumper crop of tourists. In both the Phoenix and Tucson areas the hotels and resorts report record breaking business.

Salem, Ore., Dec. 30 [Special].—Oregon's 1942 advertising campaign for tourists is being held up until war conditions become more stabilized. This action was recommended by the advisory committee of the state highway commission. The committee suggested that the advertising fund be left intact, so that the campaign can be started whenever it appears to be in the public interest.

This state's 1941 tourist industry reached the greatest volume in history. It scored an increase of about 15 per cent over 1940. Until the attack on Pearl Harbor, prospects for 1942 indicated an even better year.

New Orleans Makes Plans.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 30 [Special].—Altho the 1942 Mardi Gras will not be held, "the spirit of Mardi Gras will always pervade New Orleans," William G. Zetzmann, chairman of the convention and visitors' bureau of the New Orleans Association of Commerce, said today.

Beginning with the Sugar Bowl football game on New Year's day and the East-West game next Saturday, the season will be filled with sports and entertainment events. Horse racing will be held as usual, the New Orleans Open Golf tourney will take place Feb. 19 to 22, and the spring fiesta will be featured by concerts, operas, and tours of ante-bellum homes.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 30 [Special].—"The American railroads met the challenge in 1941. We are in trying times, and there will be darker days ahead. But we shall be on the job 24 hours a day to 'keep 'em rolling to keep 'em flying.'"

This was the summary of the views of W. M. Jeffers, president of the Union Pacific railroad, regarding the dying year and the year about to be born.

GAMBLING TRADE OPERATES ON BIG SCALE IN BRAZIL

At Least a Million Said to Contribute Daily.

BY ANTHONY PATRIC.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil [By Mail].—The average tourist who enjoys for the first time a few weeks in this attractive tropical country hardly gets to know that gambling constitutes Brazil's No. 1 racket.

Exceptionally well organized, this racket extends all the way from the Acre territory to the state of Rio Grande do Sul, on the border with Uruguay and the Argentine republic. It does not fear prosecution, and it is openly carried on, on a gigantic scale, under either the silent protection or the tolerance of the authorities. According to conservative estimates, at least a million Brazilians contribute daily.

"Official" Enterprises.

This figure applies, however, only to the so-called casinos—really gambling dens—scattered over most of the country. It does not comprise the army of citizens who patronize the federal and state lotteries which, while operated by racketeers, give the impression—especially to the tourist—that they are official enterprises. This is because of their pompous titles, such as "Lotteria Federal" and "Loteria do Estado Sao Paulo."

The government of this city boasts that right now the metropolis is free from consequences of the national plague known as "Jogo do Bicho" [The Animal's Game], or playing the numbers, as the game is known in the United States. This is true, as far as Rio de Janeiro is concerned. And it is true also that, among all the gambling games known in this country, the Jogo do Bicho was possibly the squarest. Persons betting on the animals knew that if they won hundreds of contos of reis the "bankers" would always pay.

They Cross the Bay.

But, since the Jogo do Bicho was barred from Rio, at Niterol, right across the bay, and in every other city of the state of Rio de Janeiro the game is flourishing. The "cariocas" who are unable to place their betting in the city ferry across the water or use the services of "secret agents" of the bankers of Niterol. Thus they beat the law.

Recently the backing of horses in Rio has taken all the characteristics previously enjoyed by the Jogo do Bicho. Luxurious places have sprung up all over the city and suburbs, and an enormous number of persons patronize them from Friday to Sunday.

MIAMI EXPECTING RECORD THRONGS AT ORANGE BOWL

Miami, Fla., Dec. 30 [Special].—War or no war, Miami is going ahead with its Orange Bowl festival. The celebration's backers insist it will attract record crowds.

A fashion show in Bayfront park this evening marked the opening. Tomorrow evening there is to be a King Orange parade, with scores of lighted floats, more than two score military bands, and several hundred Florida beauty contest winners.

On the morning of New Year's day the Orange Bowl handicap will be run at Tropical Park, and in the afternoon the University of Georgia and Texas Christian university football teams will clash in the bowl.

The festival will close Friday night with a marine circus, including motorboat maneuvers, exhibitions by water skiers and other aquatic experts, and fireworks, in Biscayne bay.

Dixie Tennis Champion to Be Picked at Tampa

Tampa, Fla., Dec. 30 [Special].—The Dixie tennis championship will be decided on the Davis Islands club's courts Jan. 5 to 11. Another event of tourist interest is the rodeo to be held at Arcadia, near this city, from Wednesday thru next Sunday.

Start Florida Open Forum at Daytona Beach Sunday

Daytona Beach, Fla., Dec. 30 [Special].—The 28th annual Florida Open forum will begin here Sunday afternoon and continue each Sunday until March 1.

4 Day Ski School Opens Tomorrow in Michigan

Ironwood, Mich., Dec. 30 [Special].—A four day ski school is to start at Mount Zion, near here, Thursday. Paul Stone and Karel Popelik are the instructors.

Manager, Retail Advertising
Chicago Daily Tribune
Chicago, Illinois

Dear Mr. McMahon:

We are authoritatively informed that our sales increase (of 33%), for the current season, is substantially ahead of the local average for men's wear stores generally .. and that the difference is even more pronounced when comparison is made with stores handling goods in our price brackets.

As virtually all our advertising appears in the Tribune .. and more of it recently than for a good many years .. I thought you would be interested to know of these gratifying results.

They are certainly convincing evidence that any advertiser, offering better-than-average merchandise, can secure a better-than-average response when he concentrates on the up-and-spending audience he reaches in the Tribune.

Cordially,

Eugene Barnhart

EMB:IL

P.S. Our November sales this year almost equalled our sales for December last year .. which I think you will agree is a retail record.

Shown in reduced size above are typical advertisments in the series placed by Capper & Capper in the Tribune—with the results reported in the accompanying letter.

HERE is the latest report of progress from Capper & Capper which since 1935 has built its advertising program around the Tribune.

In that year, Capper & Capper used 7,913 lines of advertising in the Tribune. During the first eleven months of 1941, the store stepped up its use of Tribune space to 17,036 lines.

This was 77% of Capper & Capper's advertising linage in all Chicago newspapers—and nearly four times as much as any other Chicago newspaper received.

When you can have more, why take less? Capper & Capper makes the Tribune the backbone of its drive for sales—with the results reported in the accompanying letter.

Scores of other merchants place major reliance on the Tribune and testify to the results with equal enthusiasm and satisfaction.

You can sell more by using the Tribune because the Tribune reaches so many more people. Every day of the week during November, Tribune circulation exceeded 1,000,000 total net paid.

This was from 605,000 to 635,000 more total daily circulation than other Chicago daily newspapers delivered. It was from 340,000 to 810,000 more than other Chicago Sunday newspapers delivered.

No matter what you are selling or to whom you sell, you can sell more by building your sales drive around the Tribune.

Strange Fabric and High Color in Spring Shoes

BY REA SEEGER.

Window displays of new footnotes, ready for the swoop down south, not only foretell the colors for spring and summer to come here at home but provide the most brilliant of color schemes to catch the wandering eyes of all shoppers. Snakeskin, for instance, in sulphur yellow, turquoise blue, and vermilion is something to startle the most phlegmatic soul. And no shivering little garden snake ever provided its skin for these new affairs . . . nothing short of the most exotic tropic serpent would do.

These are fanciful models for these days of dark, dull winter, but just what you need for your smart all-white clothes for a resort vacation in the sunshine. High heels, straps that cross and counter cross make them frivolously decorative. Besides the snakeskins of giddy color there are soft summer suedes in tawny shades of gold, and red or carbon blue. All of them are typically summer cut, with exposed toes, heels and even shank cut outs.

Equally brilliant in color are the swanky casual shoes with wedge soles and tailored bows over the instep. Brass tack trim outlines the bows and the soles; others with just the bows shining with the brass work. The colors are too numerous to list, but there's no difficulty in finding the particular shade you crave. They're gay, young, and festive, ready for daytime duty with street clothes, for sightseeing, lounging along the beach or with play clothes.

If you must stay at home, the annual shoe sales in almost all the shops and stores in Chicago assure some of the best finds of the year at reduced prices. One of the best between season shades for all purpose needs is smart taupe color . . . to wear with brown, red, navy, black, and green as well as all the clever pastels featured in suits and dresses. Both smooth kid, calf, and suede are available in this super flattering taupe.

BANK ROBBERY.

Jack understood that the $11,000 offered was not compensation for the loss of the farm but restitution of the money taken from the saddlebags at the Longhorn corral. He was to be bought off from prosecuting his father's killers by the return of the stolen money. In him there began to burn a bitter anger.

"I judge that Mr. Waugh is like other men," Edward said with a wise smile. "When he thinks this over he will understand that $11,000 is quite a lot of money. He can't go and pick it off cottonwood trees. I may say that this is in a sense a good will offering, a desire on our part to show that no ill feeling remains on account of this old trouble. We wish also by this gesture to show that we do not desire to profit by the misfortunes of others. That never has been our way."

Jack's eyes raked the man with cold scorn. He rose to his feet. "If you brought me here to bribe me with the money old Abner stole after having my father killed you might as well close this meeting. I would feel insulted if anything a Clinton could do would shame me. To keep from starving I would not take one of your dirty dollars."

The old man turned to his grandson. "See. I told you it was no use. The stubborn fool is asking for trouble."

Young Abner flushed. "You did not tell me you were going to offer him money. I suppose you and Uncle Ed cooked that up together."

Old Abner exploded. "I'm thru. He can get outa here. Let him go on and make all the war he can. See how far it gets and what it buys him."

The Texan spoke to Corbett Carey. "I'm sorry. You see it is no use. We can't find any common ground upon which to settle this."

"I think we can." Abner III. said. "If you and I get together in a room alone."

"No," his grandfather squeaked shrilly. "No more gab fests. You've tried, and you've got nowhere. I can promise the fool one thing. You won't be around next time when it's all set to send him to kingdom come."

Carey rose to go. "That's no way to talk, Ab. You don't mean it. I think with young Abner that if you had all been a little more patient you might have come to an agreement."

Waugh disagreed. "No. Fundamental difference of viewpoint. I'm going to the district attorney today—unless Parker and his friends stop my clock first." His scornful smile flung a challenge at the angry oldtimer.

"By crikey, I wish they would," old Abner tossed back in a high falsetto.

Jack turned to go, but stopped before he had taken two steps. The door had been flung open violently. A bookkeeper, pen still in hand, stood at the entrance. He was shaking with excitement.

"They're robbing the bank," he panted.

For a fraction of a second nobody moved or spoke. Then old Abner dragged open a drawer of the desk in front of him and seized a revolver.

"By God, I'll show 'em about that," he cried, and rose from his chair.

His son flung at him a warning. "Don't go crazy, father. The bank's insured." He stepped between the excited old man and the door.

"Consarn the insurance," shouted Abner. "No bunch of shorthorns can rob my bank while I'm around."

He pushed past Edward and thru the door into the lobby.

Jack Waugh followed him.

Peake leaned forward from the back seat of the car. "Did you notice that guy we just passed, Ike? It was that fellow Waugh."

"Yeah, I saw him." Parker half turned his head and spoke out of the corner of his mouth. "Forget it. We have got more important business on hand."

Chadron was driving the car. Shorty sat beside Peake on the rear seat.

"Who is Waugh?" Chadron asked, turning out of Lincoln street into another that led to Waterloo boulevard.

"He's the fellow who has been raising the devil in the Sweetwater valley. Clem and I would have bumped him off if young Clinton hadn't butted in on us too soon."

"He's a sure enough pain," Peake grumbled. "I'd like another crack at him."

"You won't get it. By noon we'll be hotfooting it outa her fast as we can travel."

"I'm knocking on wood," Shorty said.

"Don't worry," Parker told him. "This thing will go off like clockwork. We'll lie low when we get to the hide-out until the heat is off and then light out one at a time."

"If we get to the hide-out," Peake growled.

"You're the darndest wet blanket, Clem," Shorty chided with a grin. "We'll be hunky dory. Like Ike says. This is foolproof."

They ran along Waterloo boulevard and turned into a side stret. Here they parked the car, walked round the block to the next street, and got into a second car, one that Chadron had rented an hour before. Peake produced a bottle and passed it to Shorty, who took a nip. Parker declined. Chadron gulped down a stiff drink and Clem did the same. Both of them had already been building up Dutch courage by drags at the bottle.

"All right," Parker snapped. "Let's go. Remember, boys, no shooting. It won't be necessarry."

"So you say," Peake snarled.

"When holdups get jittery they start shooting and then there is the devil to pay. I say, no smoke, unless we have to fight our way out, and that won't happen once in 10 times."

By the way of Waterloo boulevard they returned to the business section of the city. Shorty Giddings and Clem Peake left the car just before it reach Lincoln street. At the post-office Chadron dropped Parker.

The latter looked at his watch. "In 10 minutes now, Chad. Drive up in front and wait for us. Keep the engine running. When we come out we'll be in a hurry."

Parker sauntered along the street. He had several minutes to kill, since he did not want to get to his appointment ahead of time. Twenty yards in front of him a young woman came out of a store. The outlaw recognized her at once and dived into the barber shop he was passing. He had no wish just now to meet Mary Lane, who might conceivably call an officer to arrest him.

"I'm looking for a fellow called Bill Johnson," he said to the barber at the front chair, his back to the door. "Some guy told me he hangs out around here."

The man with the razor furrowed his brow in thought. "Don't recollect anybody of that name." He called another man in the shop. "Jigs, you know a bird Bill Johnson who comes around here."

Jigs did not. Parker said he reckoned he must have misunderstood and picked the wrong shop. There was another one across the street in the next block, the barber explained.

"That's probably the one I want," Parker agreed.

When he reached the sidewalk again Mary Lane had passed and was moving down the street. He took the opposite direction. Presently he recognized a car parked in front of the First National bank. The engine was running idly. Chadron sat behind the wheel. Giddings and Peake were not yet in evidence, but he knew they would come round the corner any moment now.

There were plenty of signs of activity on the street. Men and women were going in and coming out of office buildings and stores. Delivery trucks, cars, and farmers' wagons moved up and down. No police officer was in sight.

Parker did not speak to Chadron. He gave him one swift nod, and busied himself looking at some papers he pulled from his coat pocket. This was a stall for time until his fellow bandits arrived. He lit a cigaret, just as the two for whom he was waiting came into sight.

"Let's go," he said, and flung away his cigaret.

They walked into the bank.

Good Morning!

"Ball of Fire"—or "Adventures in Slang."

So MIGHT the title of this very excellent comedy drama read. For the tale chronicles the remarkable experiences of eight staid college professors after S-L-A-N-G and a strip teaser enter their primly ordered lives and reduce same to a state of boogy-woogy-ism.

As the story opens these eight gentle souls are seen engaged on the compilation of an encyclopedia. . . . The work has been ordered in the will of a deceased toaster inventor who has died in a fine state of ire because his name has not even been mentioned in the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Chance conversation with a lush speaking garbage collector convinces Prof. Potts that his entry on slang is sadly dated. . . . Conscientious mortal that he is, he fares forth to bring his knowledge up to the minute from association with jive speakers who jitter in walks of life heretofore unknown to him—and lands himself in a fine mess!

To the lofty mansion of the one-time toaster inventor, where the work of compiling is being carried on, comes Sugarpuss O'Shea seeking sanctuary from police who would question her as to the whereabouts of her racketeer boy friend, Joe Lilac. . . . Sugarpuss is a night club entertainer. . . .

The elderly housekeeper is scandalized. But not so the screwy cherubs, who, one and all—ESPECIALLY Prof. Potts—adore the distracting stranger with her modern jitterbug talk and her boogy woogy dancing, in which art, and just to pass the time away, she instructs the professors. . . . She pretends that it is only to help Prof. Potts in his struggle with 1941 slang that she is there—and all believe her until—well—UNTIL . . . ! Until Joe Lilac needs his dame. He wants to marry her quick, as a wife can give no evidence against a husband. . . . Sugarpuss, aided by her eight old honeys, is able to get by the police and into Lilac's territory. But NOW she knows that all she really wants is just to be Prof. Potts' little woman at home. . . . Hully gee, what a predicament. . . .

See the picture for data on how right wins out in this particular instance, when the old ducks sing furious, and funny. And rather touching here and there. . . . For instance when the old ducks sing "Sweet Genevieve" . . .

Barbara Stanwyck never looked lovelier and is delightfully at home in the rôle of Sugarpuss. . . . Gary Cooper's adaptable personality molds easily into the character of the lean and lovable professor who learns from Sugarpuss that he's a male animal and not just a B-R-A-I-N. . . . I think you'll be charmed by every other member of the cast.

As for the story, I loosely quote Carl Sandburg. . . .

"It takes off its coat, spits on its hands, and goes to work. . . ."

See you tomorrow.

YWCA Will Conduct 4 Public Forums on Post-War Problems

In support of a program of its national leaders emphasizing the importance of preparing for peace in time of war, the YWCA of Chicago has completed plans for four public forums on postwar world organization. Beginning next Tuesday night, all are to be held at 8 o'clock on successive Tuesday nights in the Central Y at 59 East Monroe street.

The first meeting will bring as guest speaker William Diez, former director of the midwest office of the League of Nations association, who will discuss "Postwar Problems, Public Opinion and the Next Peace." The speaker will be presented by Miss Lilace Reid Barnes, president of the Chicago YWCA. At the head of the forum committee is Mrs. Leon Carnovsky.

Subjects for the following three meetings will be: "Economic Bases of Future Peace," "National Sovereignty and the Political Organization of Peace," and "How Will the War Shape Our Future?" Mrs. Carnovsky will name the speakers at a later date.

Pattern for Kittens

BY NANCY CABOT.

These seven kittens that are so enterprising are no relatives of the giddy creatures who lost their mittens. The hot iron transfer pattern for the days-of-the-week towels is embroidered in outline and measures about six inches when completed. If the days of the week are omitted, the motifs also may be used for pictures or a spread for a child's crib.

For the hot iron transfer pattern, No. 891, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Violinist Finds New Beauty in Bach Concerto

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Bach, like Shakespeare, is all things to all people. He is a magically sensitive person who has experienced nearly everything, either personally or vicariously. He is a genius who can express with an almost unexampled power all that he has learned about life. He is a craftsman who leaves students blind with astonishment and speechless with admiration.

It remained for Zino Francescatti, the French-Italian violinist, to discover that Bach is also an excellent showman. Rediscover, rather—for Bach himself was familiar with this aspect of his personality and many of his contemporaries [as well as a sprinkling of later musicians] were, too.

Mr. Francescatti played the A minor concerto in Orchestra hall yesterday with the Chicago Symphony orchestra under Hans Lange's direction, and touched off a demonstration remarkable for its length and loudness.

By using gleaming tone colorings and vehement tempos, and by emotionally supercharging his phrases, he made the concerto extraordinarily effective, but it is doubtful whether he departed far from its basic character in order to accomplish this.

Nearly everything he did is implicit in the music. He simply added emphasis. Only in his too headlong handling of the sublime parallel phrases in the last movement, and his too consistent use of a heavy bow and a piercingly brilliant tone in the first, did he open himself to the charge of having mistaken the composer's intention.

In addition to the Bach, Mr. Francescatti offered Ravel's overheated little Tzigane and succeeded in making it believable while it lasted.

Mr. Lange and the orchestra began the program with the Handel overture which Franz Wüllner manufactured from a fragment of the older composer's "Fireworks" music and a movement of a certain D major concerto. That the work was done lovingly and understandingly and that the result is something to fire the heart, generations of concert-goers can testify.

The Handel piece led to Brahms' second symphony, the more song-like episodes of which Mr. Lange and his forces performed with an unusual intensity and poignancy. The afternoon's other purely orchestra item was Ravel's "Mother Goose," played with a discretion that did justice to the piece's Gallic exactness and gentle humor.

N. Y. Screen Critics Name 'Citizen Kane' Year's Best

New York, Dec. 30 (AP).—The New York film critics announced today that they had chosen "Citizen Kane" as the best motion picture of 1941. They picked Gary Cooper for the year's outstanding male performance in "Sergeant York," and Joan Fontaine for the best female performance in "Suspicion."

Looking at Hollywood

—By John Chapman—

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 30.—Women are nice—but men are better. The babes are attractive and their pictures are good things to paste in the locker or tack up on the wall—but the guys are money in the bank. The honeys get most of the publicity—but the fellas rule at the box office. There's always room at the top—but it's always gents' room.

I'm not trying to pick a fight. I'm just adding up what I learn from the Motion Picture Herald's annual exhibitor poll, which names the Big Ten of the box office. Only two women, Bette Davis and Judy Garland, rate in this charming circle, and they rank eighth and tenth, respectively.

Another exhibitor poll, conducted by the Showmen's Trade Review, gives the dames a better break, listing eight females among 17 top stars—but only four of them are in the topmost 10. Judy Garland, Dottie Lamour, Bette Davis, and Alice Faye come in third, sixth, eighth, and tenth, respectively.

Hollywood is a man's world, mates. If you count Mickey Rooney as a man, and I guess you should because he was 21 not long ago. Mickey leads both polls.

Why should this be? When you think of Anne Sheridan's oomph and Grable's legs and Lamour's sultry gaze and LaMarr's fabulous beauty and Garbo's vitamins—why should Rooney and Gable and Autry rate at all?

When you ask this question in Hollywood you get many answers—and all of them may be wrong. Nobody has yet dared say that men are better actors than women. The stock answer is, "The movie audience is dominated by women, and naturally the dames go for the men." I think this is wrong on two counts. In the first place, Mickey Rooney is probably the only American who considers Rooney a romantic figure, yet he has been leading box office lists for years. In the second place, I don't think women rule our moviegoing habits.

No, sir, women don't rule the box office, either as stars or as customers. You can push a man just so far, and every time he can he'll pick his own movies. Why do you suppose Gene Autry has been up at the top these last two years? Because he's romantic? Naw! It's because several million young American males like him, and like his pictures because they don't have any of this love and mush stuff.

The top 10 in the Herald's poll are, in order, Rooney, Gable, the team of Abbott and Costello, Bob Hope, Spencer Tracy, Autry, Gary Cooper, Bette Davis, James Cagney, and Judy Garland. In the Trade Review poll they are Rooney, Gable, Garland, Tracy, Autry, Lamour, Abbott and Costello, Davis, Hope, and Alice Faye. Who, among the men, are romantic? Being of the male persuasion myself, I can give only a second hand opinion—and that is that only Gable and Cooper are. Men's box office strength, therefore, does not come from feminine support alone; it comes from us guys.

BOOKS

Carl Carmer's Fiction Woven with Fine Skill

"Genesee Fever," by Carl Carmer. [Farrar & Rinehart, $2.50.] Published Monday. January choice of the Literary guild.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

The author of "Stars Fell on Alabama" and "Listen for a Lonesome Drum," fascinating searchings into the folklore of American districts, has now for the first time put his gift of unearthing factual lore into a fictional work. His fiction sounds just as factual as his former factual books sounded fictional. Carl Cramer is a born story teller, and with a born story teller both fact and fiction are gay colored threads in his weaving.

"Genesee Fever" is a tale of upstate New York—part of the background of "Listen for a Lonesome Drum"—to which Nathan Hart, young former school teacher, whisky rebellion agitator, and painter, flees and where he finds adventure, fortune, and love.

On the banks of one of the Finger lakes, under the guidance of the aristocratic land agent, Capt. Williamson, grows up a community at first settled by Germans, "scum from the gutters of Hamburg," under a leader sly, treacherous, and barbarous, and later peopled by aristocrats from the south with their slaves. A French theater incongruously blossoms in the wilderness and the great Genesee fair, with its spectacular horse racing.

Nathan, symbol of the democratic ideal as opposed to the aristocratic assumption of superiority, is as proud of being a good farmer as he is pleased at painting portraits. About him a gaudy scene is spotlighted by the Publick Universal Friend, a religious woman violently opposed to human love; Peregrine Fitzhugh, who brings 50 of his slaves from Maryland to set them free and up as farmers in Genesee county; Catherine O'Bail, better educated in Philadelphia and even more beautiful than the famed Eleanore Fitzhugh; little Whirl Grass, passionately devoted to Nathan in or out of his cups, and a panorama of historical figures, the best known of whom is Aaron Burr, already openly talking of the secession of aristocratic states from the plebeian.

The period of "Genesee Fever" is 1793-'96.

Pleasant Reading

"Spring Magic," by D. E. Stevenson. [Farrar & Rinehart, $2.50.] Published last Friday.

Three blitzes are the dramatic resolvers of the otherwise quiet and gentle life of the heroine of "Spring Magic." The first, in London, helped her escape a life of gilded drudgery with a spoiled and crochety aunt. The second, in a little Scotch seaboard town, wasn't so fortunate, because it threatened to blast away a tender little love affair. But the third, which was as violent and as devastating as bombs and fire near a munitions work could be, was strangely the best thing that ever happened to Frances, because—well, you'll not have too hard a time guessing why.

"Spring Magic" is as gentle and as simple and as cheerful as any of Miss Stevenson's well known "Miss Buncle" series, even tho it is, like "Mrs. Tim of the Regiment," etc., about life among soldiers and has bombs and war as the offstage noises. Pleasant her books always are, and little more, but any one can do with a spot of pleasantness these days.

Davies Writes Inside Story of Stay in Russia

"Mission to Moscow," by Joseph E. Davies [Simon & Schuster, $3.] Published Monday.

BY GEORGE SCHARSCHUG.

Mr. Davies served as United States ambassador to soviet Russia from the end of 1936 to the middle of 1938. He took a leading part in the diplomatic and social activities of Moscow. However, it was not until the day he called at the Russian foreign office to say his official farewells that he met Josef Stalin, the real ruler of the vast empire of the Reds.

Mr. Davies tells of this first "opportunity to study the man at close range" in a memorandum to the state department, dated June 5, 1938. His description of his unexpected meeting with the Russian dictator, which took place in the office of Vyacheslav Molotov, who was then premier, is one of many striking bits of information which Mr. Davies is able to reveal.

The book is made up of confidential dispatches to the state department, official and personal correspondence, and entries from his diary. Because, according to Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, publication of the confidential reports was "definitely in the public interest," the state department broke all precedents by permitting Mr. Davies to use the documents.

The former ambassador has woven the official dispatches and his personal correspondence and comments into a vivid inside story of Russia from the days of the widely publicized treason trials and the Red army purges up to the beginning of the Nazi-soviet war.

It is a rather difficult book to read, yet seldom dull. It should prove of great value as a reference book.

Authors and Their Work

The most amusing and novel of this year's Christmas greetings to your literary editor came from the author of "The G-String Murders." It was a hand stereoptican machine with a roll of film entitled "Gypsy Rose Lee Presents the Difference Between a Strip Tease and a Tease," followed by 14 photographs, three dimensionally lifelike, of the artist of the strip tease captioned by the artist of the literary teas. Which reminds me that a series of letters which Gypsy Rose Lee wrote to her publisher about "The G-String Murders" is in the archives of the Library of Congress as memorable examples of American humor.

When Andre Maurois was in Chicago recently he told us about one of France's greatest novelists who has one can of sardines locked away in a safe which he takes out now and then, smells, and then locks up quickly lest he be tempted to open it. He is saving it against the day when it literally may save the life of his family, and that day he feared was not far off. They had, he wrote M. Maurois, a loaf of bread some mornings, not all mornings, for their day's needs.

George Stewart, author of "Storm," was stalled in an automobile in the middle of the Painted Desert when his publishers tried to reach him to tell him that the Book of the Month club had chosen his novel for December. They got hold of him by a wire phoned from Gallup, N. M., to a souvenir shop in the Hopi reservation. Both the phone operator at Gallup and the owner of the trinket emporium were subscribers to the Book of the Month club and they found him for good old Siwash.

U. S. Acquiring Rare Books as Result of War

America is becoming ever more important as the repository of rare books as European prices are forced down by the pressure of war, members of the Bibliographical Society of America said yesterday at their semi-annual meeting in the Newberry library.

"In the catalogs we still receive from famous English booksellers we find we can buy items for one-fourth and one-fifth of the prewar prices," said George B. Utley, librarian at the Newberry.

In the sort of reverent silence one encounters at Lincoln's tomb, bibliographers from thruout the nation stood before such first editions as Shakespeare's First Folio, Edmund Spenser's "The Faerie Queen" [1590], Christopher Marlowe's "The Jew of Malta" [1633], Milton's "Paradise Lost" [1667] and his first collection of poems [1645].

Other books on display included the first printed edition in Greek of Aristotle [1495], the first printed edition of Homer in Greek [1488], and a German "block book" published in 1470, in which words were "ballooned" to pictured characters, resembling our modern comic strips.

There is a first edition of the King James version of the Bible [1611] and original manuscripts of some of Robert Burns' poems and Johann Sebastian Bach's music.

On display is the collection of calligraphy assembled by the late C. Lindsay Rickets which was acquired by the Newberry library this year. In it are the first published book on learning to write, printed from wood blocks in Rome in 1522, and the first writing book published in America, by John Jenkins in Boston [1791].

A growing treasury of the earliest books relating to the new world is represented. There is the volume which first named the new found land America, published in Latin by Martin Waldseemuller [1507], the first edition of Columbus' letter to the Spanish Crown Treasurer, printed in 1493.

The first Bible printed in America is there, a translation to give Christianity to the Massachusetts Indians [1661]. Bibliophiles also can see the first Bible printed in a European language in this country [Germantown, Pa., 1743]. There is the first English Bible printed here [Philadelphia, 1782].

"Collecting is not a rich man's hobby," Forest H. Sweet of Battle Creek, Mich., a dealer, told the bibliographers. "Few are rich and famous. I know 200 personally and twice that number thru letters who are of modest means—salesmen, druggists, teachers, and even four WPA workers.

"Buying historical items is no different than buying groceries. My average sale is under $2.50."

Dramatic Account Given of British Navy's War Role

"Rule Britannia," by Cecil King. [Studio, $4.50.]

This is a sort of supertext book on the British navy's rôle in the war, except that it is far more interesting than any actual text. The author, who has written previous works on the royal navy, tells of submarines and mines, the fleet air arm blockade and commerce raiding, and of the navy's work in the oceans of the world.

He describes the gallant end of the Rawalpindi, armed British merchant cruiser which took on the German pocket battleship, Deutschland; of the heroic rôle of the Jervis Bay, and of the well planned and executed battle which crippled the German Graf Spee off Montevideo.

Also recounted are the tracking down of the Bismarck, which sank the Hood; the various defeats of the Italian fleet, and dozens of other actions under, on and over the seas. The work is profusely illustrated with photographs and by famous marine artists. It is invaluable for historical background as well as for behind the scenes details of action in the present war.

Society to Ring in New Year at Parties Tonight

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE reports are that there will be much whoopee to greet the New Year in restaurants and cafés, but fewer clubs are planning celebrations and there are not nearly as many private parties scheduled as in peace time. The dinner-dance that Gen. and Mrs. Robert E. Wood will give at the Shoreacres club for their daughter, Mrs. Wood Tullis, and her bridegroom of tomorrow, William H. Mitchell, will be the largest private affair in social circles tonight. In adult circles, that is, for the Junior Assembly at the Casino will be the tops as to size. The Woods have invited about 125 to assemble for dinner at 10 o'clock.

There will be four times that many boys and girls dancing at the Junior Assembly tonight. The debutantes, no doubt, wish that they were not too old to be invited, for no deb party is scheduled. Girls are invited for the first time to an Assembly when they are 15 and when they reach debutante age they are dropped from the list. Boys from 16 until they are college seniors are included.

Among those who are giving dinner parties before tonight's Assembly are Mr. and Mrs. G. William Reynolds, who will entertain at the Pump room for their daughter, Margo, and the Robert Hixons, the George F. McLaughlins, the Richard Mabbatts, and Mr. and Mrs. Mason Phelps, who will give a party at the Casino for their children, Joan Hixon, Patricia McLaughlin, Mary Mabbatt, and Marion Phelps.

Onwentsia Club Will Be Scene of Watch Parties.

The Onwentsia club is to be the scene of several watch parties, but no club party has been arranged. Some of the group that used to give a costume party at the Racquet club each New Year's eve will meet at the Onwentsia this year. The young women who arranged this party have evolved a novel, if somewhat involved, method of getting together and of acquiring costumes. Couples will meet at various houses, where cocktails and costumes will be provided for the guests, but in each case there will be no hostess present, for she will be a guest elsewhere. The Michael Cudahys, the Sewall Gardners, and the Gordon Kelleys are some of those who will enjoy this party.

The Racquet club is having no party tonight and neither is the Tavern. Mrs. Emmons Blaine is not giving her customary New Year's supper-dance for her granddaughter, Miss Nancy Blaine, because Mrs. Blaine is in mourning for her brother, Harold F. McCormick, and because she is up to her ears in war work.

Saddle and Cycle Club's New Year's Party Is On.

The Saddle and Cycle club's New Year's eve buffet dinner and dance was on, then it was off, and now it is on again because so many members complained when the committee decided not to have the party because of the war. Among those who will have guests tonight are Mr. and Mrs. Hopewell L. Rogers, John A. Graham Jr., the John Roots, and Robert Spiel. The William B. Johnsons have gotten together a Dutch treat table.

The Franklin P. O'Briens, the Edwin Fords, and the John Searles have arranged a Dutch treat party for the Glen View club tonight. Miss Barbara Boettcher and the L. Gifford Gardners also will entertain at this club. The Exmoor club is having its regular New Year's eve party with cocktails and hors d'œuvres from 9 to 10 and dinner from then until midnight. Mr. and Mrs. Jerome P. Bowes Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Theodore C. Butz, the Francis M. Knights, the Dean McCormicks, the Howell Murrays, and the Wallace M. Barkers will be among those entertaining at this club.

Private Party Planned at Indian Hill Club.

The Leslie S. Gordons have been in charge of arrangements for a private party to be given at the Indian Hill club, which is not having a club affair tonight.

The Clinton Kings are among those who have invited friends to drop in after 10 tonight to greet the new year more or less quietly at home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lord King will have a group for cocktails at their home in Lake Forest, after which all but the hosts will move on to the R. Douglas Stuarts' farm northwest of the village for dinner and sleigh riding, if there is enough snow. The Kings have a new baby, their third, so they are pretty much confined to their home these days. In the group will be the young Stuarts, the William S. Norths, the Dutton Morehouses, and the Burke Williamsons among others.

In keeping with the unusual dinner parties which the W. Irving Osbornes of Lake Forest always give on New Year's eve, their guests tonight will come dressed as they expect the new year to affect them.

Wilbur Calhoun Smiths Will Be Hosts at Home.

Every one who appears at the Wilbur Calhoun Smiths' house in Lake Forest tonight will be carrying a package, for each couple is to provide part of the refreshments for this merry get-together. The crowd will assemble for bridge about 9 and supper will be served at midnight. Some of those in the group are the Charles H. Browns, the Robert N. McCrearys, the Charles Kerwins, the Waldo Allens, the Randolph Owsleys, and the Robert Cartons.

One hundred friends who always gather in the Philip W. Moores' home in Winnetka on New Year's eve will have their customary reunion there this year. The party will start at 8 o'clock with a supper to which each of the guests has contributed something. The group will disband shortly after midnight.

One of This Season's Attractive Debutantes

The Christmas trees in this picture would indicate that it was taken recently, as it was. It was taken on Christmas eve, the day Miss Betty Buck made an informal debut at a luncheon at the Yar. Mr. and Mrs. James R. Buck of Lake Forest had planned a tea for Dec. 21 as their daughter's formal presentation to society, but when the war started they canceled this plan and substituted a less formal party. Susan Wheeler Engaged; Other Announcements

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wheeler of Geneva, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Haynes, to David Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Arnold of Staten Island, N. Y. Miss Wheeler, who is in her senior year at Smith college, is a graduate of the Milwaukee-Downer seminary. Mr. Arnold was graduated from the Lenox school in Lenox, Mass., and from Haverford college.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sinding of Kenilworth announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie Rennord Sinding, to Robert Rennord of Cleveland, O. Mr. Rennord is the son of Mrs. Hjordis Hansson of Chicago and of Emil P. Rennord of Chicago. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. George William Walsh of Evanston have announced the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Lindsley, to Hugh John Hagemeyer Jr. of Kingsport, Tenn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hagemeyer of Detroit, Mich. The announcement was made at a cocktail party on Saturday in the Walsh home. Mr. Hagemeyer Jr. was here for the party, as was Miss Walsh's college roommate, Miss Dorothea Ortmayer of Milwaukee, Wis. Both Miss Walsh and Mr. Hagemeyer were graduated from the University of Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Steere of Dune Acres, Chesterton, Ind., announce the engagement of their daughter, Martha, to Russell Miller Baird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Baird of River Forest.

The engagement of Miss Helen Ruth Price to Kenneth H. Lane has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Price of Merrill avenue. Mr. Lane's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hubert O. Lane of Kingston avenue. Miss Price was graduated from the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Lane attended the University of Chicago.

At a cocktail party on Christmas eve Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge H. McNeill of West 101st street announced the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie Ann, to Alan Young Lidster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Lidster of South Damen avenue. Both Miss McNeill and Mr. Lidster were graduated from Denison university.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Smith of North Paulina street announce the engagement of their daughter, Katherin Eloise, to Lyman W. Wilson. The marriage is planned for next summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fitzgerald of Kimbark avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Marie Adeline, to George W. Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hanson of Kenwood avenue.

Mrs. Jene Cortes of North Ashland boulevard announces the engagement of her daughter, June Malcolm, to William Byron Latta, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Wellman Latta of North Winchester avenue.

Housing Group to Meet.

The women's joint committee on adequate housing will hold a meeting at 10 o'clock Friday morning at the Chicago Woman's aid, 185 North Wabash avenue.

THRU THE LOOKING GLASS

If you feel bushed from all the holiday excitement, to say nothing of the undercurrents of strain that are anything but holidayish in character, here are a few tricks that will fool your New Year's eve public into thinking that you feel fresh as a daisy . . . They'll help you look that way, at least.

Allow yourself about an hour to rest and dress. Take your bath in warm, not enervatingly hot, water and make it rather a leisurely one, with lots of cream on your face and neck. Finish off with cold water and then lie down for about 15 minutes.

These 15 minutes are important. Make your mind a blank, if you can, since mental relaxation is absolutely necessary to the kind of physical relaxation that makes muscles floppy as spaghetti. One excellent trick for this little rest period is to raise your feet higher than your head. Put pillows beneath your hips and legs so that you have a reversal of circulation. This does wonders not only for the way you feel but actually for the way you look. There'll be a little glow to your skin that will endow it with an enviable radiance.

If your eyes are tired use eye pads while you're lying down. Some of those medicated pads, wrung out in warm water, do a great deal for restoring brightness that has vanished after a day's wear and tear.

At the end of 15 minutes have your rub down with your favorite cologne; take the cream off your face and makeup as deftly and carefully as you know how. Remember that a little eye makeup will make you look less dim and that a good foundation will keep your face makeup fresh far into the night!

Unfortunate Couple Need Furniture to Help in New Start

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Perhaps some of our readers who live on the south side of the city can help make life a little easier for a couple who are struggling to achieve and maintain independence.

"Dear Miss Brown: Do you know of any one who has a kitchen or dinette set and a couple of rockers to give away?

"We were on relief and lost almost everything we own. My husband underwent two severe operations, and because he still is physically handicapped he can no longer do hard work. However, he has found some employment, which pays a very small wage, and we are no longer receiving public aid.

"We recently rented a room for which we pay $10 per month, unfurnished.

"The janitor in the building let us use some chairs and a card table, but they must be returned very soon, as he has need of them. If any of your readers could contribute the above mentioned articles we would be most grateful. MRS. M."

Many homes in the city are overcrowded with furniture of various kinds. Several chairs and a small table would help to make this couple happy and comfortable. The name and address will be supplied to any reader interested in aiding them.

Group Quotas for Red Cross Drive Assigned

Organization of the Chicago Red Cross war relief drive was speeded yesterday by the assignment of 17 more group quotas aggregating $962,500 in the industrial division. Thirty-two quotas totaling $1,673,000 have now been assigned in the campaign, according to James B. Forgan, chairman. Chicago's quota in the $50,000,000 national drive is $3,750,000.

High quotas set yesterday were: Mail order firms, T. J. Carney, chairman, $180,000; machinery group, Sydney G. McAllister, chairman, $144,000; electrical companies, Fred Whiting, chairman, $140,000; food products, John Brennan, chairman, $100,000; insurance companies, H. A. Behrens, chairman, $80,000, and graphis arts, John F. Cuneo, chairman, $75,000.

Other quotas were: Finance companies, Walter E. Heller, chairman, $13,000; furniture, Jack Schram, chairman, $30,000; hardware and sporting goods, Charles J. Whipple, chairman, $35,000; heating and plumbing, J. H. Collier, chairman, $44,000; hotels, Edward T. Lawless, chairman, $15,000; ice cream and milk, F. J. Bridges, chairman, $22,500; investment bankers, Harold L. Stuart, chairman, $26,000; laundries and linen supplies, no chairman appointed, $12,000; leather, William B. Eisendrath, chairman, $12,000; lumber, Harry Joseph, chairman, $16,000, and engineers, L. H. G. Bouscaren, chairman, $18,000.

Miss Harriet McLaughlin, who organized the Red Cross Motor corps here several months ago, recently named chairman of the women's division, announced the appointment of the following vice chairmen: Mrs. E. Harris Brewer, Mrs. Henriques Crawford, Mrs. Ira Frank, Miss Louise Lehman, Mrs. Herbert Mayer, Mrs. King Mitchell, Mrs. Howard V. O'Brien, Mrs. Clive Runnells, and Mrs. Franklin Snyder.

Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy is honorary chairman. Mrs. Runnells and Mrs. Mayer head the north side section, and Mrs. Snyder the south. Mrs. Mitchell is general chairman of the suburban committees, with Mrs. Thomas A. Connors and Mrs. Clarence Prentice as vice chairmen.

The women's division has a quota of $250,000.

Cook county hospital employés other than physicians and nurses contributed $902 thru Dr. Ole C. Nelson, assistant warden, in the office of Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board. Fred L. Mills, president, contributed $1,000 for the Mills Novelty company.

The Bundles for American Bluejackets organization, which is campaigning for warm knitted garments for the navy and marine corps, moved from the Palmer House yesterday to larger quarters at 333 North Michigan avenue.

Letters of thanks from sailors of the 9th naval district for 8,000 gift stockings distributed by the organization poured into the headquarters yesterday.

'Rouge et Noir' Given Revival by Ballet Russe

BY CECIL SMITH.

In the pressure of an engagement limited to a single week, some of the most attractive exhibits in the repertory of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo cannot receive the prominence they deserve. Because it is necessary to give adequate representation both to the season's novelties and to the popular pot-boilers that keep the box office healthy, some of the major masterpieces are presented only once, while others are left out altogether.

Take the case of "Rouge et Noir," which received its sole performance of the year at the Civic Opera house last evening. Here is the climax, so far, in Leonide Massine's series of symphonic ballets, and a work of enduring and important artistic value. Yet it must be pushed out of the way in favor of "Labyrinth," a composition much less successfully put together, simply because "Labyrinth" must be offered to several audiences in order to begin to pay back its production cost.

But these are details of management, and hardly any of my business. And certainly last night's revival of "Rouge et Noir" was something to be grateful for, even if Tamara Toumanova did not efface memories of Alicia Markova, and even if the corps de ballet was a bit less secure and precise in the exacting counterpoints of movement than it once was.

"Rouge et Noir" profits from the use of Shostakovich's first symphony, a score far less rigidly patterned in absolute musical terms than the Schubert C major, which is the music for "Labyrinth," or Beethoven's seventh symphony, where each movement lasts too long for Mr. Massine's fund of dance materials. One almost wishes that Shostakovich had intended his symphony for ballet purposes, since it never sounds very interesting by itself any more.

Against the superb Matisse setting, with its bold arches and sharp thrusts of black and white and primary red, blue, and yellow, the dance patterns of "Rouge et Noir" attain wonderful and continuous clarity. The economy of the settings and costumes suggested a similar economy of treatment to Mr. Massine, who allows most of the subject matter to be presented by a limited number of dancers at a time, thus avoiding the surfeit of swirling masses which harmed his earlier symphonic ballets.

Igor Youskevitch danced most poetically, and Frederic Franklin dealt crisply with the effective eccentricity of his part. Both dancers also distinguished themselves elsewhere in the program—Mr. Youskevitch in the opening "Les Sylphides," and Mr. Franklin with Alexandra Danilova in the banal "Saratoga" at the end.

Nelson C. Works Jr., Lieutenant in Navy, Weds Canadian Girl

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 30. — Miss Glad Campbell, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Campbell of Windsor, became the bride in All Saints Episcopal church here today of Lieut. Nelson Clark Works Jr., U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Works of Hinsdale, Ill. The bride's father is president of the Ford Motor company of Canada.

Miss Shirley Campbell, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, while Thomas Taylor of Cambridge, Mass., was the best man. Ushers were Lieut. Van Santvoord Merle-Smith of Fort Dix, N. J.; John Green and Harold L. Stanley Jr. of Essex Falls, N. J.; Norman C. Cross and Harold Cross Jr. of Fitchburg, Mass., and the bride's brothers, Ronald and Noel Campbell.

After the ceremony the bridegroom's parents, his sisters, the Misses Margaret and Nancy Works, and a brother, David, were among the guests at a reception at Edgewood, the Campbell home in nearby Walkerville.

Universe, Thru Telescope, Is All Peace and Quiet

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 30 (AP).—The world's largest telescope shows that the universe probably is not exploding but is a quiet, peaceful place and possibly just about infinite in size.

The observations were made with the 100 inch telescope at Mount Wilson, Cal., and reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science tonight by Dr. Edwin P. Hubble, the astronomer who for years had done the most study of the far out parts of the universe.

This telescope sees an area about 1,000 light years across, a light year being the distance light travels in one year. The earth is at the center of this space, with the milky way immediately around the earth.

In this space there appear to be about 100 million other milky ways, or nebulae, each a vast family of suns, gasses, and presumably comets and other familiar celestial objects.

These hundred million nebulae show two things:

FIRST—They are on the average uniformly distributed, about two million light years apart, with near vacuum between them.

SECOND—The light of the more distant ones is dimmed in a peculiar way, called the red shift. This dimming could mean they are receding, rushing away from earth. If that is true, the farthest away ones now visible are traveling 25,000 miles a second.

This speed of recession led astronomers a few years ago to say the universe probably is exploding.

But Dr. Hubble reported that six years' scrutiny thru the 100 inch eye does not bear out the explosion theory.

MISS BARBARA ENGH.

Miss Barbara Engh's engagement to William Crosswell Croft has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Viking Engh of New York, formerly of Sycamore, Ill. Ensign Croft, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stockton Croft of Aiken, S. C., is on active duty with the navy. Miss Engh was graduated from the Masters school in Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., and attended Sweetbriar college. She was color girl at Annapolis in 1940 when Ensign Croft was graduated.

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Vocabulary Color.

A'tho dictionaries seldom include it, there is a colorful idiomatic vocabulary which is occupational, and little understood by people who do not happen to be in that particular business.

To illustrate:

"Cab tour." In telephone vernacular it means the 7 p. m. to 1 a. m. shift, after which the girls are sent home in cabs by the company.

"Pick-up." Not what you think, but a term used by commercial artists to describe a wad of old rubber cement used to clean new rubber cement from a drawing.

"Red ball." In railroad offices, when they want something hurried thru, they often say, "red ball that"—a phrase which derives from designation of the fastest trains as "red balls." [Some fast trains even used to display a red ball.]

"Scotch coke." At the soda fountain if you ask for a glass of water, the soda jerkers have a word for it and this is it.

"Drug store." Interior decorators, when they use this term, are speaking of a wholesaler who carries everything but the kitchen stove.

"To lay a brick on your salary." A slang expression taking the place of the legal term "to garnishee your salary."

Relaxation at Ballet.

The Friendly Steno. writes: "Speaking of what the business girl does with her leisure time, I like to go to the ballet. This year I find it more relaxing, because in the Civic Opera house we are recalled to our seats after the intermission by chimes. Over in the old Auditorium, you remember, they used a buzzer. And somehow I could never get over the start it gave me . . . just automatically reached for my pencil and notebook."

Smart Society.

A young woman in a printer's office knitted her brow over some stationery which had just come thru. It had the oddest heading! There it was across the top of the paper. "SFTPOOGLUBOTSNYE."

She unraveled the mystery. It was an order for a group of gay young marrieds on the north shore who yearly send out invitations to a party staged by the "Society for the Prevention of Old Goats Like Us Being on the Street New Year's Eve."

Party Without Glamor.

A year-end party certain to give a lift to any hard working girl who doesn't find time enough for glamor is the special invitation party in Hollywood—the "off-the-clipping-room-floor" party at which scenes cut from the films of the year are shown . . . and even Lana Turner is not at her best.

Vale!

Be gone with you, 1941! You were hot and sticky in the summer . . . and drab and dreary in the winter . . . and don't darken our door again!

Duchess of Windsor Tops List of World's Best Dressed Women

New York, Dec. 30 [Special].—The duchess of Windsor ranked first among the 10 best dressed women in the world as named by American fashion authorities today in an annual poll, formerly conducted by Paris stylists.

This year's list contained only three new names—two South Americans and one resident of Burlingame, Cal. Otherwise the traditional best dressed, like Mrs. Harrison Williams, are with us still.

The list: The duchess, Mrs. Stanley Mortimer [the former Barbara Cushing], Mrs. Byron Foy, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Rodman Arturo de Heeren [the former Aimee Lopes], Mrs. Thomas Shevlin, Mme. Felipe A. Espil [wife of the Argentinian ambassador to the United States], Mrs. Robert W. Miller of Burlingame, Cal.; Mrs. Robert Sherwood, and Rosalind Russell.

How to Dispose of Waste Paper to Aid Defense

Thousands of women thruout the Chicago area now are saving waste paper as a household contribution to America's defense.

However, many are perplexed as to what to do with the paper once they have a sufficient quantity on hand. Gov. Dwight Green's State Council of Defense yesterday gave answer to all in doubt: Dispose of it thru the regular channels of trade or thru the collecting agencies of authorized charities.

The need for conserving waste paper was made clear in Chicago early in November when Maxwell Grossman, chief of the waste paper unit of the Office of Price Administration, asserted the government faced a definite shortage of cardboard and corrugated paper to wrap ammunition. He said that if 75 per cent of all newspapers, magazines, and cartons were saved by the public for rehandling as waste, there would be no shortage.

It has been suggested that housewives save their paper until they have amassed at least 100 pounds. A stack of newspapers the height of an average broomstick weighs approximately 100 pounds; magazines printed on heavy stock will total 100 pounds at approximately half this height.

Chicago has five well-known charitable groups, known as the "big five," which collect waste paper. Not only does the paper they accumulate get to national defense uses as quickly as that sold to junk dealers, but it also gives employment to more than 500 unemployed or handicapped men.

These five are the Goodwill Industries, the Salvation Army, the Volunteers of America, the Christian Industrial league, and the Catholic Salvage bureau. A telephone call to any one of them will bring a man to your home to collect paper.

Walter C. Loague, superintendent of Goodwill Industries, has suggested that housewives might help the charities by segregating their paper. Thus, scrap paper should be put into a large carton, newspapers stacked in a pile or tied together, and magazines placed in a separate pile. Books and used cartons also are highly acceptable.

"We can use anything," he said. "What we wish to make clear is that by giving it thru us, they not only help defense just as quickly, but they also put men to work. We pay $18 in wages for every ton of newspapers we get. Our men not only collect it, but they also sort and roll it."

The regional office of OPA here said it has been bombarded with queries: "What shall we do with our paper?" No official order yet has been issued. In the meantime Gov. Green's council urges civilian consumers to conserve all surplus materials and dispose of paper thru the two channels accepted at present—charity or waste paper dealers.

Dr. Louis Mercier Is Speaker Sunday for Carroll Forum

Dr. Louis J. A. Mercier, fellow of the English Royal Society of Arts and knight of the French Legion of Honor, will be the speaker for the Charles Carroll forum on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Grand ballroom of the Palmer House. He will speak on "The Decline of Western Thought."

Dr. Mercier is a fellow in romance languages at the University of Chicago and was formerly head of the French department at the Francis W. Parker school, 330 West Webster street. During the first World war he served as interpreter with the British expeditionary forces in France. He is now associate professor of French and education at Harvard university and Radcliffe college.

Your Handwriting

BY SHIRLEY SPENCER.

The handwriting of Lin Yutang, Chinese author and philosopher, has all the beauty of a fine etching. There is no evidence of effort in the delicately traced letters and yet such simplicity of form and gracefulness of movement is not acquired without the greatest of concentrated effort. Here we have evidence of a subtle mind par excellence.

It is not possible to show you the wide spacing between the words and especially between the lines, and the extremely wide margins which he uses. This is not a cramped writing in spite of its minute size. These are the pen strokes of a highly developed mind.

Mr. Yutang's writing reflects the greatest sensitivity accompanied by discipline, restraint, and fine discrimination. And we must not overlook the genuine modesty and humility in the small, simple capitals.

Riddle.

A riddle that's going the rounds of the small fry:

"If gold is in a gold mine, where is silver?"

"Under the Lone Ranger."

Interview.

While waiting for a news report on the radio the other night we listened to one of the "ask the passerby" programs.

"And where do you live, miss?" asked the interviewer.

"Moline, Ill.," came the reply.

"And what are you doing in Chicago?"

"O, just messing around."

"And what do you do in Moline?"

"I go to school in Davenport, Ia."

Abstemious.

A diner in one of the best restaurants in town asked the head waiter what wine he recommended to go with turkey.

"Well, I couldn't say," the head waiter replied with a smile. "You see, I'm not a drinking man myself."

The Madding Crowd.

We had to wait until now to tell you about a certain Christmas greeting, because it has 380 lines of rhyme, in which are mentioned the names of practically everybody you and the Johnny Mercers ever heard of. It took us until now really to read it.

Our story of Ginger and Johnny [and now there's little Amanda, who looks like a valentine] begins way back in Garrick Gaiety days. Johnny, then an unsuccessful lyric writer, turned up regularly backstage to take brown eyed, black haired Ginger Meehan out for a sandwich. They've been married 10 years now, and Johnny has written the words for, more hit tunes than we have space to name. His "Lazybones," for which Hoagy Carmichael wrote the music, is still our favorite. Johnny wrote both the words and music of "I'm an Old Cowhand" [on the Rio Grande], despite the fact that he can't play the piano and never visited a ranch.

Anyway, here are excerpts from the Mercer Christmas poem, in which the names of Chicagoans are freely mixed with those of outlanders:

Johnny Arledge, Fred Astaire,
Jane and Squirrel, the Ashcraft pair,
Irving Berlin, Perry Botkin,
What's the difference if you're not kin?

Bing and Dixie and their clan,
Barefoot boys with daddy's pan.

Greetings, Ducky, Bob Carmichael,
Hoag and Ruth complete the cycle.
Christmas gift to Cahn and Chaplin,
*Leonard Ross and H*y*m*a*n K*a*p*l*a*n.*

Leo Forbstein, start your band,
Play for Miss Havilland.
Henry Fonda, Mrs. F.,
Shout it till the crowd is deaf,
O'er the snowy countryside,
Happy, happy Xmastide.

Dr. Harris, Byron Harvey,
There's the turkey — feeling carvey?
Bob and Peg, and Hanighen,
All together once again

Freddy Martin and Tchaikowsky,
Dagmar, I believe, Godowsky,
Ray and Eadie Mayer—and Jeanie
Count Oleg and Gene Cassini,
Harmon Nelson, how's the ham—
Baked and cured by Uncle Sam?

Mickey Rooney, bring your jive in,
Greetings to my favorite drive-in.
Romanoff and Dave and Carl and David Rose and Judy Garland
Rest your coats and fill your glasses
Ere the jolly season passes.
—I suppose I'm in a rut

It goes on and on, and without a doubt it's the world's best doggerel. But perhaps you've had enough.

THE Kitchen Kibitzer

By MARIAN CARTER

A look over the shoulder of the kitchen manager in an attempt to speed, lighten and add some novelty to her daily routine.

You don't want the bacon to be bumpy, greasy and scorched on the edges, surely? Then you'll have to keep the heat very low and spoon off the fat as it accumulates. Crisp bacon which lies flat and is evenly cooked — that's what you want.

• • •

Cut the core out of that lettuce head and let cold water run thru the leaves. Then you'll be able to separate them into crisp cups for the salad!

• • •

Want some pretty carrot flowers to go on the relish tray? Cut lengthwise gashes fairly close together down the side of a crisp carrot, cutting in about as far as the core. Then slice the carrot crosswise, in sliver-thin slices. The "petals" will curl in ice water.

• • •

Do you say "catsup" very precisely? Or do you feel better just calling it "ketchup" like the rest of us common folks? Doesn't matter much, I guess, just so you remember to use it in the mayonnaise with meat and fish salads.

• • •

"What's a tangerine—a disappointed orange?" asked a friend of mine. The way its skin peels off is a tangerine's greatest recommendation. Good for nibbling between meals, and in salads, but I'd still rather have an orange, wouldn't you? A fat, juicy one.

• • •

Unless you drink an awful lot of tea at your house, it's better to buy quarter-pound packages rather than pound size. Because tea can lose flavor upon standing. You can make something like 300 cups of tea from a pound. Might take a few months to drink that many cups, mightn't it?

Roast the New Year's duck uncovered, in a 325 degree oven, and serve it with this good orange sauce:

ORANGE SAUCE FOR DUCK.

Peel the rind of an orange with a very sharp knife, removing only the orange part, leaving the rind free from the white. Cut into slivers with kitchen scissors, pour boiling water over the rind, and drain. Add to 1 cup consommé or bouillon, and simmer for several minutes. Add the juice of the orange. Skim all fat from drippings from duck and add the drippings to the sauce. This is a thin sauce. It may be thickened, if desired, with 1 tablespoon cornstarch smoothed to a paste in cold water.

Baked, stuffed potatoes are convenient to serve with a big dinner, because the potato mashing is done ahead of time, in this instance, and not at the critical point when everything must be readied for the table.

BAKED STUFFED POTATOES.

Allow one medium potato per serving. Have the potatoes of an even size. Scrub them well. Bake in a 450 degree oven about 40 minutes, or until tender. Remove from oven, cut off tops of potatoes, and scoop out interior. Mash and season with salt, pepper, and butter. Add cream to give a fluffy consistency. Beat well and refill shells. Return to oven and bake until reheated and browned on top.

If the potatoes are extra large, use one for two persons, and cut them in halves. Nobody wants to see his dinner plate overwhelmed with a huge serving of potato. It would be unfair to the duck.

Each serving may be sprinkled with grated cheese before returning to the oven.

Steamed Cranberry Pudding.
[Serves six.]
½ cup butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
2½ cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ cup milk
1 cup whole raw cranberries

Cream butter and sugar and add beaten eggs. Sift flour, salt, and baking powder. Add alternately with milk to creamed mixture. Stir in berries. Fill greased mold two-thirds full. Steam for 3 hours. This may be done by placing mold on a rack in a kettle of boiling water, if you haven't a steamer.

Fluffy Sauce.
1 cup sugar
¼ cup water
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks
2 teaspoons vanilla
or 1 tablespoon brandy
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Boil sugar, water, and salt to soft ball stage, 238 degrees. Beat egg yolks until thick and light. Add hot sirup slowly, beating constantly. Beat until well blended and cool. Add flavoring. Fold in whipped cream last. Make this sauce the same day you serve it.

Hints for January. . . . If plain parchment shades are in need of refurbishing, "antique" them in raw umber or burnt sienna to give them a rich tone, and finish up with a coat of varnish for protection. . . . If disputes are arising between children as to ownership of toys, try painting initials on toys, or some special design. . . . And if window shades need a new look, a flat wall paint well thinned with some thinning oil will do the work.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

Question 36 of the recent examination had an unfortunate fate from several different angles. For one thing, it was misprinted in more than one newspaper. Obviously, in those cases examinees should have disregarded the question entirely, accepting no demerits for any answer. The question was:

Rubber bridge; both sides vulnerable. The bidding proceeds:

North	East	South	West
1 club	Pass	?

You are South, and hold:

♠A Q 7 5 ♥A Q 8 ♦K J 6 ♣Q 9 3

What call do you make?

The official answer was three no trump. The largest number of complaints came from those examinees who felt that I had been outrageously severe with answers of two no trump. The tenor of most complaining letters was: "Two no trump gives you far more room in which to maneuver and find out what the proper contract should be."

In marking answers sent to me, I decided that the public's misunderstanding of this situation was so widespread that I had better reduce the penalty for the particular two no trump response, hence I debited this response only 10 points instead of the indicated 40 points assigned to "any other call." This, I hasten to explain, was not a change of mind on my part, nor a charitable impulse. In expert circles the two no trump response would be a very bad, even a dangerous, call. But I have been forced to recognize that in average circles it might have a better result than the prescribed three no trump. This fact has been impressed on me by the thousands of letters that pointed out what probably would happen in their regular games. Every North of their acquaintance, these correspondents state, would take the three no trump call as a "game closing bid," and while they admitted the inadequacy of such an interpretation, they were daily faced with facts and not theories.

My best method of arguing against a two no trump response is to show what happened when that bid was made in an actual game in a New York club.

North, dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding actually was as follows:

North	East	South	West
1 club	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	4 no trump	Pass
5 hearts	Pass	5 no trump	Pass
6 diamonds	Pass	6 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

Despite the excellent lay of cards [spade king on side and 3-3 club break] and despite the fact that declarer made two heart tricks by playing the hand well, the slam contract was not fulfilled.

It should be observed that it was South's superficially conservative and "exploratory" two no trump call that started the ball rolling the wrong way. Realizing that he had not come close to announcing his four honor tricks, South, of course, felt constrained to bid again over North's three no trump, and what was more natural than that he should bid four no trump? The partners were playing Blackwood, hence North's five heart answer showed two aces, and now South, in full stride, "asked for kings" with five no trump. North regretfully announced, via six diamonds, that he held only one king, but by that time the partnership already was in a slam contract.

And there you have the reason for my strong objection to an initial response of two no trump on too strong a hand.

Seek All the Basic Causes of Nervousness

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

Mothers use the term "nervousness" differently when they speak of their children.

One may call her little girl "nervous" because she starts at every sudden noise, or is afraid of the sound of an airplane or the vacuum cleaner. Another calls her boy nervous because he cries easily. Another thinks a general nervousness is responsible for her daughter being afraid of the dark or sleeping badly. Another calls her son nervous because he never is still, constantly "on the go." And another gives the same explanation of her child's muscular twitchings. So each mother means something different by nervousness.

There are, to be sure, different forms that nervousness takes, but also, some of the behaviors we label "nervous" may not be so at all. A child who always is on the go and may, as a result, be always "getting into mischief," may not be nervous at all. He may merely be a healthy, highly energetic, objective child who lacks interesting outlets for his vitality. And the small child who is afraid of the obstreperous roaring of the vacuum cleaner, or the pervading heavy noise of the big airplane, may be a very well poised and adjusted child, but simply disturbed by that one mechanical racket.

On the other hand, each of those children might really be in a nervous condition. If Jimmy makes many meaningless muscular motions, and young Billy is fearful of practically everything, then both probably are going thru a nervous phase.

When you suspect your child to be nervous, first watch him carefully for a while. Then look over, in your mind's eye, the life your child lives. Is his day well balanced regarding fresh air and exercise, rest, sleep, and good food? Has he been thoroly checked by the doctor recently?

Next, how about fun, companionship, interesting play and other occupations?

And last, consider your child from the viewpoint of his happiness in his family—his sense of feeling loved and secure.

In brief, look for possible causes for your child's nervousness, in physical or emotional life in the family, among friends, and in school.

How can you amuse the convalescent child? What is the most difficult age? How may stubbornness be prevented? These and other problems are discussed in "You and Your Young Child," Mrs. Gladys Bevans' latest booklet, on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 S. Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 15 cents; postpaid, 18 cents.

Urban Willis to Address Colonial Wars Daughters

Capt. Urban G. Willis, World war veteran and principal of the Pullman Free School of Manual Training, will address the Daughters of Colonial Wars in the State of Illinois at a luncheon meeting at 12:30 o'clock Friday in the Chicago College club, 30 North Michigan avenue. "The Ramparts We Watch" will be the title of his talk, Mrs. Frederick C. Minkler, chairman of defense for the Woman's Club of Evanston and state corresponding secretary of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will speak on "National Defense."

Gallantry Is a Worthy Trait in Husband-to-Be

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

"My boy friend and I have broken off after a years' courtship. I just grew sick and tired of meeting him halfway on everything. Yes, I even had to meet him halfway downtown whenever we ever went anywhere. Then, if I wanted to go somewhere he'd never fully agree, but would compromise on something that was halfway. Once he said that I should go halfway on all expenses, but that I did not agree to, because I have no money.

"Anyway, I gradually got wise to myself. However, I still like him, and he has a birthday anniversary coming soon, for which I'd like to send him a present, but my mother says I should act more independent. What do you think? WONDERING."

Maybe you are one of those girls who could make a complete success of a 50-50 union if you've decided in favor of the young man after all. You rebelled when the halfway scheme was in operation, and now you miss the inspirer of it. We don't know about you, Wondering. Maybe you like being bossed around and handled without kid gloves. Maybe you like being put out by a boy instead of being called for at your door. If you had the money to go 50-50 on entertainment, maybe you'd like that, too. In any event, you really have not gotten wise to yourself. You don't seem to know exactly what you want. Before sending the birthday present you'd better find out what you do want.

Naturally, we think the young man isn't behaving like a Romeo of either fiction or movie pattern, but obviously many of our youth today fall short of the pattern, until it comes to that one girl of all girls whom they must please. Then they do revert to the pattern of wanting to be looked up to, admired for their strength and protective attributes.

TODAY'S PRIZE RECIPE

Mrs. Jennie Pfanz, R. R. 1, Pekin, Ill., wins today's $5 prize for her recipe for glazed ham balls.

There's a daily award for a good recipe, so pick out your very finest one and send it to Recipe Contest, Chicago Tribune. Be sure that you've written it carefully, not omitting any ingredient, and giving explicit directions, including number of servings.

GLAZED HAM BALLS.
[Serves 10.]
1½ pounds fresh pork, ground
1 pound smoked ham, ground
1 cup milk
2 cups bread crumbs
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup vinegar
½ cup water
1 teaspoon dry mustard

Add milk, crumbs, and salt to meats, mix thoroly and shape into small balls. Place in deep pan and pour sauce, made by blending remaining ingredients, over meat balls. Be sure sugar is dissolved. [Cooking editor's note: Heat sauce ingredients to the boiling point to dissolve sugar.] Bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees, for one hour, basting frequently with sauce in the pan.

[Save this for your scrapbook.]

Jr. will give a midnight supper tonight in their home in Winnetka.

The young people on the south side whose parents belong to the University Colony club will have their own New Year's eve supper-dance in the Crystal ballroom of the Windermere East hotel. Mrs. Thomas C. Mullins is in charge of arrangements.

Two orchestras will play for the New Year's eve party at the Cliff Dwellers. Buffet supper will be served from midnight, and parties are limited to six guests. Dinner jackets will be the order of the evening.

At the South Shore Country club there'll be dancing tonight in the dining room, ballroom, and solarium. Supper will be served.

The Lake Shore club will start its annual New Year's eve party with dinner in the ballroom from 10 o'clock to midnight. Breakfast will be served in the Old Salem grill.

A floor show, dinner, dancing, and breakfast will be included in tonight's party at the Shawnee Country club in Wilmette. The guest list is limited to 500.

Miss Nancy and Miss Alice Graff and their brother, Robert, have invited their friends to a small cocktail party from 5 to 7 o'clock this evening in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett D. Graff of Winnetka.

There will be two special guests at an "at home" from 4 to 7 o'clock today in the Raymond C. Wieboldts' home in Evanston. Miss Nan Wieboldt and her brothers, Jim and Ray, are giving the party for their cousin, Miss Suzanne Straub, and for Miss Laura Winston, a debutante of the season.

Miss Sue Sullivan, daughter of the Harry J. Sullivans of Winnetka, is in Savannah, Ga., today to assist Miss Jessie Tobias when the latter makes her debut at a reception in the Tobias home, followed by the traditional Debutantes' ball.

Mrs. William S. Miller was in Boston, Mass., yesterday to welcome her ninth grandchild, the baby daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Sise of Wellesley Hills.

Sarah and Deborah Freeman's nicest Christmas present arrived four days late in the form of a baby brother, born Monday morning in Passavant hospital. He has been named Charles Yoe Freeman III., carrying on the name of his father and grandfather.

RADIO PROGRAMS TO SWING ACROSS COUNTRY TONIGHT

Mutual to Broadcast State Street Noise.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

As in the years of peace the major networks will herald the New Year with coast to coast radio dancing parties, starting at around 11 p. m., which is midnight on the east coast. W-G-N-Mutual will start its parade 15 minutes earlier than the other chains with a broadcast from Times Square, New York. Benny Goodman will be heard at 10:45 p. m.

After the noise is picked up from Times Square at 11 p. m. Guy Lombardo will follow at 11:02 and then Eddy Duchin. The scene shifts next to Chicago. Art Kassel heads the local parade at 11:45; Dick Jurgens is next at 11:55, and then a pickup of New Year's eve on State street at midnight will follow.

Other Chicago bands will follow, including Lawrence Welk, Del Courtney, and Les Brown. The mike moves westward next, taking in order, Enric Madriguera, Clyde Knight, Kerbie Kay, and Baron Elliott. Midnight comes at 2 a. m., Chicago time, to Los Angeles where Bob Crosby, Ray Noble, and Horace Heidt will be heard. Mutual had scheduled tentatively a pickup from Honolulu at 2:45 a. m. This Hawaiian broadcast has been an annual feature, but it had to be canceled yesterday because of the war.

Alert listeners may hear on CBS advance tips that war bulletins are to follow a program. Five minutes before a regular program goes off the air, unobtrusive tone signals are added to the sounds of the program. This tone is just a little less loud than the level of the sound on the program.

Three short tones indicate that bulletins will follow at the end of the show. Five short dashes mean that the news will be of unusual import. One long tone advises technicians all over the network that an urgent announcement will interrupt the program in 10 seconds.

The Japanese apparently have borrowed a radio propaganda trick previously used in the European theater of the war—that of superimposing sounds emanating from one transmitter upon those of another and making two separate broadcasts sound like one. The Russians employed this technique to heap ridicule on Hitler on a wave length occupied by a Nazi transmitter. Then the Germans retaliated. And now come the Japs.

In Europe the long wave broadcasting field was employed and millions of listeners presumably heard the interlopers. The Japs had to use the short waves since ordinary broadcasting stations do not reach from Japan to the United States. The Japs picked KGEI of San Francisco to break in with alleged news flashes. These attempted to convey the false impression that San Francisco had been seriously bombed. The objective was apparently to shatter morale in the Philippines since the station is heard thruout the far east, and particularly well in Manila.

Raymond Gram Swing, Mutual interpreter of world news developments, is moving from New York to Washington to keep in closer touch with developments. Swing said that he was making the switch because it is easier to maintain essential contacts in the capital than in New York. His first broadcast from Washington will be on Monday, Jan. 12.

Nevada and Idaho are the only two states not yet represented in W-G-N's $10,500 operetta quest for which registration closes New Year's day. W-G-N yesterday sent telegrams to Gov. E. P. Carville at Carson City and Gov. Chase Clark at Boise suggesting that there must be composers in their states who would like to enter this competition to set down the spirit and achievement of America in words and music. Replies are awaited.

A Double Divorce

Marvin Evans and his sister, Mrs. Lois Sargis, saying "Never again!" after both were granted divorces.

Judge Joseph A. Graber yesterday granted divorces to a brother and sister, both members of a hillbilly band broadcasting over a local radio station.

Mrs. Lois Sargis, 26 years old, 1412 North La Salle street, won a divorce on the ground of desertion from her husband, Sam, 31. They were married April 30, 1935, and separated July 26 of that year.

Mrs. Sargis' brother, Marvin Evans, 24, also of the La Salle street address, was granted his freedom from Mrs. Rita Evans, whom he charged with desertion. Attorney Samuel M. Starr, who represented both Evans and his sister, said the couple married March 22, 1933, and separated Oct. 25, 1933.

HONOR SCIENTIST FOR PROGRESS IN WAR ON DISEASE

Baltimore, Dec. 30 (AP)—A 33 year old scientist was awarded tonight a prize of $1,000 and a bronze medal of the Eli Lilly company for his work in developing a new science combining bacteriology, chemistry, physics and nutrition in the treatment of disease.

Dr. Alwin M. Pappenheimer of the New York university college of medicine received the award at the annual banquet of the Society of American Bacteriologists, the American Association of Immunologists and the American Society for Experimental Pathology.

He disclaimed credit for originating methods of proper feeding of disease germs to make them highly virulent, saying his work consisted primarily of carrying on nutritional studies of microbes begun by Dr. J. Howard Mueller of Harvard university and developing chemical and physical methods of extracting the poisons they produce, concentrating them and developing antitoxins which protect against disease.

SET $5,000 BOND IN SHORTAGE AT PRIMA BREWERY

Bond of $5,000 was set yesterday by Judge John V. McCormick in Felony court for Felix Elbaum, 54 years old, 5302 Cornell avenue, former treasurer of the Prima Brewing company, on a charge of embezzling $33,000. His case was set for further hearing on Jan. 13.

Elbaum was treasurer of the company until its recent merger with the Bismarck Brewing company. An audit revealed a shortage of $33,000. Elbaum denied knowledge of it.

A warrant was issued for his arrest two weeks ago, but was not served because Elbaum could not be found. Yesterday, accompanied by his lawyer, Cameron Latter, he surrendered in Felony court. He repeated his denial of embezzlement.

32 ACRE RYERSON ESTATE IN LAKE FOREST IS SOLD

Catholic Order Buys Home for Western Offices.

BY AL CHASE.

One of Lake Forest's oldest and best known residential properties, the 32 acre Ryerson estate, was sold yesterday to the Minor Conventual Fathers of St. Bonaventure's Province, a Franciscan order, for an indicated $80,000. Richard B. Hart of Hart, Shaw & Co., represented all parties. Title was conveyed by Joseph T. and Edward L. Ryerson Jr., trustees of the estate of Mary Mitchell Ryerson, their mother.

The property is improved with one of Lake Forest's most imposing residences, a 30 room stone house built 23 years ago from plans by the late Howard Van Doren Shaw, one of the country's best known architects of his day.

Keep Garden Privileges.

"Havenwood," as the estate is called, is at the south end of Lake Forest, and is bounded by Ringwood road and Sheridan drive. The property was purchased with the understanding that the famous gardens, which have been open to the public at stated times for many years, still would be available to visitors when flowers are blooming.

The big stone house will be made the western headquarters of the Franciscan order and also will house about 30 pupils studying for the priesthood. At present the entire country is covered from one national headquarters just outside of Baltimore. It recently was decided to have the order's activities in the western half of the United States administered from this area and the purchase of the Ryerson estate followed.

Vacant for Last 2 Years.

The house has been vacant since the death of Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson Sr. in November, 1939. The late Edward L. Ryerson Sr. was head of the Ryerson Steel company [now a part of Inland Steel company], which was founded by his father in 1842. Edward L. Ryerson Jr. is chairman of the board of Inland Steel and Joseph T. Ryerson is a director.

F. C. E. Lundgren of Bell, Boyd & Marshall was attorney for the Ryerson estate, and D. P. Nagle of Cummings & Wyman repres

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 30 [Special].—Illinois overcame a six point deficit, 11 to 17, at the half to score a 39 to 33 victory over Harvard here tonight in its last warmup game before the opening of the Big Ten conference season. The Illini travel to Wisconsin Saturday night.

Decidedly off in the opening period, Illinois came back in the second half and, in five minutes, had tied the score at 19-all. Two minutes later the Illini held a 6 point advantage. The Crimson closed the gap to 1 point, but free throws and a basket by Mathisen sent Illinois into a decisive lead which it never relinquished.

Robert Lutz and Joseph Romano topped the visitors, coached by Earl Brown, former Notre Dame star, in scoring, the former accounting for 16 points and the latter for 13. Illinois' scoring was well distributed with Smiley, Mathisen, Vance, Menke, and Phillip each making three baskets.

IOWA LOSES, 41-34

Iowa City, Ia., Dec. 30 [Special].—Kenneth Elson, substitute Nebraska forward, scored three straight baskets early in the second period to start the Huskers off on a rally that smothered Iowa tonight, 41 to 34, in a nonconference game. Iowa led at the half, 27 to 23.

Iowa looked well on its way to a victory in the first period, coming to life late in the half on the basket shooting of Co-Capt. Vic Siegel and Wendell Hill.

Lyle King, Husker forward and center, took scoring honors with nine points, while Siegel and Sid Held, Nebraska center, tied for runner-up with eight.

The defeat broke a string of 15 straight home nonconference victories.

LOYOLA WINS, 35-31

Berkeley, Cal., Dec. 30 (AP).—Two sharpshooting guards led Loyola university of Chicago to a 35 to 31 victory over the University of California tonight. The two, Mickey Roffner and Bob Tietz, put on a dazzling exhibition of long range sharpshooting to account for 20 of their team's 35 points.

Loyola went into the lead in the early minutes of the game and never was headed, leading by 19 to 14 at the half. Lineup:

LOYOLA [35]	G	F	P	CALIFORNIA [31]	G	F	P

Kovacs Beats Don Budge Second Time, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 30 (AP).—Frankie Kovacs won his fourth consecutive victory in the professional tennis tour tonight, beating Don Budge, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4 before 2,433 in Convention hall. It was Kovacs' second victory over Budge. In the opening singles match Bobby Riggs defeated Gene Mako, 6-1, 6-2.

BY ARCH WARD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 30.—Steve Hudacek, Fordham university tackle, will wind up his collegiate football career Thursday against Missouri on the same field where he started. . . . His first college game was against Tulane in the Sugar bowl stadium in 1939. . . . A brain concussion incurred in that contest threatened to end his gridiron service. . . . This is homecoming week for Bernie Bierman of Minnesota and Biff Jones of Nebraska, who are in the neighborhood coaching the East-West teams which will meet Saturday in a game that the Japanese chased out of San Francisco. . . . Bierman formerly was head coach at Tulane and Jones at Louisiana State. . . . Jones received word the other day of his son's appointment to the United States Military academy where the Nebraska leader once was chief of the Army's football forces. . . . Asked for an appraisal of Missouri, Fordham's foe in the Sugar bowl, Jones said: "It's a team with a strong running attack and a fine line. I've never seen Fordham, but I know Missouri will be hard to beat." . . . Missouri whipped Nebraska, 6 to 0, in its flash to the Big Six conference heights. . . . Francis Wallace, our old classmate, suggests that when they get the Rose bowl out of the way some enterprising promoter ought to present a Woes bowl between Adolf and Hirohito. . . . Bierman says his 1941 Minnesota eleven, generally regarded as the nation's No. 1 team, might have been the greatest of his coaching career had it not been plagued most of the season by injuries. . . .

Eddie Brannick, secretary of the New York Giants, who got his start with the club as a scoreboard boy more years ago than he likes to tell, is such a ribber that many thought he was fooling when he told of his dislike for President Larry MacPhail and Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers. . . . However, at the baseball meetings in Chicago a few weeks ago Brannick refused to go to the annual managers' dinner because this year Durocher was the host. . . . It was the first managers' dinner Brannick ever has missed. . . . Robert L. Currie, chief meteorologist of the American Airlines, has rejoined the navy and is stationed at Curtis airport, naval air corps training base near Chicago. . . . Currie, who spent 20 years in the naval reserve, predicted plenty of stormy weather for the Japanese in his first report. . . . The best comeback of the 1941 golf season was that wrought by Victor Ghezzi of Deal, N. J. . . . Confronted with the task of meeting Byron Nelson, one of the game's ablest competitors, in the PGA final, Ghezzi, three down after the 27th, won the next three holes, and ultimately won the match on the 38th hole.

Aftermath.

I reread the Christmas letters
That were messengers of cheer,
And lingered again with verses
On the cards from far and near.
And the gifts so truly lovely
I put in their special place,

That time will never erase.
And my heart is truly thankful
For the joy that came my way,
Recapturing Christmas magic
In the quietness of today.

RECORD-SETTING RULE FOR SILVER SKATES VICTORS

And Feminine Champions Hold Their Share.

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

The feminine figure skater attaches great importance to brilliant costumes, but the speed skater's career must include several record breaking performances. The winners in the senior women's competition of Silver Skates have their names in ice skating's record list, and there probably will be another United States champion added to the roster that will develop from the Derbies, to be conducted in Garfield park on Jan. 17 and 18.

Among those who won Silver Skates and then proceeded to capture national and international titles were Rose Johnson, Gladys Robinson, Elizabeth DuBois, Helen Bina, Eleanor Thiel, and Maddy Horn. Miss Johnson won the first event held for women in the Derbies in 1921. A Chicagoan, she then followed by taking the international title in 1924 and 1925.

Miss Horn Sets Records.

Miss Robinson, a native of Toronto, also was an international titleholder for two years. Miss Horn won national and North American titles in 1938, 1939 and 1940. She also holds three United States records, skating the 220 yard event in :20.2, the 440 in :39.4, and the mile race in 3:06.1.

Miss Horn's three marks were made on outdoor rinks and she also holds the indoor record for a mile, covering the distance in 3:15.6, which was made in Chicago in 1938, two years after she won the Silver Skates.

There were many other outstanding performances by other Silver Skates winners including Eleanor Thiel, Elaine Bogda Gordon, Mabel Swanson, Priscilla Richey, Bunny Laga, a representative of the Barrett Athletic club, who triumphed in last year's race.

Miss Telfer Star, Too.

Marilyn Telfer, representing the Northwest Skating club, won the girls' junior in 1939 and later gained several more trophies. The same season she captured the Illinois State, Tri-State, Suburban and North Shore championships. Miss Telfer entered the national meet and triumphed on the first day in the 220 yard event, but a fall in the second day's competition caused her to lose the title on points.

CITY MEET TOMORROW

Speed skaters who won Silver Skates in the 1941 Derbies will be sprinting for city championship honors tomorrow afternoon when the Northwest Skating club holds its 50th annual Derby in Waveland park.

Miss Bessie Laga of the Barrett A. C., senior winner of last year's women's Silver Skates will find her chief opposition from Elaine Gordon of the Northwest club, who holds the city title and won Silver Skates in 1937. The 1940 winner of the women's skates, Genevieve Sweirkos of the CYO also will furnish competition for Miss Laga. Bessie works in the defense industry, making gas masks.

Du Sable, defending champion, last night continued its drive to retain its title in the University of Chicago's 24th annual interscholastic basketball tournament by whipping Roosevelt High, 57 to 25. Du Sable won its opening game last Saturday from Kelvyn Park.

Sixteen of the 40 teams starting the tournament will move into the second round at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Quarter finals will be played tomorrow at 3, 4, 7, and 8 o'clock; semi-finals Friday evening, and the final game at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Nathaniel Clifton, 6 foot 6 inch center of the Negro team, not only led Du Sable in scoring last night with 16 points but took the tournament lead with a total of 35. Little Bobby Burke of Tilden is second to Clifton with 25 points, scored in two games.

Play Double Overtime.

The most exciting of yesterday's games was a double overtime affair between Tuley and Phillips, which the former won, 35 to 33, on three free throws which held them even in the first overtime, and two more which were "sudden death" for Phillips in the second extra period.

Three baskets in another overtime game, following a long shot which tied the score at the gun, gave Senn a 32 to 26 victory over Washburne in the final contest last night. Art Leighton sank the goal that tied the contest at 26 apiece, and then scored two of the three baskets in overtime. Bob Kupski of Washburne, was high scorer with 15 points.

All Sections Represented.

Sectional representation in the tournament after last night's games still was almost evenly divided, with the north section in a slight lead

Dallas Cheers Aggies in the Texas Manner

BY EDWARD PRELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 30.—Down here in Texas where they don't do anything in a half-hearted way—and this goes double for football—they're waiting only on a few ticks of the clock for the sixth annual Cotton bowl battle, which will put the Texas Aggies and Alabama's Crimson Tide into the big redwood stadium in Fair park Thursday.

You got a strong idea of the Texans' allegiance to football early this afternoon and if there were any tenderfeet from the east or west coast they could be excused for ducking toward the nearest shelter. With police sirens screaming, a few six shooters blazing and fireworks exploding it easily could have been an air raid warning. But it was only the Dallas manner in welcoming the arrival of the Texas Aggies.

It's the Texas Way.

Mingled with all this noise on a sunny afternoon were rebel yells from hundreds who gathered in front of the Adolphus hotel as the Aggies, Southwest conference champions or co-champions for the third successive year, drew up atop a gigantic fire truck. Each of the gridiron huskies wore a white 10-gallon hat and many had on the traditional Texas footwear—high heeled boots.

Yesterday, the Alabamans had received the same sort of welcome to the Lone Star metropolis and while their opponents were being lionized were holding their second workout on Texas soil. The Aggies also took a brief workout.

There was another wartime echo when Dan Rogers, president of the Cotton Bowl Athletic association, said that two special trains carrying Alabama fans had been canceled because of railroad troop movements.

Tickets Bounce Back.

This forced the return of 500 tickets to Rogers, and he—not to mention Coach Norton—hustled the crowd

Final.
Mt. Carmel, 27; St. Philip, 17.

Mount Carmel High school won its second championship in the three years the Fenwick junior basketball tournament has been run by defeating St. Philip, 27 to 17, in the final game in the Fenwick gym last night.

St. Patrick took third place by defeating St. Michael, 27 to 26. Each team made 11 field goals in this battle.

Mount Carmel made its way to the finals by defeating De La Salle, 39 to 23; St. Mel, 33 to 17, and St. Michael, 37 to 21.

Carmel Leads Thruout.

The scores at the end of the quarters were 6 to 2, 13 to 7, 23 to 15, and 27 to 17, with Mount Carmel leading all the way.

For more than four minutes neither team could score and at the end of six the game was tied at 2-all. Barney Riley then hit for two field goals for Mount Carmel.

Carmel's lead dwindled to three points midway in the second period, but Vince Murray, Johnny Kempfer, and Ernie Kovac all scored to make the count 13 to 7.

Kempfer Most Valuable

With one minute played in the final period Johnny Kempfer, outstanding player of the tournament, was forced out on fouls, but Carmel enjoyed a 25 to 15 lead at the time and kept that margin until the end.

On the all-tournament team the coaches picked Anthony Tringalli, St. Michaels, and Barney Riley, Mount Carmel, at forwards; Jack Lahey, St. Philip, center, and Pete McElligott, St. Patrick, and Joe Daly, St. Philip, guards. Kempfer was awarded the most valuable player trophy.

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 30 (AP).—The Canadiens tonight ended their four game losing streak and, simultaneously, created one of similar proportions for Chicago by banging home three goals in the third period to beat the Hawks, 5 to 3. Joe Benoit, who scored two of Montreal's goals, slammed in the clincher at 14:59 of the last period. The Hawks left immediately for Chicago where they play Detroit Thursday night.

The Canadiens had to come from behind to accomplish their victory, Chicago took a first period lead on a goal by Earl Seibert, then George Allen added a second Hawk counter early in the second frame, assisted by Bills Thoms and Johnny Mariucci.

Terry Reardon Gets One.

Terry Reardon put the Canadiens into the scoring column midway thru the second period and Montreal got back on even terms when Benoit tallied his first goal, with Blake and K. Reardon in on the play.

Only 48 seconds of the third period had gone by when the Canadiens went in front for the first time. Ray Getliffe broke away alone from mid ice and beat Goalie Sam Lo Presti neatly. Bill Carse got that one back for Chicago just five minutes later on a play with Bill Thoms to put the Hawks into a 3 to 3 tie.

Toe Blake Takes a Hand.

Benoit's payoff goal was a thriller as Toe Blake sent him in after eluding two Chicago players, and the former beat Lo Presti to the unguarded side of his cage. Toe Blake added further assurance to the decision when he tallied with seconds of play remaining. Terry Reardon handed him the pass for the goal.

Besides Benoit, Blake, and the Reardon brothers picked up two points apiece for the night's work, while Bill Thoms with two assists, was the only Chicago players to get more than one point.

DALLAS CHEERS AGGIES IN THE TEXAS MANNER

Alabama Drills for Cotton Bowl Game.

of several hundred during the rousing reception, building up the Tide as dangerous foes, which every one figures they will be. Almost 41,000 tickets have been sold. The Cotton bowl's capacity is 45,300.

Tied to the front of the fire jalopy was a muslin sign on which was printed: "Cotton Bowl on Jan. 1, Tokio on Jan. 2."

These Aggies from south Texas are war-minded. Texas A. & M. is a school of approximately 7,000 enrollment and sometimes called the West Point of the south. Almost every member of the Aggie football team is under contract with the government to become an army officer after graduation.

Win Two by a Point.

The Aggies did all right last Jan. 1 in the Cotton bowl, defeating Fordham, 13 to 12, after a great second half rally. Before this one they had won their other two bowl assignments. They whipped Centre [remember] college in 1922 in this town, 22 to 14. In 1940 they won from Tulane, 14 to 13, in the Sugar bowl.

There is a unanimity of opinion that the Aggies will keep up their perfect bowl record, but only after a hard battle. Alabama also has a sparkling record in these holiday football spectacles. The Tide heretofore confined its post-season activities to the Rose bowl, winning three, tying one, and losing one in the Pasadena show. It whipped Washington, 20 to 19, in 1926; tied Stanford, 7 to 7, in 1927; beat Washington State, 24 to 0, in 1931; beat Stanford, 29 to 13, in 1935, and lost to California, 13 to 0, in 1938.

Records Are Imposing.

During the regular season the Aggies won eight and lost one. The sole setback was administered by their traditional rivals, the University of Texas Longhorns, who rallied after being tied by Baylor and beaten by Texas Christian. Alabama rolled up 234 points to its opponents' 64 in winning eight and losing two. The eleven from the deep south lost to Mississippi State, 14 to 0, and was blanked for the second time by Vanderbilt, 7 to 0. Only in the Texas game, which ended, 23 to 0, were the Aggies shut out.

The Aggies, following the pattern of the dominant teams in the Southwest conference of recent years, depend on passing as their main weapon. Their ace pitcher is Derace Moser, a well set up 185 pounder from Stephenville, Tex., whose specialty in army training is field artillery.

And an Ohioan Leads Them.

Alabama, completing its 11th season under Frank Thomas, uses the Notre Dame system. Its great crashing end, Holt Rast, a senior, also calls signals. Thomas says the 22 year old fellow from Birmingham is the best end he has coached. The Tide's top back is Jimmy Nelson, a triple-threat man who was all-Southeastern conference back for three seasons. The team's captain is John Wyhonic, who somehow wandered down to Tuscaloosa, Ala., from Connersville, O.

BID FOR QUICK VERDICT

Durham, N. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—This was a worryin' day—another one—for Coaches Lon Stiner of Oregon State and Wallace Wade of Duke.

Meantime, the drug store quarter backs held their annual Rose bowl roundup and figured it all out that Thursday's tussle might turn into one of those ball games where each side is going to try to score in a hurry and then go into a shell.

From behind barred doors where Stiner worked his squad in secret for the second straight day, spies reported the Beavers would try to make one score in a hurry, then sit back. Stiner has a good defensive team, and it was learned his secret drills have concentrated on long, surprise passes.

Wade, on the other hand, has been building for nearly a week around the surprise element. No one knows better than Wallace that this bowl business is for fellows who can pull rabbits out of hats. His starting lineup is outweighed an average of 187½ to 192 per man.

THE ORANGE BOWL PICTURE

Miami, Fla., Dec. 30 (AP).—Two football teams with deadly last minute punches look like good bets to hold 35,000 Orange bowl spectators in their seats until the final whistle Thursday. The teams are Georgia and Texas Christian.

Georgia beat Auburn on the last play of the game with a pass and run that covered sixty-five yards. The whistle had blown by the time Frankie Sinkwich completed his spectacular forty yard toss to Lamar Davis. The Bulldogs gained a tie with Mississippi by rolling up 14 points in the last 16 minutes. Davis, the unsung wingback, scampered forty-five yards for one touchdown, and Sinkwich, George Poschner, and Davis collaborated on a forty-two yard forward-lateral for another.

T. C. U. won a bid to the bowl when Sophomore Emery Nix hit Van Hall with a nineteen yard touchdown pass with only eight seconds to go and the Horned Frogs scored one of the year's biggest upsets by beating Texas.

RAMS SLIGHT FAVORITES

New Orleans, La., Dec. 30 (AP).—The gathering throng milling thru hotel lobbies, the French quarter and along Canal street today found one had to give odds on either team to get a Sugar bowl bet, but there seemed to be more Fordham than Missouri money in sight.

The majority of local experts who have seen the teams working at their gulf coast training quarters have expressed a preference for Missouri, but the huge delegation of New York newspaper men who followed Fordham to Dixie say the Missourians will have to show them.

Two dollar mutuels paid: Well Allright, $6.80 straight, $3.00 place, $2.60 show; Commixion, $3.30 place, $2.70 show; Ballast Reef, $4.40 show.

WELL ALLRIGHT broke alertly, followed pace to top of stretch, then moved up and into lead, and won going away. COMMIXION was rushed into a long lead and tired badly when challenged. BALLAST REEF was a stout contender from the start. STIMULI ran good race. POP'S SISTER, away fast, showed speed but weakened.

SECOND RACE—Purse $1,000. Maiden fillies. Two year olds. Six furlongs. Start good. Won driving, place same. Went to post at 2:33. Off at 2:34½. Winner, b. f., by Jacopo-Mock Turtle, by Mad Hatter. Two dollar mutuels paid: Run By, $10.20 straight, $4.60 place, $2.90 show; Ida Rogers, $4.80 place, $3.20 show; Blockader, $3.00 show.

RUN BY in good form. He broke good, was rated along in early part on inside, worked his way to the outside around turn, took lead entering stretch and drew away at end. IDA ROGERS was sent to the front soon after the start, displayed good speed, saved ground and made a game effort. BLOCKADER trailed far back for seven furlongs then closed with a rush. TIME SHEET came from far back. HILLBLOND closed some ground.

SIXTH RACE—Purse $1,200. The Pompano. Three year olds and up. Six furlongs. Start good. Won easily, place driving. Went to post at 4:32. Off at 4:32½. Winner b. h., 6, by Milkman-Timely, by High Time. Owner, W. H. Berri. Trainer, G. C. Winfrey. Net value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, :22 4-5, :46 1-5, 1:11 4-5.

NOTRE DAME AND N. U. QUINTETS TO BATTLE TONIGHT

It's a New Year's Eve Evanston Custom.

Northwestern and Notre Dame have another date tonight. In keeping with a 14 year old tradition, the basketball teams of the two schools will meet in their New Year's eve game on the Evanston High school court. The series stands at 15 victories for the Irish against 13 for the Wildcats.

All Seats Have Been Sold.

For five members of the Wildcat squad, tonight's game has a special significance. These players, Otto Graham, Don Clawson, Don Kruger, George Benson, and Hal Hudson, were members of the football team which submitted to a 7 to 6 defeat at the hands of the Irish last fall. Needless to say they hope to atone for that setback with a victory tonight.

In addition to seeking revenge for the football licking, the Purple quintet will be out to protect its undefeated record of three victories against Western Michigan, Butler, and Pittsburgh. Coach Dutch Lonborg's boys have set a blistering scoring pace, rolling up 151 points for an average of 50 points per game while holding opponents to an average of 37 points per game.

Wildcats Lose Bud Hasse.

The Wildcats face their final practice test tonight minus the services of Bud Hasse, last year's regular center, who has been ill since the close of the football season. Altho he played in the first two games, the rangy veteran was out of the lineup against Pittsburgh and yesterday submitted to a tonsilectomy at the Evanston hospital.

He will be replaced by Don Clawson. Coach Lonborg has made further changes in the starting lineup by switching Capt. Henry Clason from guard to forward and placing the veteran Don Kruger at guard.

Northwestern's offence will center around Otto Graham, accurate shooting forward, who has scored 61 points this season to lead the Wildcat shooters by a wide margin. Russ Wendland, guard, is second with 26 points.

Keogan's Still Experimenting.

Notre Dame which has lost three and won three games this season will also start a revised lineup tonight. Coach George Keogan has been experimenting all season in an effort to find a player to replace Ed Riska, last year's high scoring forward.

Two Chicago boys, Charles Butler who prepped at Mt. Carmel High school, and John Niemiera, former Weber High school star, will be at the forward posts for the Irish. Another Chicagoan, Capt. Art Pope of Morgan Park High school, will be at a guard position. The other starters are Bob Rensberger of Nappanee, Ind., guard, and Francis Quinn of Indianapolis, center.

MILWAUKEE DOUBLE HEADER

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 30 [Special].—Marquette and Michigan, and Wisconsin and Dartmouth will clash in a New Year's eve double-header before a New Year's eve capacity crowd of 6,300 in the Milwaukee auditorium tomorrow night.

In the first game, starting at 7:45 o'clock, Marquette will seek its second victory of the season at the expense of a Michigan team which has defeated Michigan State and lost to Notre Dame and Butler. The Hilltoppers have trimmed Chicago and lost twice to Wisconsin and once to Illinois. It will be the first basketball meeting in history between the two schools.

Wisconsin's national collegiate champions will be risking a 19 game winning streak when they face a vete an Dartmouth team whose lineup includes four boys who started against the Badgers last year in the National Collegiate Athletic association playoffs at Madison. Wisconsin won that game, 51-50. Probable lineups:

MARQUETTE		MICHIGAN.
Milunas	F	Cartmill
Kaffel	F	Shemky

PURDUE VS. TEXAS A. & M.

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 30 [Special].—Purdue's basketball team will attempt to ring out the old year with its fifth successive victory of the season tomorrow night as they wind up their pre-conference campaign against Texas A. and M. The Boilermakers jump into the conference title chase in a pair of home games this week end, meeting Chicago Saturday night and Michigan Monday. Lineup:

Purdue.	Position.	Texas A. and M.

COACHES URGED BY U. S. TO KEEP ATHLETICS ALIVE

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 30 (AP).—The nation's college athletic administrators today were urged to broaden and intensify sports programs in the war crisis, even to the possible extreme of making participation compulsory.

Deserting the hotel lobbies, where they usually spend endless hours at convention time reviewing their seasons, members of the American Football Coaches' association convened in a grimly serious joint session with National Collegiate Athletic association officials to discuss implications of the war on football and allied competition.

Athletics Must Go on.

Army and navy officials sent word from Washington that curtailment of athletics at this time would seem detrimental, and Athletic Director H. O. [Fritz] Crisler of Michigan, president of the coaches' association, suggested compulsory training might be the answer.

"We found in national defense we could not rely entirely on enlistments and therefore enacted the draft law," Crisler said. "Why isn't it just as logical to assume that people will not elect participation in sports and, thru the same logic, why is it not sensible to make such participation compulsory?"

Army Officials Stress Need.

Samuel E. M. Crocker of the joint army and navy committee on welfare and recreation and Maj. Theodore Bank, former Idaho coach but now head of the war department's athletic section, both told the college men that extension of their programs was imperative.

Returning to purely personal aspects of their profession, the coaches heard a report by Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood of Purdue university that college football was free from fatalities this year for the first time since the annual report was instituted in 1931. There were 14 deaths due directly to football in high school, sandlot, and athletic competition, he said, compared to 11 last year and the high of 33 in 1931.

Football Is Safe Pastime.

He presented statistics for similar age groups designed to show that last year it was 24 times more dangerous to ride in an automobile or become a pedestrian than to play football.

The collegiate groups will wind up their sessions tomorrow, featuring a luncheon to honor Fielding H. Yost, retired Michigan athletic director, and Robert C. Zuppke, who is concluding 29 years as Illinois football coach, both of whom pioneered in the organization of the coaches' association.

Order Maxin to Open Drills for Beckwith

Joe Maxin, Cleveland heavyweight, yesterday was ordered by the Illinois athletic commission to open preparations in Trafton's gymnasium Saturday for a 10 round bout against Booker Beckwith in the Coliseum Jan. 9. Beckwith, who will be making his first appearance since losing to Bob Pastor on Nov. 7, has started drills in a Gary gymnasium. He also will establish training quarters in Trafton's gym Saturday.

Nick Castiglione, west side lightweight, this afternoon will work out with Hymie Dabb, welterweight, also of the west side, for a 10 round supporting match against Aldo Spoldi. Tomorrow Castiglione will confine his activities to road work.

Dabb Is on the Card, Too.

Dabb will appear in a four round opener on the Coliseum card. Matchmaker John Strachan is searching for an opponent for him. One of two contests of six rounds probably will bring together Matt Daugherty, Milwaukee lightweight, and Robert Earl, 1941 city Golden Gloves 135 pound titleholder.

Daugherty is booked to face Charley Eschman of Cincinnati in a six round event in Milwaukee tomorrow afternoon. Additional six round bouts involve Johnny Rozina and Don Wallenfang, and Kelly Ward and Jack Whittinghill. Frank Pintero and Joey Parks are principals in a four round curtain raiser.

Martin Faces Millsap.

The program is topped by a 12 round Wisconsin state middleweight championship contest between Tony [Cianciola] Martin and Challenger Bobby Millsap. The Rozina-Wallenfang meeting is for the state welterweight title.

George Nyberg, Port Arthur, Ont., 147 pounder, will be beaten by Sammy Secreet of Cannonsburg, Pa., in a 10 round headliner in Marigold Gardens next Monday if his workout with Billy Marquart yesterday is a criterion. Nyberg and Marquart, who are stablemates, went four rounds with Billy showing to better advantage.

BALL AUTHORS' TYPEWRITERS FIRE AT JAPS

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Script writers for the fourth annual dinner and diamond frolic of the Chicago chapter, Baseball Writers Association of America, to be held Jan. 6 in the Terrace room of Hotel Morrison, have been busy rearranging their opuses to include many new insults to the Son of Heaven and other "sons" of the Jap ilk. It is said some of the authors have become so worked up over their scenarios that they plan to enlist in Uncle Sam's service as soon as, and if, they can pass their physical examinations.

Pete Reiser, National league batting and slugging champion who has been voted the "Rookie of the Year," will be present to receive the J. Louis Comiskey plaque. Chairman Irving Vaughan has been informed by Reiser, who is contributing to the war effort agriculturally at his home in Normandy, Mo.

Boys Won't Imitate New York Pioneers.

The New York chapter of ball writers, pioneers in the production of winter frolics and lampoons, who annually perform before 3,200 guests at fancy prices, are said to have pledged the profits of this winter's fiesta to a war charity. Members of the Chicago chapter have lauded this act, but have made no effort to emulate their New York brethren this year, principally because they have promised so much for the dough asked that the arrangements committee expects to wind up in the red, even with the usual sellout. Guests, therefore, have been told quite frankly that they will not help win the war by attending the dinner Jan. 6.

As usual, the first part of the entertainment will be briefly serious, with baseball notables this year telling some of the details of organized baseball's plan for cooperating in the war effort, financially and otherwise.

Stage to Be a Saloon—and Realistic.

After the speechmaking and the Reiser presentation the dais will be swept away and the dramatics will start. A new approach to drama has been made this winter in so far as the authors' cavorting is concerned. All action will take place amid scenery reminiscent of what once was known as the "open saloon"—before they called 'em taverns, cocktail lounges, and such. It is said the saloon set is so natural that the place will even smell like a saloon. This, of course is not intended to drive away any prospective purchases of the few remaining tickets in the hands of Chairman Vaughan, in The Tribune sports department, or Secretary John Phillips, telephone State 4216.

Bears Leave for New York and Game with Pro Stars

The Chicago Bears, champions of the National Football league for the last two years, yesterday afternoon departed for New York and Sunday's final game of the season against a team of stars selected from the other nine clubs in the league. There were 26 players in the party, the remaining seven of the full squad of 33 having gone east before Christmas.

This septet, which includes Quarter Back Sid Luckman, will rejoin the squad on its arrival in New York this morning. There will be little time for Broadway visiting for the champions as Head Coach George Halas has scheduled workouts in the Polo grounds, scene of Sunday's contest, every day from this morning thru Saturday.

STARS DRILL ON PASSES

New York, Dec. 30 [Special].—Don Hutson, the pass catching end of the Green Bay Packers, was the only member missing today from the squad of the National league All-Stars who will meet the Chicago Bears in the Navy Relief Society benefit game in the Polo grounds Sunday.

Hutson is expected to check in tomorrow. Meanwhile, his 27 teammates for a day weren't waiting for him. Coach Steve Owen of the New York Giants sent the squad thru two workouts on the half frozen St. Paul school's field at Garden City, N. Y., devoting much of the morning and afternoon exercises to passing. Sammy Baugh of the Washington Redskins was one of the prominent pitchers.

Owen Is Optimistic.

"We'll do all right," Owen predicted, "and we'll certainly show the Bears some passing, with Baugh, Cecil Isbell of the Packers throwing 'em and fellows like Hutson, Dick Humbert of Philadelphia, Perry Schwartz of Brooklyn, and Bill Dewell of the Cardinals catching them."

With Hutson absent, Owen is using John Tripson, Detroit tackle, at end. In the game, Steve intends to follow the Packer system with Hutson, moving him from end to half back or safety on defense, since Don is not considered a first rate defensive player.

The Bears haven't been seen in New York since 1940. The 1941 schedule didn't give them a game in the Polo Grounds.

O'Rourke to Meet Zale in Special Midget Race

Cowboy O'Rourke will meet Wally Zale in a special five lap race on the midget auto racing program Sunday night in the International Amphitheater. O'Rourke and Zale recently returned to competition after recovering from injuries suffered last May on downstate tracks.

MAJOR LEAGUES SEND EQUIPMENT TO ARMY, NAVY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—Machinery was set up today to distribute an initial consignment of 500 kits of baseball equipment to camps and other army and navy stations as a present from the major leagues.

Ford Frick, president of the National league, and Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, completed the arrangements in a conference at Griffith stadium with representatives of the equipment manufacturers and of the armed services. The two major leagues have subscribed $25,000 for the purchase of the equipment.

HONOR BARROW FOR SUCCESS IN GUIDING YANKEES

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 31 (AP).—Edward G. Barrow, Billy Southworth, Ted Williams, Emil G. Sick, Burt Shotton, and Johnny Lindell—these were the No. 1 men of 1941 in major and minor league baseball in the opinion today of the Sporting News. The baseball weekly, announcing its annual citations to the leading executives, managers and players, chose:

Barrow, president of the New York Yankees, for his accomplishment in rebuilding the team, third in 1940, into a pennant winner and world champion, "a task that called for unusual ingenuity, courage of conviction and sound judgment."

Honor Billy Southworth.

Southworth, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, for his feat in directing a badly crippled team to a runner-up spot in a tight battle with the Brooklyn Dodgers for the National league pennant.

Williams, outfielder of the Boston Red Sox, by a close margin over Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees, for his remarkable batting performances in attaining a season's average of .406.

Sick, president of Seattle of the Pacific Coast league, for building three consecutive pennant winners, especially the 1941 team which finished first despite the death of its manager, Jack Lelivelt, and the runaway start made by the Sacramento club under Pepper Martin.

Shotton, Lindell Named.

Shotton, manager of Columbus, for winning the American association pennant and playoffs and the little world series with Montreal of the International league.

Lindell, pitcher with Newark of the International league, for winning 23 games and losing only 4, having a string of 13 consecutive victories and batting .298 in 51 games.

So. American Swimmers to Face Union League Club

The South American swimming team, which has defeated most of its opponents since beginning a tour of the United States, is to appear in the Union League club pool, meeting a team representing that organization, tomorrow afternoon. The meet is to start at 3 o'clock. One of the South Americans' outstanding performers is Maria Lenk of Brazil who swims the breast stroke. Others are Paul Fonseca, Carlos Sos, Joseph Duranona, Luis Alcivar, and Willy Jordan.

INDIANAPOLIS TO BATTLE BRUINS' QUINTET TONIGHT

Chicago Seeks to Break 5 Game Losing Streak.

The Chicago Bruins and Indianapolis Kautskys of the National Basketball league meet tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the Coliseum. A Windy City league game, bringing together the Burton-Dixie and Senator Daley teams, will open the program at 7:15 p. m. The Bruins, fired by Dick Evans, former Iowa star, expect to enter the victory column.

With Evans in shape and Otto Kolar rounding into the form which made him outstanding with Sheboygan the last three seasons, the Bruins look like the club which was expected to go places at the start of the season. Wibs Kautz, scoring star, will be back in the lineup. Two new players appearing with the Bruins for the first time will be George Morser, former Mount Carmel star, and Jack Drish, Illini captain last year.

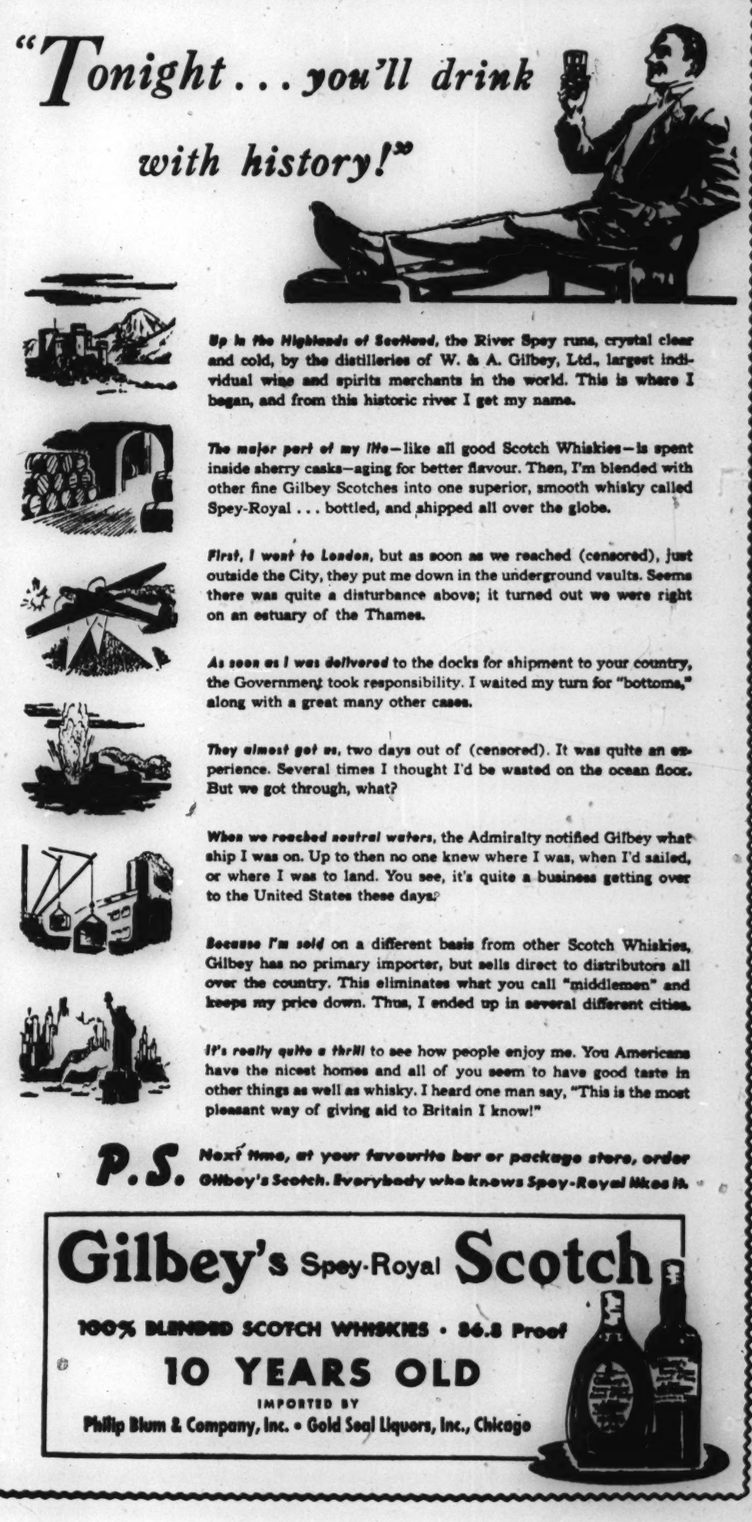
Mike Novak, Bruins' 6 foot 9 inch center, is gradually returning to the form which made him the top center in the league the last two seasons. Bad feet and a sprained ankle have been Mike's difficulties. Novak will start at center, with Ralph Vaughn and Kautz at the forwards, and Evans and Kolar at the guards, at least that was Coach Jack Tierney's pregame idea.

The invaders will present a group of scorers in Jewell Young of Purdue, John Townsend of Michigan, Bob Dro of Indiana, Bob Dietz of Butler, and Ed Sadwoski and Mark Ertel of Notre Dame.

The Bruins will be out to break a five game losing streak which now has dropped them to the cellar in the league standings. Indianapolis is in third place with five victories against four defeats.

KAROL KRAUSER WILL WRESTLE DAVIS TONIGHT

Dizzy Davis and Karol Krauser will meet in the windup bout of the last wrestling show of the year in Rainbo Fronton, Clark street and Lawrence avenue, tonight. Mike Kilonis and Jack Zeravich will open the show at 8 o'clock. Other matches: Olaf Olson vs. Jack Conley, King Clayton vs. Gene Bowman, and Nick Elitch vs. Pete Schu.



"Tonight . . . you'll drink with history!"
Up in the Highlands of Scotland, the River Spey runs, crystal clear and cold, by the distilleries of W. & A. Gilbey, Ltd., largest individual wine and spirits merchants in the world. This is where I began, and from this historic river I get my name.
The major part of my life—like all good Scotch Whiskies—is spent inside sherry casks—aging for better flavour. Then, I'm blended with other fine Gilbey Scotches into one superior, smooth whisky called Spey-Royal . . . bottled, and shipped all over the globe.
First, I went to London, but as soon as we reached (censored), just outside the City, they put me down in the underground vaults. Seems there was quite a disturbance above; it turned out we were right on an estuary of the Thames.
As soon as I was delivered to the docks for shipment to your country, the Government took responsibility. I waited my turn for "bottoms," along with a great many other cases.
They almost got us, two days out of (censored). It was quite an experience. Several times I thought I'd be wasted on the ocean floor. But we got through, what?
When we reached neutral waters, the Admiralty notified Gilbey what ship I was on. Up to then no one knew where I was, when I'd sailed, or where I was to land. You see, it's quite a business getting over to the United States these days.
Because I'm sold on a different basis from other Scotch Whiskies, Gilbey has no primary importer, but sells direct to distributors all over the country. This eliminates what you call "middlemen" and keeps my price down. Thus, I ended up in several different cities.
It's really quite a thrill to see how people enjoy me. You Americans have the nicest homes and all of you seem to have good taste in other things as well as whisky. I heard one man say, "This is the most pleasant way of giving aid to Britain I know!"
P.S. Next time, at your favourite bar or package store, order Gilbey's Scotch. Everybody who knows Spey-Royal likes it.

GIFTS THRILLED AND SURPRISED ADOPTED YANKS

'Thank You' Letters Pour Into Tribune Office.

Letters of thanks from the 21,000 soldiers and sailors who received Christmas gifts thru THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S "Adopt a Yank" campaign are streaming back to midwestern homes and The Tribune office.

"We were surprised and thrilled to receive gifts from persons we didn't know and we can't find words to express our gratitude," was the theme of the messages. "It is your kind of people that makes this a great country and one worth fighting for."

A few typical letters follow:

Private John S. Griffin, Camp Forrest, Tenn., wrote this note to his adopted parent: "Thank you! At a time like this, this seems to be such an inadequate expression.

Certain of Victory.

"In this war we of the army will be doing our best and I feel sure that if every one at home is behind us as you are, no power on earth can stop our victory march. Good-by from a grateful soldier and God bless you."

Private David Kaufman wrote that he had come to the conclusion "that we Americans are the greatest people in the world."

"Americans are the only people in the world that would do the things that are being done for our armed forces," Kaufman continued. "You should see the boys running around showing their gifts from persons that have adopted them. These are the type of things that give us the will to win.

"All I can find to say is, 'Gee, thanks!'"

Esta Leone Shurte, a sailor at Great Lakes Naval Training station was unhappy when he lost the address of his adopted parent. He wrote THE TRIBUNE:

"Due to circumstances beyond my control the wrapper of my lovely gifts is missing. I would like to write a letter of thanks and can't. Please tell me who had my name."

Sent Sister's Picture.

THE TRIBUNE replied that it had no way of knowing the name of the donor of Shurte's gift, "but we are sure that his or her reward was in the sending of it."

A 35 year old sergeant at Camp Forrest wrote he had received the following letter:

"Dear John:

I'm sorry you have to stay in Camp Forrest. I'm also sorry that I'm only 11 years old. I hope you're not angry. I am inclosing a picture of my sister. She is 19 years old. I hope you have a nice Christmas.—Claudia."

"I almost died of laughter," the sergeant wrote. "Incidentally, her sister was quite nice. We've got to win for people like that."

LOUISE SANBORN, 75, DIES IN HOME IN LAKE FOREST

Mrs. Louise Kirkland Sanborn, 75 years old, who had been a resident of the Chicago area since 1869, died last night in her home at 145 Westminster avenue, Lake Forest. She was a sister of Miss Caroline Kirkland, who for 21 year prior to her death in 1930 conducted a column of society news in THE TRIBUNE.

Mrs. Sanborn was the widow of Victor Channing Sanborn, who died in 1921. She was the daughter of Maj. Joseph Kirkland, a veteran of the Civil war. She and her parents were living on Rush street at the time of the great fire in 1871. She was a member of the Friday club, the Neighbors club of Kenilworth, and the Chicago Historical society.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Morrow Krum and Mrs. Boyd Hill; a sister, Mrs. G. F. M. Annis of Uitenhage, South Africa, and a brother, John W. Kirkland of Johannesburg, South Africa.

HONOR MEMORY OF 575 DEAD IN IROQUOIS FIRE

Memorial service for the 575 victims of the Iroquois theater fire was conducted yesterday afternoon in the city council chamber under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan, who was a young fireman when the Iroquois burst into flames on Dec. 30, 1903, struck the alarm bell that opened the service. Many of Chicago's safety rules for public gatherings were based on the experiences gained in the disaster.

Among those who attended were Mrs. Edward J. Buchan, 452 Briar place, who as Annabelle Whitford, led the ballet of "Mr. Bluebeard," the attraction at the time of the fire, and Frank Holland and Victor Moore, actors. The Sears Roebuck & Co. choir sang.

POLICE CAPTURE OPOSSUM; IT'S FATE IN DOUBT

A half-grown opossum was captured last night by Policemen Walter Conrad and Victor Codling of the Rogers Park station in the vestibule of 1717 North Shore avenue. The opossum was asleep when they arrived and had nothing to say when taken to the station. Desk Sergeant Patrick Haran said the animal would be given either to the Lincoln park zoo or the Anti-Cruelty society today, unless Patrolman Codling, a southerner, was left unguarded last night. Codling was overheard remarking, wistfully, on the loveliness of 'possum pie.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Inside Facts

OBITUARIES

Michael E. Moriarty.

Funeral services for Michael E. Moriarty, manager of the Great American Insurance Company of New York, will be held at 10 a. m. Friday in St. Francis Xavier church, Wilmette. Mr. Moriarty died after suffering a heart attack Monday in his offices in the Insurance Exchange building. He had been an insurance man in Chicago for 50 years, having come here from Newry, Ireland, at the age of 14. His residence was at 108 Garrison street, Wilmette, where he had lived for seven years. Surviving are his widow, Edith, and a daughter, Mrs. Marie Hajee of Wilmette.

Mrs. Marguerite Mohr.

Mrs. Marguerite Mohr, prominent Chicago designer of women's apparel, died yesterday in Passavant hospital. She was 46 years old. Mrs. Mohr had been head designer for several Chicago wholesale firms, and for the last eight years she operated the dress shop bearing her name at 646 North Michigan avenue. Her home was at 2233 East 70th place. Surviving are her husband, Edward E. Mohr, two brothers and two sisters. Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Friday from the chapel at 7659 Jeffery avenue to Christ Episcopal church. Burial will be in Rosehill cemetery.

Anthony T. Kates.

Anthony T. Kates, 80 years old, owner of oil interests in Texas, died Monday in his home at 206 Kenilworth avenue, Kenilworth. He operated a hardware store in Arlington Heights from 1883 to 1900, and a dairy supplies company in the same community from 1900 to 1921, after which he entered the oil business. Mr. Kates leaves his widow, Mary; a son, and two daughters. Funeral services will be private.

Lee Gyllenberg.

Services for Lee Gyllenberg, 71 years old, a retired gardener, will be held at 2 p. m. today in the First Presbyterian church, Lake Forest. Mr. Gyllenberg, a native of Sweden, had lived in Lake Forest for 46 years. His home was at 182 North Washington circle. He died Monday in the Alice Home hospital in the suburb. U. OF I. FEES DROP AND COSTS GO UP; ASK STATE FUNDS

Trustees Adopt War Emergency Plan.

Trustees of the University of Illinois at a special meeting in Chicago yesterday unanimously adopted three resolutions designed to stabilize the university's financial position in the war emergency:

1. They voted to put before the state legislature a request for a supplemental appropriation of $100,000 to solve problems arising from increased operating costs and shrinking student enrollment.

2. They asked an additional $216,000 to complete the alteration, rehabilitation, and equipping of the Illinois Research and Educational hospitals in Chicago.

3. They petitioned the legislature to authorize the university board to use funds, now earmarked for new construction at the school, to meet extra operating and maintenance expenses caused by the war. Largest of these earmarked appropriations is one for $125,000 intended for a new band building on the Urbana campus.

Expect $200,000 Drop in Fees.

At the meeting, held in the Illini Union building in Chicago, President Arthur Cutts Willard made public a report prepared by a special advisory committee of the university which showed that student enrollment fees are expected to be reduced by $200,000 in the biennium ending July 1, 1943. Enlistments in the armed service are the main reason for the drop in students.

In the report it is estimated the university, which now has 13,060 students, will have 11,676 in the coming spring semester, 10,724 next fall, and only 9,300 in the spring semester of 1943.

The report goes on to state that operating costs will jump, much of this being due to increased wages among the school's maintenance force. This increase in cost plus the $200,000 drop in income from fees bring the total reduction in income for the biennium to $285,500.

Ways to Economize.

The reports says the university can meet part of this reduction in income by reducing its staff, cutting its present budget, and curtailing the purchase of equipment, thereby saving an estimated $190,000. The $100,000 asked for yesterday will go to cover the remainder of the reduction in income, it was explained.

President Willard told the trustees that eliminating courses in which registration is small is being considered.

HARVEY ORDERED TO PAY $243,000 IN WATER BONDS

Judge Philip L. Sullivan of the federal District court issued a formal order yesterday for the city of Harvey to take necessary steps to pay its full obligations on $243,000 of water certificates issued in 1927.

A suit to require Harvey and its city officials to honor the certificates was brought in 1938 by John J. Getz Jr. of Detroit, Mich. He alleged that funds that should have gone to meet the certificates were used for other city purposes. In part the city argued that the debt was not valid because the city had no power to issue them.

Under a District court ruling it was held that the bonds should be paid on a 70 per cent basis. The United States Circuit Court of Appeals overruled this and held in favor of full payment for Getz. The Supreme court refused to hear the case and Judge Sullivan's order was to carry out the Appeals court's decision.

AMBULANCE GOES INTO DITCH; ARMY PILOT LOSES LIFE

Donald Solomon, 22 years old, a flying cadet from Chicago, was killed yesterday in an accident near Kansas City, Mo. Solomon was ill and was being taken by ambulance from the Fort Leavenworth hospital to Kansas City for a train connection with his aviation post near San Antonio, Tex. The ambulance skidded into a ditch.

Fireworks Toll Increases for First Time Since 1937

Deaths due to Fourth of July fireworks increased this year, for the first time since 1937. The Journal of the American Medical association's annual summary said yesterday that the nation's 11 fatalities, compared with 8 in 1940, reversed a steady decline. The survey showed, however, that the total number of injuries reported was reduced from 4,462 in 1940 to 2,039 in 1941.

Found Dead of Auto Gas in Chicago Heights Garage

Harold J. Mells, 57 years old, who had been despondent over illness, was found dead yesterday of carbon monoxide poisoning in his car in the garage at the rear of his home at 83 West 15th street, Chicago Heights. He was a plumbing contractor.

W. M. SCANLAN DIES; FORMER CHAIRMAN OF INDUSTRIAL BOARD

Peru, Ill., Dec. 30 [Special].—William M. Scanlan, former chairman of the Illinois Industrial commission and former member of the state legislature, died in his home here today. He had been inactive for the last five years because of ill health.

Mr. Scanlan was elected Peru city attorney in 1903 and held that office until 1908, when he was elected a state representative. He served seven terms in the Illinois legislature. In 1923 he was appointed a member of the state industrial commission by Gov. Len Small and subsequently became chairman, a post he held until 1928.

He was co-sponsor of the Scanlan-Johnson bill, which provided for the purchase of Starved Rock for a state park.

MARQUIS NEWELL, TEACHER 41 YEARS IN EVANSTON, DIES

Marquis J. Newell of 2226 Hartzell street, Evanston, former head of the Evanston High school mathematics department, died yesterday in Pasadena, Cal., where he was spending the winter. He was 68 years old.

Marquis J. Newell.

Mr. Newell taught in Evanston High for 41 years and was the oldest teacher in point of service when he retired last June. He was the author of several secondary school mathematics textbooks and for 18 years was a member of the board in charge of suburban athletics in the Chicago area. He helped form the Suburban league in 1910. He organized a club for mathematics teachers in the Chicago area, and the club was an initial member of the National Council of Mathematics Teachers. Mr. Newell also was a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the Mathematics Association of America.

Surviving are his widow, Helen; two daughters, Mrs. Pauline Christensen and Mrs. Lucy N. Teare; a son, M. V. Newell, and four grandchildren.

FRANK M. GORDON RESIGNS AS PARK DISTRICT OFFICIAL

Frank M. Gordon, assistant treasurer of the Chicago park district since the park consolidation in 1934, resigned yesterday. The resignation followed his recent retirement as vice president of the First National bank. His seven years of service as assistant treasurer was without compensation. He also was treasurer of the Lincoln park commission from 1932 until 1934. The park board appointed Austin Jenner, also vice president of the First National bank, to succeed Gordon.

FAST 2 ENGINED TRAIN HITS TRUCK AND KILLS DRIVER

Jerry Moriarty, a truck driver, was killed yesterday when his truck was struck by the Liberty Limited of the Pennsylvania railroad between 105th and 106th streets near the Indiana state line.

The train, inbound and pulled by two engines, carried the truck five blocks to 100th street and Avenue J where the wreckage burst into flame. Moriarty was 51 years old and lived at 9928 Exchange avenue.

A couple identified as Mr. and Mrs. Jeffe Sissman, both 45, of 5052 Drexel avenue, were killed near Mount Vernon, Ky., last night when their car struck a truck.

Frank Siefert, 70, a railroad watchman who lived near Dyer, Ind., was killed when he was struck by an automobile on Kruse road, near Sauk trail, Bloom township. The driver was Wilbur Peters, 21, of Rural Route 1, Chicago Heights.

Arthur de Vic, 41, of 2539 Coyle avenue, partner in a wholesale butter firm, was fatally injured when his truck skidded on the snowy pavement and crashed into the rear of a standing street car at 60th street and Stony Island avenue.

Fort Wayne, Ind., police yesterday identified as Mrs. Merle Smith, 40, of Chicago, a woman killed in an auto accident near there Monday. She previously had been identified as Mrs. Charles J. Grieb. Charles J. Grieb of Chicago and Maurice K. Haines, 65, of Dayton, O., also were killed when their car overturned on icy pavement.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 976 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 683 were killed in Chicago where 26,518 were injured in the same period.

STATION VIGIL OF DOG ENDED WITH A DRUG

The long vigil of the black Belgian shepherd dog at the 91st street station of the Rock Island railroad in Beverly Hills was brought to an end yesterday—with a knockout drop.

For more than three weeks the animal had maintained a watch at the station for someone who never appeared. Efforts to capture it failed. Yesterday Mrs. Dorothy Eagles, owner of an animal shelter at 5450 North Damen avenue, tossed a liver sausage near the dog.

The animal, thin from hunger, ate it, then soon sank into deep sleep. The sausage had been treated with a drug. The dog, a female, was taken to a veterinarian at 4506 Broadway, and revived. Mrs. Eagles will try to find a home for it.

Rush Hour Traffic Rules Suspended Over Holiday

Rush hour traffic rule changes will not be put into effect as usual from 4:05 to 7 p. m. today, Otto K. Jelenik, park district traffic engineer, announced yesterday. Normal traffic rules also will apply all day tomorrow, New Year's day. Buses and other transportation facilities will operate on their normal routes.

COMMENDS KELLY IN PROPOSING CITY BUDGET CHANGES

Mayor Kelly was commended yesterday by the Civic Federation for his "sincere consideration" of recommendations for city budget savings made by an efficiency survey group sponsored by the federation.

Newton C. Farr, president of the federation, made the commendation in a statement read at a public hearing on the proposed 1942 city budget. The hearing was held by the council finance committee in the council chambers.

Farr submitted eight recommendations which he said "if followed will result in definite economies and improved services to the city in the near future." They were:

1. Put city purchasing on a more centralized basis.
2. Centralize all pay roll procedures.
3. Centralize control over accounting, financial record keeping and all budgetary procedures in the controller's office.
4. Review employment classifications and examination methods in the civil service system.
5. Study all city inspectional services so that duplications may be eliminated.
6. Give full consideration to recommendations which may be based upon a complete city audit started in 1941.
7. Make a comprehensive compensation study in all city departments.
8. Continue the special committee which during 1940 carried on negotiations between the city and unions of city employes.

BARMEN'S HEAD WINS REVERSAL OF $100 FINE

The Illinois Appellate court yesterday reversed a contempt finding under which James Crowley, president of the Bartenders and Beverage Dispensers' union, local 278, was fined $100 by Superior Court Judge Robert Jerome Dunne a year ago. The contempt charge was based on a letter Crowley wrote to the membership of the union prior to an election last Jan. 6. He said in the letter that Roy D. Keehn, then receiver for the union, was responsible for the union's suspension from the city and state federations of labor.

Judges Kickham Scanlan, Hugo Friend, and John J. Sullivan wrote the order reversing Judge Dunne. They held that Crowley was within his rights in addressing the union members who were to pass on his candidacy for the presidency. The judges added that Receiver Keehn should not have filed the contempt petition against Crowley on the eve of the election.

"The action of the court in assuming charge of the election was one that he was not obliged to assume and such action therefore was in the nature of an extra-judicial act," the appellate judges stated. "It is not the law that a receiver in the performance of his duties is immune from criticism."

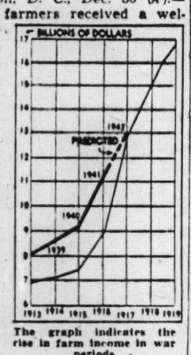
EXTEND FARM BENEFITS FOR 5 MORE YEARS

Declared Necessary in Emergency.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—Millions of farmers received a welcome holiday notice from the White House today when President Roosevelt approved a five year extension of the system of farm benefit payments and price supporting loans.



The graph indicates the rise in farm income in war periods.

In signing a bill continuing the program that has put billions of extra dollars in farmers' pockets, the President made one objection. He said that the measure called for excessive loans on peanuts. However, Senators Walter F. George [D., Ga.] and Richard B. Russell [D., Ga.], who sponsored the peanut provision, said this difference between the administration and congress could be worked out without serious difficulty.

"The President's signature assures farmers of a floor under the basic crops during the wartime emergency," Sen. Russell, a leader of the senate farm bloc, said.

Payments Total 3 Billions.

Farmers have collected about 3 billion dollars in soil conservation payments during the last six years, an average of about 500 million dollars annually. Price supporting loans have increased market prices received for cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco, and rice during the last year.

Authority for both the payment and mandatory loan programs was scheduled to expire tomorrow, and the measure signed by the President extended these until Jan. 1, 1947.

Congress must vote funds for future benefit payments later, but Sen. Russell said that the mandatory loan program continued automatically. Under this, the Commodity Credit corporation is directed to make loans at 85 per cent of the parity price. [A parity price is one computed to give a farm product the same purchasing power it had in the prewar years of 1909-14.]

Roosevelt Explaines Signing.

President Roosevelt, in a brief message to congress, said he had signed the continuing legislation "in view of the urgency of the need for extending" both programs and the "desirability of giving assurances at this time to producers of basic agricultural commodities."

The index of prices received by farmers rose in December to the highest point since 1930 and to 99 per cent of parity, the agriculture department reported.

Prices of nearly all farm commodities advanced during the month. Those making the largest increase were grains and meat animals. Cotton prices rose moderately. Food and dairy prices were unchanged, while egg prices dropped, but less than usual.

Prices of leading farm products Dec. 15, expressed in percentages of parity, included: Wheat 80, corn 72, rice 123, cotton 91, cottonseed 138, milk 106, chickens 96, eggs 89, hogs 98, beef cattle 125, and wool 141.

START STUDIES TO AVERT SHORT SUPPLIES OF GAS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—The Federal Power commission announced today that, in coöperation with OPM, it was beginning a comprehensive survey designed "to avert a serious shortage of natural gas" which threatens sections of Ohio, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia in the winter of 1942-'43. The area to be studied embraces all states served with natural gas east of the Mississippi river and north of Tennessee and North Carolina.

A total of 85 operating gas utilities among 20 holding company groups were requested by the agency to submit by Jan. 19 information "from which methods must be developed to avoid a shortage that would result in a marked curtailment of production of essential war industries as well as general consumer use."

C. & E. I Puts New Train in Service on Florida Run

The "Dixiana," a new Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad train, will make its first run from Chicago to Florida tomorrow evening from the Dearborn street station. It will operate every third day and will increase to six the number of Dixie fleet passenger trains operated out of Chicago by the road.

MARKET HOLIDAY.

The Chicago Board of Trade and the Mercantile exchange, along with many other commodity exchanges and all grain markets, will close at noon today. The New York Stock and Curb exchanges, the Chicago Stock exchange, and the Coffee and Sugar exchange will operate a full session. All financial and commodity exchanges will be closed tomorrow, New Year's day. The Savannah Naval Stores market will remain closed until Monday.

15 Firms Get Half of War Jobs; Arms Output in Chicago Soars

Concentration Shown

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—The OPM said today that more than half of the $15,274,400,000 in contracts for ships, planes, tanks, guns, and other equipment, awarded by the army and navy between June, 1940, and September, 1941, went to 15 companies.

A survey showed that 100 companies received more than 82 per cent of the contracts and 2,922 smaller firms were awarded the remainder. A similar survey by OPM last July showed 56 corporations at that time held almost three-fourths of the total dollar volume of army-navy contracts.

Three companies alone, the latest figures disclosed, have received as much business—more than 2 billions 600 millions—as all of the 2,922 small firms together. The three received contracts which ranged from 800 millions to a billion apiece. Contracts given the smaller companies ranged from $50.000 up to $17,700,000.

The following summary shows cumulative totals of companies, and the contracts awarded in categories from $17,700,000 to a billion;

Three companies with contracts exceeding $800,000,000, 17.4 per cent.

Fifteen companies exceeding $200,000,000, 53.5 per cent.

Twenty-eight companies exceeding $100,000,000, 65.3 per cent.

Sixty-three companies exceeding $30,000,000, 77.2 per cent.

One hundred companies exceeding $17,700,000, 82.6 per cent.

Work Piles Up

Production in Chicago's arms factories has zoomed since the attack on Pearl Harbor, officials at the Chicago office of the ordnance department disclosed yesterday. Companies referred to were not identified.

An automobile accessory company making fuses has increased its production by more than 34 per cent. Its workers are employed on six 8 hour shifts and one 12 hour shift for a total of 60 hours a week. A manufacturer of gun carriages has increased its daily rate of production by 46 per cent. Its employés also are working a seven day week.

Three of four companies which at the time war was declared were scheduled to start the production of armor piercing and small high explosive shells about the first of March will start soon after the first of the year. This speeding up was accomplished by employing extra men and scouring nearby cities for machine tools of many types.

It was estimated that by working New Year's day Chicago district plants will be able to produce 50,000 machined shells and 75,000 fuses.

A total of $643,416,000 of ordnance department awards were on the books of Chicago region manufacturers on Dec. 27 as compared with $227,881,000 on June 30 and with $118,800,000 on Dec. 28, 1940. These awards included only those let to private companies.

SEC Orders Large Utiltiy to Liquidate

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission today ordered liquidation of the North American Light and Power company, a subholding company in the North American company system, in a proceeding which was formally instituted just four weeks ago.

Light and Power has book assets of $51,894,000 and consolidated system assets of $124,862,000. Companies in which it has interests operate principally in Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, and Iowa.

Directors of Light and Power sought to dissolve the company voluntarily some months ago, but the SEC obtained a delay to permit a review of the situation. Its order today called for full control over the manner in which the assets are distributed.

Owne 85% of Common Stock.

North American owns about 85 per cent of Light and Power common stock, which possibly may not share in the distribution because of a $52.50 arrearage on the preferred stock, of which North American holds 43 per cent. North American also owns 63 per cent of Light and Power's debentures.

"The record discloses," the SEC said, "that these senior securities were acquired at substantial discounts and at a time when dividend arrearages on its preferred stock were mounting and earned surplus deficits increasing. These facts raise serious questions concerning the possible application to North American's holdings of various equitable doctrines."

The commission said that it would not determine at this time how the apparent claims would be treated because the record was not complete.

Starts Another Proceeding.

A proceeding to require geographic integration and corporate simplification of Consolidated Electric and Gas company, holding company system, was instituted by the commission. Hearing was set for Jan. 20. The company previously had filed a voluntary plan for simplifying its structure and divestment of control of its subsidiaries.

Consolidated is a subsidiary of Central Public Utility corporation, a holding company with headquarters in Jersey City, N. J., which also is a respondent in the proceeding. Consolidated has subsidiaries in many states including Michigan, Illinois, and Indiana.

Bloomington Firm to Work Tomorrow on War Orders

Bloomington, Ill., Dec. 30 [Special]. The six hundred Williams Oil-O-Matic company employés here will give up their New Year's holiday to aid in the war effort.

ROEMER QUITS BOARDS OF 3 FIRMS TO DEVOTE MORE TIME TO OTHERS

New York, Dec. 30 (AP).—Henry A. Roemer said today he would resign from directorates of the Pittsburgh Coke and Iron company, the Pittsburgh Steel Foundries corporation, and the Alan Wood Steel company, effective Dec. 31, to devote more of his time to other organizations with which he is affiliated. Roemer is president of the Sharon Steel corporation and the Pittsburgh Steel company, chairman of the Empire Sheet and Tin Plate company and the Mullins Manufacturing corporation, and is also a director of the American Iron and Steel institute.

TERMS CONTROL BY GOVERNMENT A WAR NECESSITY

New York, Dec. 30 (AP).—Vice Chairman Donaldson Brown of General Motors corporation, said today: "The managers of industry should acknowledge the necessity of governmental authority and control during the period of the emergency."

The war program, Brown said in an address before the American Statistical association, calls for a three-way job—military strategy, governmental action and industrial production.

The military must determine the armament required, and the political leaders the administrative action to make effective the war strategy, he said.

"The normal purpose of industry in serving the needs and wants of individual consumers is suspended for the duration," he said. "Emphasis now must be wholly upon producing the necessities of war."

BANCO DI NAPOLI DEPOSITORS ARE MOSTLY REPAID

Most of the depositors of the Banco di Napoli, 1601 West Roosevelt road, have been paid off, officials of the bank said yesterday. At the close of business Monday 4 million dollars out of a total of $4,700,000 of deposits had been returned to customers.

The United States treasury closed the bank recently because it is controled by an Italian bank. All accounts except a few—less than 10—of those of blocked aliens are being paid off in full with interest.

BUSINESS SHOWS MORE GAINS

Most lines of Chicago business activity in November showed substantial gains over November, 1940, the Chicago Association of Commerce reported yesterday. Several lines reflected the effects of the war economy, notably automobile sales, which declined 55 per cent from last year. Among the few other lines to show recessions were building permits, the money represented in real estate transfers, the value of securities sold on the Chicago Stock exchange, and the number of live stock processed at the stockyards. A comparison of November, 1941, with November, 1940, follows:

DELAY PROGRAM TO HALT OUTPUT OF AUTOMOBILES

Course to Be Decided by OPM Unit.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—A request that all passenger automobile production be halted, effective Thursday, was reported today to have been sidetracked temporarily by the Supply Priorities and Allocations board. Officials disclosed that the request was made by the lend-lease administration, in support of a pressing need for increased supplies of automobile tires for armies fighting the axis.

SPAB sources declared, however, that no move to cancel January production quotas for the automobile industry would be taken unless such action was recommended by the OPM civilian supply division. The lend-lease proposal was forwarded to that division for study.

View on Tire Problem.

Further, they explained, the lend-lease administration's immediate tire problem could be solved simply if and when that agency made a specific request to SPAB for a certain number of tires for shipment abroad. SPAB then could act to make the tires available.

Under present quotas the automobile companies may produce up to 102,424 passenger cars next month, about one-fourth of last January's output. No quota has been set for February, however, and reports are current that automobile production will be trimmed to an absolute minimum, if not halted entirely, after Jan. 31 to conserve steel and rubber for war needs.

Civilian supply division officials, who said they had not heard of the lend-lease administration's proposal until today, declared that they had no plan for altering January's production plans.

A tentatively scheduled SPAB meeting was called off today and the board is not due to meet again until Thursday.

Call Auto Meeting Jan. 5.

Members of the automobile industry advisory committee have been asked to meet OPM officials Jan. 5 to discuss the immediate future of passenger car production. These meetings, after each of which curtailment quotas have been announced, usually are held about the middle of the month, but officials said the war emergency necessitated an earlier conference in January.

The committee will be asked to consider further plans for speedy conversion of their plants to war industries.

Freezes Cigaret Prices.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson today froze manufacturers' prices of cigarets at levels prevailing Dec. 26. He had forecast the action yesterday after announcing that the American Tobacco company had refused to withdraw an increase of 57 cents a thousand in the price of Lucky Strikes.

Reiterating that advances in cigaret prices now were unwarranted, Henderson declared he was prepared to extend the ceiling to wholesale and retail prices if distributors failed to coöperate.

To assure ample supplies for a record cigaret demand and maintenance of normal reserves the agriculture department announced that the production goal of flue cured tobacco next year would be increased 10 per cent to 679,800,000 pounds.

HEARING ON PLAN TO FILL PART OF CANAL IS CALLED

Hearing on an application of the Commonwealth Edison company to fill in a section of Mason's canal, near Cermak road and Morgan street, on the south branch of the Chicago river, will be held Friday morning by Carter Jenkins, chief state waterway engineer, at 188 West Randolph street.

The application seeks permission for the fill-in to provide ground for further industrial expansion. The Fisk street plant of the Edison company is located adjacent to the canal. The company seeks to fill in 575 feet at the north end of the canal, which is 100 feet wide, where the company's coal dock is now located. The cost would be undertaken by the company.

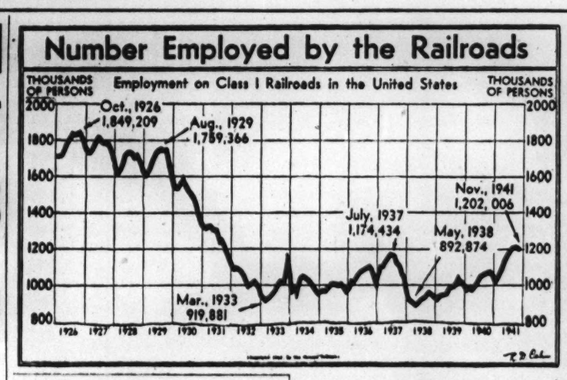
In return for the area, state law requires that a portion of land of equal value owned by the petitioning party be turned over to the state in trade.

U. S. Buys All Cuba's Sugar Surplus from 1942 Crop

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, announced today that the United States has concluded arrangements to buy the whole 1942 Cuban sugar cane crop. He announced that the government owned Defense Supplies corporation has contracted for all the Cuban sugar and molasses not needed by Cuba for her own consumption or for sale to other Pan-American countries.

Telephone Line Expansion, Cost $7,260,000, Approved

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—The Federal Communications commission today authorized the American Telephone and Telegraph company, the Indiana Bell Telephone company, and the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company to spend $7,260,000 to supplement existing facilities between Terre Haute, Ind., and Atlanta, Ga. Two buried cables will be laid for a distance of 498 miles.



Air Lines Act to Co-Ordinate Flights to N. Y.

Three major air lines yesterday took coördinated action to readjust their nonstop Chicago-New York services. The effect of the changes will be to respace departure times for greater convenience of patrons, eliminate certain duplicating flights and, as a result, make more planes available for intermediate service between Chicago and New York.

The three companies—American Airlines, Inc., Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., and United Air Lines—announced that the new schedules will go into effect Jan. 5.

Eliminate Simultaneous Flights.

A saving in equipment will be achieved by elimination of certain simultaneous departures, but air travelers will be able to depart at as many different times as heretofore, and the respacing of hours of departure will spread the service more evenly than the present schedule. The three lines together will provide six nonstop flights in each direction daily, the same as at present, but elimination of certain duplications will permit each line to make one less nonstop trip each way daily.

The equipment thus saved will be used to expand the intermediate service, which is in increasing demand. A total of three intermediate service departures in each direction between Chicago and New York will be added, raising the total to 31 daily, from the present 28.

New Departures Listed.

A statement issued at the Chicago offices of United in behalf of all three lines said that the nonstop flights will be scheduled as follows on and after Jan. 5: Eastbound departures from Chicago, 9 a. m., 12 noon, 12:05 p. m., 3 p. m., 4 p. m., and 5:05 p. m., all central standard time; westbound departures from La Guardia field, New York, 9 a. m., 12 noon, 12:05 p. m., 4 p. m., 5 p. m., and 5:15 p. m., eastern standard time.

"The war has created a greater demand for passenger and cargo space on passenger airplanes, and it is in line with the air lines' policy of cooperating with the national defense program to insure maximum use of the air lines' fleet and facilities that the change is being made," the statement said.

WARREN FIRM'S BID LOW ON CHA HOUSING PROJECT

The Patrick-Warren Construction company, 228 North La Salle street, was the low bidder yesterday for construction of the near west side housing project of the Chicago Housing authority known as "Illinois 2-2-S." Miss Elizabeth Wood, executive secretary of CHA, said that the Warren bid of $3,337,000 will be sent to the United States Housing authority in Washington for approval.

Other bidders were the Consolidated Construction company, 9 South Clinton street; William R. Goss company, 435 North Michigan avenue, and James McHugh, 6449 South Park avenue.

The new project has had $4,840,900 allocated for it. It will have 834 dwelling units, occupying approximately eight city blocks between Roosevelt road and 14th street, Racine avenue and Loomis street.

3 CLOSED BANKS IN CHICAGO AREA PAY ON DEPOSITS

Payment of approximately $122,000 to depositors in three closed banks in the Chicago area has been authorized by Arthur C. Leuder, state auditor of public accounts, he announced yesterday.

Payment of $46,427 to the 7,000 depositors of the Chatham State bank will be the fourth 5 per cent distribution since the bank closed.

The 7,000 Auburn Park Trust and Savings bank depositors will receive $27,193, amounting to 5 per cent, Lueder said, bringing the total paid to 52½ per cent. It is the seventh payment.

The 4,000 depositors of the Waukegan State bank will receive $48,359, the equivalent of 5 per cent. This is the fourth and brings the total rapaid to 21 per cent.

Belden Manufacturing's Business Makes Big Gain

Net billings for the Belden Manufacturing company, Chicago, during 1941 will exceed 10 million dollars, an increase of more than 50 per cent over 1940, and 3 million dollars more than in 1929, the preceding high year, Whipple Jacobs, president, announced yesterday. The company manufactures insulated copper wire and has plants at Chicago and Richmond, Ind.

Bendix to Expand Arms Facilities at South Bend

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 30 (AP).—Bendix Aviation corporation officials announced today plans for a million dollar expansion of defense production facilities at the Bendix Products division here. A new building will cost $300,000 and equipment $700,000.

Rail Income Soars

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—Class 1 railroads had estimated net income, after interest and rentals, of $439,983,723 in the first 11 months of 1941, compared with $138,517,515 in the like period last year, the Association of American Railroads reported today.

Estimated net income, after interest and rentals, amounted to $30,064,315 in November, compared with $30,809,337 in November, 1940.

Net railway operating income, before interest and rentals, amounted to $916,788,525 in the first 11 months this year, compared with $603,692,473 in the same period last year. Net railway operating income in November was $68,764,488, compared with $71,560,226 in November, 1940.

JANUARY DEMAND FOR OIL PUT NEAR DECEMBER LEVEL

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—The bureau of mines today forecast the January market demand for domestic crude oil at 128,290,000 barrels, or 4,138,400 barrels daily.

This was virtually the same as the estimate for December but 552,100 barrels higher than January, 1941.

Demand for motor fuel was forecast at 52,900,000 barrels, 11.6 per cent above actual demand for last January.

Gasoline Stocks Rise.

New York, Dec. 30 (AP).—Total gasoline stocks in the United States increased 2,182,000 barrels dufing the week ended Dec. 27, the American Petroleum Institute reported today.

Stocks of 91,479,000 barrels compared with 83,281,000 in the comparable 1940 week. Gasoline output was figured at 13,859,000 barrels, against 13,687,000 the week before.

Daily average crude oil production decreased 233,300 barrels from the preceding week to 4,080,850, compared with 3,385,500 barrels a year ago.

BIG BUS STRIKE IS CALLED OFF FOR ARBITRATION

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—Dr. John R. Steelman, federal conciliation chief, announced tonight that the Greyhound companies had accepted a proposal for arbitration and that the union would call off its strike, affecting some 1,800 bus drivers from Chicago to the east coast, at midnight.

The strike began Dec. 3 in Cleveland and spread quickly to New England and other areas. By Dec. 23 it had affected most of the northern part of the country from Chicago eastward.

The immediate cause of the strike, Steelman said, was a complaint that Greyhound had hired charwomen in Cleveland at 40 cents an hour, whereas a union contract provided 60.3 cents an hour for cleaners. The company contended, on the other hand, that the strike was in violation of a contract. Other issues developed as the strike progressed, he added.

Tract Near Wieboldt Store Sold; May Be for Parking

Land which it is understood will be used for auto parking by customers of the Wieboldt department store at 63d and Green streets was purchased yesterday on the east side of Peoria street, 58 feet north of 64th street. This is in the block southwest of the store. Title to 280 by 124 feet was taken by Hart E. Walter of Mendota, Ill., from a number of sellers. The price was $74,000. More land is to be acquired, it was said.

Limit Electric Line Extension in Rural Areas

Demands of America's war machine for copper, steel, and other materials will slow up further electrification of farms and isolated stores and dwellings in rural areas during the national emergency, officials of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois said yesterday.

Under an order of the power branch of the Office of Production Management, headed by J. A. Krug, limitations are placed on the extension of electric services in rural communities. Limits also have been placed by the OPM on extension of gas, water, and other public utilities.

The latest order provides that OPM approval must be granted for the extension of electric service more than 1,000 feet from an existing connection and costing $500 or more. Within the 1,000 foot and $500 limitations, utility companies and other organizations may provide service without special permission. The orders apply to municipalities as well as to private companies.

Adopts "Reasonable Attitude."

It was said that the OPM had adopted a "reasonable attitude" regarding service for houses or dwellings planned before the emergency. For instance, it may grant authority for an extension to a farm house wired for electricity some years ago, but still unconnected for various reasons. Or authority may be granted in the case of a dwelling on which plans had been drawn and financing arranged before the emergency.

There will be no difficulty about supplying electricity to houses in the suburbs or corporate areas where connections fall well below the 1,000 foot limitation and the $500 costs.

The utilities to date have had no difficulty in getting authority to buy materials for maintenance and repairs, it was said. For extensions of service beyond the OPM limitations authority must be obtained even in the case of government defense enterprises

Situation Near Arms Plants.

Housing in rural areas adjacent to armament plants should have no difficulty in getting electricity, it was said. However, it is expected that authority to extend utilities will not be granted in cases of speculative real estate ventures. The OPM seeks to stop the use of critical materials on enterprises for which there is no need, it was said.

Only moderate inconveniences are expected in the area served by Public Service because more than 24,000 farms and rural units of a total of 29,700 now use, or have available, electric service.

Public Service provides service to Chicago suburbs and rural areas in Cook, Lake, Du Page, Will, and other nearby counties in Illinois.

NOMINATE SEC'S CHAIRMAN FOR DISTRICT JUDGE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—Edward C. Eicher, chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission, was nominated today for the chief justiceship of the United States District court for the District of Columbia, creating the 10th vacancy on the commission since it was established seven years ago.

Speculation on a successor hinged on whether President Roosevelt would follow the relatively recent policy of promoting from within the SEC. Informed opinion was that if that policy was continued, the commissionership would go to Robert H. O'Brien, director of the public utility division, and that commissioner Ganson Purcell would be elected chairman.

American Airlines Offers Employe Retirement Plan

A retirement benefit plan will be made available today to employés of the American Airlines, Inc., officials announced yesterday. The plan provides for company purchases of future retirement income annuities based on the average compensation and years of service of the employé, death benefits equal to approximately one year's annual earnings of an employé, and a retirement income based on contributions to the plan by the employé and the company.

STOCKS WHIP UP BEST RALLY FOR MORE THAN YEAR

A. T. & T. Leads with 9 Point Advance.

New York, Dec. 30 (AP).—In a move reminiscent of the boom days of the 1920's, the stock market bounded upward today for the best rally in more than a year.

After some irregularity at the opening, when it was necessary to absorb continued heavy tax selling, a buying wave swept over the list and lifted many favorites 1 to 4 points. A few issues showed even greater strength such as American Telephone which was up around 9 at one time. Prices slipped in many cases at the close but the majority still were well out in front when the final gong sounded.

Index Up Most for Year.

The war news from the far east was none too hopeful but reinvestment demand overshadowed bulletins from that quarter. The belief seemed to be widespread that the recent fall of the averages to new lows since April 1, 1938, had discounted possibly further bearish foreign developments, mounting taxes, and broadening federal controls.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks ended with a net advance of 1.4 points at 37.2, biggest jump of this barometer since Nov. 7, 1940. Dealings were exceptionally speedy at intervals but slowdowns occurred after midday. Transfers, however, of 2,558,507 shares were second to Monday's turnover of 2,925,455 shares which were the largest since May 21 last year.

Market Continues Broad.

The market was almost as broad as yesterday's, 996 individual issues being traded against 1,005. Of the total 718 were up, 114 down, and 164 unchanged. It was recalled the market has been up in the next to the last trading session for the last five successive years.

The principal sufferers in the recent lengthy slide were among the outstanding climbers today.

Year-end "cash" sales were plentiful but not as voluminous as in previous years. Trades for the establishment of tax losses could be made in the regular way but sales to record profits had to be for "cash," according to rulings of the revenue authorities.

A. T. & T. Holds Spotlight.

The major telephone stock was far and away the day's sensation. At its top it was up around 9 points from its Monday's final quotation and some 15 points from its low of last week. "Shorts," brokers said, found the shares extremely difficult to repurchase. The stock emerged with a net advance of 5¾ points at 127½.

Shares up 3 to 4 or so included Union Carbide, Allied Chemical, du Pont, Westinghouse Electric, American Can, and Union Pacific.

American Tobacco "B" was off a fraction as the OPA acted to halt a boost in cigaret prices.

Aluminum of America jumped 3⅛ in the Curb.

CHICAGO LIST STRONG.

Prices rose fractions to several points on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday with 103 issues of the 176 traded showing a gain. Of the total 47 issues closed unchanged and 26 issues declined. Yesterday's total compared with 195 issues traded Monday, the largest total since the exchange began recording this figure in September, 1935.

Altho 18,000 shares under Monday's four year record high, yesterday's trading volume reached 128,000 to boost the 1941 total to date to 6,972,000 shares compared with 6,850,000 shares in the same 1940 period. The 1941 cumulative volume exceeded the 1940 volume for the first time Monday.

ALLIED OWNERS CORPORATION
FIRST LIEN CUMULATIVE INCOME BONDS DUE JULY 1, 1958.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT, pursuant to the provisions of Article IV, Section 2, of the First Lien Indenture dated as of June 13, 1935, supplemental to Indenture dated as of July 1, 1927, made by Allied Owners Corporation to Manufacturers Trust Company as Trustee, the undersigned specifies that the sum remaining unexpended in the Sinking Fund available for tenders on December 27, 1941, amounted to $188,499.35. Such part of the said sum will be used for the purchase of such Bonds as are properly tendered.

The undersigned hereby calls for the submission at the TRUST DEPARTMENT of MANUFACTURERS TRUST COMPANY, the Trustee, 55 Broad Street, New York City, N. Y., up to the close of business at 3:00 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, on January 30, 1942, of SEALED TENDERS of Bonds, specifying the principal amount of the Bonds offered, their distinctive numbers and the price [not exceeding the principal amount thereof and accrued and accumulated interest thereon] at which the same are offered. Sealed Tenders so received will be opened by the said Trustee on January 31, 1942, and the sum not in excess of $188,499.35 heretofore paid to the said Trustee, will be applied by it to the purchase of Bonds issued under the Supplemental Indenture dated as of June 13, 1935, or "Old Bonds" issued under the Indenture dated as of July 1, 1927, so tendered, the tenders offering Bonds or "Old Bonds" at the lowest prices being accepted first. In the event that two or more tenders are received at the same price in an aggregate amount in excess of moneys available for purchase of Bonds at such price, such tenders will be accepted pro rata. Notices of acceptance of such tenders will be mailed by the Trustee on February 2, 1942. Bonds accepted are to be delivered on February 9, 1942, on which date interest on such bonds will cease.

Persons making such Sealed Tenders whose responsibility is not known to the Trustee should enclose with their tenders sufficient letter of introduction or guaranty of good faith by a bank, banker or other person whose responsibility is established.

The right is reserved to the Trustee to reject any or all tenders or to accept any tender in part.

DISTILLER PLANS SALE OF SHARES AND DEBENTURES

Stockholders Will Vote on Preferred Issue.

Offering of approximately 37 million dollars of new securities by the National Distillers Products corporation was forecast in New York yesterday when Seton Porter, president, announced a special stockholders meeting for Jan. 26. The stockholders will be asked to approve a new issue of 150,000 shares of preferred stock of $100 par value to provide additional permanent capital.

Public offering of an initial series of 120,000 shares of the new preferred stock is contemplated, together with a new issue of 25 million dollars of 15 year sinking fund debentures. Proceeds would be used to refund $21,108,000 of 10 year 3½ per cent convertible debentures, due March 1, 1949, and $10,750,000 of bank loans.

Vote United Aircraft Issue.

Stockholders of the United Aircraft corporation at East Hartford, Conn., approved a plan to issue 265,669 shares of 5 per cent cumulative convertible $100 par preferred stock to raise additional working capital to finance war activities. The new stock will be offered at par to holders of the company's common stock of record Jan. 2 at a rate of one share of preferred for each 10 shares of common stock.

Negotiations were expected as under way regarding the sale of 198,063 shares of common stock of Kearney & Trecker corporation, Milwaukee machine tool manufacturer. The stock is all either owned or held in trust for Ella M. Kearney, widow of one of the founders. It was said that it was desired to settle all the financial details before the end of 1941 for tax reasons. A group headed by Blyth & Co., Inc., and the Wisconsin company is expected to offer the stock late today or on Friday at $26.50 a share.

New Issues Filed with SEC.

The Cornell-Dubilier Electric corporation, South Plainfield, N. J., has filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange commission covering $1,500,000 of $50 par convertible preferred stock or alternatively $1,500,000 principal amount of convertible sinking fund debentures. Proceeds will be used to retire bank loans and other corporate purposes. McDonald-Coolidge & Co., and Eastman Dillon & Co., will head the underwriting group.

Union Oil company of California filed a registration statement with the SEC covering the sale of 15 million dollars of 3 per cent debentures, due Jan. 1, 1967. Proceeds will be used to defray capital expenditures and for other purposes.

A registration covering 10 million dollars of 10 year and 17½ million of 15 year sinking fund debentures was filed by Schenley Distillers corporation of New York. Proceeds will be applied to bank loans.

CORN SALES RISE AT BEST PRICES FOR FOUR YEARS

Futures Weaken Under Hedging Pressure.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

Distillers, feed manufacturers, and grain processors bought more than 300,000 bushels of corn from Chicago dealers yesterday. Sales were the largest in more than two months with prices around the highest in the last four years. No. 1 yellow corn sold at 82 cents a bushel.

Prices in the futures market did not react to the larger buying, however, the market closing ⅝ to ¾ cent a bushel lower under pressure of hedging sales. Corn for May delivery sold at 84 cents a bushel.

Wheat futures advanced ⅛ cent but trading volume was small. May contracts closed at $1.26⅞ a bushel. Oats and rye finished ⅜ to ¼ cent lower while soy beans were ⅛ to ¼ cent higher.

Part from Federal Stock.

Grain men estimated that approximately 200,000 bushels of the corn sold yesterday thru regular trade channels came from Commodity Credit corporation stocks. Officials of the corporation said that it was continuing to sell corn thru trade channels but would give no estimates on the quantities.

The grain men said apparently it is necessary for industries to obtain their corn requirements from the government owned stocks. Altho market prices currently are almost equal to the amount the agency will lend the farmer on his corn most good quality grain continues to be put under loan. The farmer is retaining the poorer grades to meet feeding requirements.

Demand Growing Steadily.

Industrial corn consumption is at a record rate and farmers are expected to feed a near record amount.

The steadily growing number of new contracts for corn for delivery at a later date being reported in the futures market reflects the wide interest that has developed in the commodity in the last two or three months. Uncompleted contracts calling for the delivery of more than 45 million bushels of corn were open on the board of trade Monday.

INDICATE TRUCK INDUSTRY SEEKS RATE INCREASES

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 [Special].—The American Trucking Association, Inc., today asked the Interstate Commerce commission for permission to intervene in the Railroads' petition for a general 10 per cent increase in passenger and freight rates to meet recent wage advances. The application of the truckers indicated that they also sought to increase their rates.

The truckers asked permission to present evidence to show "the competitive interests and relationships which will be affected by the proposed railroad rate increases; the depressed rates and revenues which have resulted from competitive conditions, and the necessity for certain rate restorations; the greatly increased operating and other costs to which the trucking industry has been subjected; the need for additional revenue to maintain sound economic conditions in the trucking industry and to continue adequate motor service."

The commission announced that oral argument on the rail rates and the Railway Express Agency application for an emergency charge of 10 cents per shipment would be held on Jan. 5 and 9 in St. Louis instead of Chicago.

HOGS DIP MORE AS SELLING BY FARMERS RISES

Average and Top Off 15 Cents Each.

Continued heavy selling by farmers forced hog prices down 10 to 20 cents more at the stockyards yesterday. Both the extreme top and the average for the session showed 15 cents loss, at $11.25 and $10.90 a hundred pounds, respectively.

The volume of pork production in the United States has passed the tonnage of 1940 for the first time this season, and the output is expected to continue well ahead of the 1940-'41 winter the remainder of the season.

Sorted 140 to 230 pound young hogs sold largely from $11.00 to $11.15, while the majority of 240 to 290 pounders brought $10.75 to $11.00. Top light sows reached $10.40.

Additional declines of 15 to 25 cents occurred in slaughter lambs. Most wool stock brought $12.00 to $12.35, with summer shorn at $11.25 and top yearling wethers at $10.50.

PENN. EQUIPMENT ISSUE IS GIVEN ICC APPROVAL

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30 (AP).—The Interstate Commerce commission today authorized the Pennsylvania railroad to issue and sell $18,465,000 of equipment trust certificates.

Proceeds will be used for equipment costing approximately 23 million dollars and including 6,020 freight cars, 50 cabin cars, 12 steam locomotive tenders and 15 electric passenger locomotives. All will be built in the company's shops.

The Wheeling and Lake Erie Railway company received authority to issue and sell $1,050,000 of trust certificates to purchase new equipment.

C. and O. Orders Cars.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 30 (AP).—Chesapeake and Ohio railway announced today the award to American Car and Foundry company of a contract for construction of 1,000 50 ton all steel hopper cars. Reported price was $2,560,000.

GLASS INDUSTRY READY TO AID IF CANS ARE SCARCE

New York, Dec. 30 (AP).—The Glass Container association said today the industry could expand production sharply if glass were needed to replace tin cans in uses now frowned upon by the government because war in the far east threatens the nation's major tin supply.

Despite record shipments of 1941, estimated at 68 million containers, the industry operated at only 85.6 per cent of capacity, the association said. It said reserve stocks were being built up and that the glass container industry would enter 1942 better prepared for expansion than it was a year ago.

Spokesmen for can manufacturers have proposed cutting the industry's consumption of tin from 36,950 tons this year to 31,900 tons in 1942, and 28,750 tons in 1943.

Call General Foods Vote Jan. 28 on Bank Loans

New York, Dec. 30 [Special].—General Foods corporation preferred stockholders today were called to a special meeting Jan. 28 to vote on the borrowing of not more than 10 million dollars from banks during the next five years. The amounts to be borrowed would be determined by the directors or officers.

COURT APPROVES $147,500 MORE TRACTION FEES

Surface Lines Will Pay $145,950 of Total.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

Fees totaling $147,500 were allowed yesterday by Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe as payments on account to 13 individuals and two law firms in the traction reorganization cases pending in the United States District court.

Of the total, $145,950 will be paid by the Chicago Surface lines and the remaining $1,550 is chargeable to the elevated lines for the latter's share of payments to witnesses who testified on the surface-elevated merger plan.

Yesterday's allowances make a total of $250,286 of traction fees approved by the court in 1941. Of this sum $182,670 is for receivers, attorneys, witnesses, and advisers, and $67,616 goes to the elevated's trustee, attorneys, and reorganization witnesses.

Several Get $15,000 Apiece.

Surface lines' fees granted yesterday included $15,000 apiece to the chairman of the board of operation, to four surface lines receivers, their two attorneys, and to two law firms for the lines' reorganization committee.

The individuals are Walter A. Shaw, chairman; Walter J. Cummings, and Daniel C. Green, receivers, and Weymouth Kirkland, attorney, for the Chicago Railways company [north side street car lines]; Charles H. Albers and Edward J. Fleming, and Charles Aaron, attorney, for the Chicago City Railway company [south side lines], and the law firms of Gottlieb and Schwartz, and Tenney, Harding, Sherman and Rogers, counsel for the Abbott reorganization committee.

Other Payments Allowed.

Three members of the Abbott committee, M. H. MacLean, Frank M. Gordon, and Bernard E. Sunny, were allowed $2,000 apiece. Allowances to witnesses for their work on the reorganization-merger plan were: John Jirgal, auditor, $3,500; Bert H. Peck, engineer, $1,500, and William M. Hammond, accountant, $1,500. The elevated lines were ordered to pay 20 per cent of the witnesses' fees and the remainder was split 60 per cent by Chicago Railways and 40 per cent by Chicago City Railways.

Fees previously ordered in 1941 were: Surface lines—Louis C. Schultz, secretary of the Abbott committee, $6,000; Thomas C. Strachan Jr., attorney, $2,500, and Jacob I. Grossman, attorney, $10,000.

Earlier Fees of Elevated.

Elevated lines—A. A. Sprague, trustee, $24,000; Bell, Boyd and Marshall, law firm, $35,530, and Gardner, Foote, Morrow and Merrick, law firm, $1,981.

In addition, $22,775 in fees were previously ordered paid, 20 per cent by the "L" and 80 per cent by the street car line. These were: $15,000 to Shaw as court adviser; $5,000 to William J. Froelich, attorney for Shaw, and $2,775 to Hammond.

STABLE EARNINGS.

As an investor of moderate means, I am interested chiefly in income stocks. My broker has recommended Beech-Nut Packing, pointing out that its dividend record is exceptional and its earnings are steady. Do you have a report on this company that would bear out his statements?—C. C. B.

Answer: The Beech-Nut Packing company has paid dividends without interruption since 1902. Earnings have been stable. From 1935 thru 1940 net income each year was well above the two million dollar mark. The company's only capitalization is 437,524 shares of $20 par common stock. Comparative earnings for years ended Dec. 31 follow:

	Net sales.	Net income.	Per share.
1940	$23,508,738	$2,880,940	$6.61
1939	22,239,718	2,472,658	5.66
1938	21,446,504	2,741,504	6.26
1937	23,442,873	3,241,506	7.39
1936	19,593,050	2,706,039	6.19

Net profit for the nine months thru September this year was $2,275,911, or $5.20 a share, compared with $2,142,617, or $4.90, in the corresponding 1940 quarters. Dividends in 1941, including four $1 quarterly payments, four extras and a special, totaled $6.25 a share. A quarterly distribution and a 25 cent extra are payable Jan. 2.

Dividends paid in recent years follow:

1940	$6.25	1937	$6.00
1939	6.75	1936	6.00
1938	5.50	1935	4.50

Beech-Nut Packing has a strong asset position. At the end of 1940, current assets were $17,166,819, compared with current liabilities of $2,087,746. Total assets were $22,878,625. The company processes food products and manufactures chewing gum and confections.

ALCOHOL AND AIR.

What is the relation between U. S. Industrial Chemicals, Inc., and U. S. Industrial Alcohol company? What does the former produce? Is there any connection between U. S. Industrial Alcohol and Air Reduction company?—S. O.

Answer: U. S. Industrial Chemicals, largest domestic producer of industrial alcohol, is a subsidiary of U. S. Industrial Alcohol. Air Reduction and U. S. Industrial Alcohol are closely affiliated. At the end of 1940, Air Reduction owned 99,800 shares, or more than 25 per cent, of the alcohol company's stock. U. S. Industrial Alcohol's interest in Air Reduction is much smaller, amounting to approximately 15,000 shares of 2,715,000 shares outstanding. The chairman and president of Air Reduction hold the same offices in U. S. Industrial Alcohol.
